Nov. 29 .- The anniversary farce of "The Coming Woman of 1900," which was given in the city hall, on Thursday evening last, was well received by a large and appreciative audience. The actors all being well known in society circles here, an unusual amount of interest was manifested throughout the performance. The different parts were well sustained, but everyone seemed struck with the exceeding excellence of the acting of Miss Florrie Powys. The gentlemen, Capt. Wadmore, and Mr. Fred Robinson, were also highly complimented on their clever acting. During the evening, Miss Maggie Allen was presented with a magnificent bouquet of roses tied with white ribbon. At the conclusion of the farce, the tamborine drill was given by a dozen of our prettiest girls, who did much credit to their instructor, Sergt. Fowlie. During the drill, Miss Mary Robinson was the recipient of a bouquet. Mrs. John Black, who was the general manager of the whole affair, cannot help but feel satisfied with the happy results. I understand, the proceeds netted $200, which will go to the funds of the girls' branch of the C. of E. W. A. associa-

Prof. Dixon, of the university, is arranging for a concert to be given in the college library on the evening of Dec. 7., the proceeds of which will go to the lighting of the college draughting-room by electric light. The final arrangements, I believe, are not fully completed, but among the performers will be Mrs. John Biack, Mrs. Bridges, Miss Johnston and Prof. Bristowe. With such a dramatis personæ it cannot fail to be an undoubted success. Dr. Currie, of Cambridge, Mass., is visiting the Mr. D. P. Wetmore.

Mrs. F. B. Edgecombe spent a few days last week at her old home in St. Stephon. About fifteen young ladies and gentlemen have organized for a series of walking parties. The first, which was to have taken place yesterday, was, unfortunately, postponed on account of the inclemency of the weather, but will be enjoyed later. This one will be a walk from the city to Springhill hotel, supper there and the return in the evening by the light

(FROM ANOTHER CORRESPONDENT.) Nov. 29 .- A pretty wedding which elicited much interest, was performed in the catholic church on Monday morning, the contracting parties being Hillard Campbell, of St. John, and Minnie, eldest daughter of Mr. Geo. H. Appleby, the well known bridge builder. At the time appointed, 9.30, the bridal party entered the church followed by the bride and her father. She was attended by a younger sister, Miss Stella, while the groom was well supported by H. E. Appleby. The bride's costume was a very pretty suit of fawn cashmere with velvet trimmings and large hat to match, trimmed with ostrich tips and velvet. The bridesmaid wore a becoming suit of brown with braid trimmings. At the conclusion of the ceremony, which was conducted by Rev. Father McMurray, the happy pair drove to the home of the bride's father on Darling's Island, where a number of invited guests sat down to a sumptuous dinner. At 4.30 the contracting parties repaired to a coach in waiting and drove away amid showers of rice and best wishes of their friends to their new home in St. John. The presents received made a handsome display and some were presented by the following:

From the bride's father, a well filed purse and parlor ornament;

Mr. and Mrs. Conway, glass wine set; Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Gillaland, silver creuet;

Miss M. Ketchum, pair of vases:

Mr. J. R. Morrel, stuffed birds;

Mr. R. M. Wood, India silk handkerchief; Miss Teresa Ryan, silver framed mantel mirror; Mr. and Mrs. Canning, tea set;

Miss Jessie Morrell, hardsome plush autograph Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Daley, tea set. After lunch a speech was made by D. M. Keator, in which he wished the happy couple many years of health and prosperity. A lady friend of the bride gave a helping hand in preparing and serving dinner and judging from the excellent manner in which the repast was served, I hope that the next fair daughter of Nauwigewauk, who takes unto herself husband will acknowledge the culinary qualities of Mrs. W. Alden.

Nov. 28 .- The marriage bells rang with their gladsome cheer at Hampton, yesterday, for the many happy expectationss were realized. The roman catholic church was the centre of attraction, indeed it was filled to the doors by a large number of relatives and friends to witness the interesting event. The happy couple was Mr. John W. Byrne, of the firm of Byrne Bros., lumber merchants of Norton, and Miss Cecilia W., daughter of T. Desmond, of this place. The accustomed mass was said by the groom's brother, Rev. Father Byrne, of Sussex, who also performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Fathers Collerette, of Quaco, and McMurray of St. John. Miss Aggie Kirk filled the role of bridesmaid, and the groom's brother, James Byrne, barrister of Sussex, acted as best man. The bride looked beautiful, decked in a wreath of orange blossoms. She wore a cream colored rich silk gown that harmonized greatly with the bridal veil. The bridesmaid was charmingly dressed in a robe of pink crepe cloth.

Atter the interesting event a large number of invited guests proceeded to the bride's residence, where all the good things that grace a bridal dinner, were partaken of with cheer. The good wishes of friends were testified by many and precious presents. A large crowd assembled at the station on Monday evening to bid Mr. and Mrs. Byrne bon voyage and give them every good wish for their future happiness in the matrimonial sphere. of pink crepe cloth.

MONCTON.

[PROGRESS is sale in Moncton at the Moncton Bookstore, Main street, A. H. Jones, and by J. E. Nov. 29 .- On Monday evening last the Moncton choral society held their second concert in the opera house. The house was well filled, and those present lost no opportunities during the en ertainment of showing how highly they appreciated the efforts of the society, and the musical ability displayed. A varied and exceilent programme was successfully carried out. The choruses by the society evidenced the preparations which had been undergone to ensure a most entertaining evening. The programme began with march "Triumphal' by the Moncton amateur orchestra, and the first part closed with a grand chorus by the society, from Faust's "Soldier's Chorus," with orchestra accompaniment. Intervening, without counting the choruses by the society, Mr. Raymond Archibald, of Sackville, gave a violn solo. Mr. Archibald's, playing was much admired, and he received a hearty encore. Mrs. J. S. Benedict sang beautifully a solo entitled "The Angel's Serenade," with violin obligato by Mr. Archibald, and was so much enjoyed that an enthusiastic encore was extended. Mr. Alphonse Bourque, a member of the orchestra. played a very pretty cornet solo, "Cradle Song." The sparkling operetta "The Rose of Auvergne," was presented in the second part of the programme, with the following caste of characters: Fleuretta, Mrs. Geo. W. Daniel; Alphonse, Mr. J. H. Wetmore; Pierre, Mr. G. W. Daniel. The piece affords considerable amusement, and the different characters were well taken. Mrs. Diniel, as Fleuretta took the leading part in her usual good style, and her singing received hearty applause. Messrs. Daniel and Wetmore also had a well deserved re-

While the many friends of Mrs. Ward, who died on Tuesday morning at her son's residence on Fleet street, will hear of her death with deep regret, they cannot fail to rejoice at the same time, that one who suffered so long and patiently is at rest. Mrs. Ward had been in failing health for some months, having gone out to the Western States last June in the hope that change of air, would restore her health but she failed to derive any benefit from the change and returned in September, to the home of her son, Mr. Bliss Ward, to end her days amongst her children, who were her devoted attendants during the last weeks of her life. Mrs. Ward was a devoted mother, a warm and faithful friend, and a sincere christian, whose death, at the comparatively early age of 52, will leave a void in the hearts of her friends, which will long remain unfilled. Mrs. Ward had long been a widow and left four children, Mrs. W. H. Newman, Mr. Bliss Ward, and the Misses Belle and Mabel Ward.
