There is no question this year about the popularity of the Yacht Club. On Saturday last it was even more pleasant than usual, with all the attractions of fine weather, tea, and a band to enliven its charms. Mr. H. M. Wyld's boat, the "Yolla," was the winning boat, and the bad luck which attended her last year seems to have departed.

Some of the officers of the King's regiment have invested in a boat, which made her first appearance on Saturday. She is not of a very fast stamp, but will doubtless afford much amusement to her owners.

Quite the smartest and most ambitious picnic of the season was given on Monday afternoon by Mrs. Clarkson. People gathered at Matheon's at five o'clock, and had tea there, after which there was a general move to boats and canoes for the two hours before dinner. This last meal was served on the other side of the Arm, the table cloth being spread beside the pretty brook which runs down from Williams' Lake, quite near the summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. F. Jones.

Toward nine o'clock a move was made for Maple wood, where there was dancing on one of the very best floors. People left early, however, the entertainment having been so long and comprehensive that all but the most energetic individuals were quite ready to go home by half past ten.

The evening was a perfect one, and all the arrangements admirably made and carried out. The whole affair was one of the pleasantest and best done imaginable. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kenny, Mr. Frere, Mr. and Mrs. W. Jones, Mrs. Dalziel, Mr. and Mrs. M. Morrow, Miss Roberts, Dr. and Mrs. Dorman, Major and Mrs. Bor, Major and Mrs. Mellor, Mrs. Hamilton, Captain Johnson, King's regiment, Mr. Entoven, R. E. Mc. McKenzie, R. A., etc.

On account of this picnic beginning so early, there were not as many people as usual at the Garrison tennis courts on Monday afternoon.

On Thursday Miss Roberts had a few people to tennis and tea at the Ferrawood tennis ground; next week Mrs. Thomson has a large garden party for which invitations have just been issued.

An Italian man of war is a visitor our harbor does not often have. The "Etna" which arrived last week is a very smart looking ship, and such of her officers as I have had the pleasure of meeting speak most creditable English. A small dinner was given for them on Tuesday, but general society has not seen so much of them as it did of the officers of the French ships, the "Naiade" men in particular.

Tuesday was Labour Day, and a very general holiday. The "masses" went to picnics by the score; the "classes" did not imitate them, but confined their celebration of the day to looking at the very praiseworthy procession, and attending the concert which took place in the evening at the Public Gardens. Here the band of the Italian ship was one of the attractions, and there was even a larger audience than usual. After the concert there were one or two small suppers, the largest of which was given by Mrs. J. W. Stairs, at her new house in Artillery Place. This was a pleasant and informal little ending to the day. There were between twenty and thirty guests.

For Thursday afternoon invitations had been issued by Mrs. Edwards for a small musical tea. Mrs. Edwards' sister is at present making her a visit; I hear that this lady sings extremely well.

The bathing parties which were such a feature at the Arm some two years ago, are I hear, to be revived. It seems an extraordinary thing that in a seaside place like this, there should be so few facilities for bathing. Ladies especially, have absolutely nowhere to go for a dip, unless they have friends at the Arm, or choose to spend a few days at Bedford. If the cottages at the north end of McNab's Island are ever built, they will be a great boon. Bathing machines are to be introduced at Brighton No. 4, as the new colony is to be rather unfortunately christened.

The great event of Saturday is the Banker's regatta, and the several events have all filled capitally. All sorts of people have entered, "bankers" proper, wanderers, representatives of the King's regiment, and the R. A. and R. E., and three ladies' crews. A corresponding interest is taken by everyone, and a great many parties have been made up to go round from boat to boat.

Among the ladies the winning crew seems pretty certain to be Miss Lawson and Miss Alice Curran, who beside rowing well, have been admirably trained. The prizes are to be presented by Lady Hopkins, and a band will be stationed at Thornvale, the residence of Mr. T. E. Kenny, M. P., which has always been the great place for spectators on these occasions.

This year Mrs. Kenny has issued invitations for a large party on the afternoon of the race, and if the weather is only fine, the regatta bids fair to be one of the smartest and prettiest affairs of the summer.

Mrs. Nicholson, who has been for some months the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Troop of Dartmouth, goes in September to join her husband, who has accepted a very good position in Cape Breton with David MacKean, M. P.

The Misses Troop went last week to Cape Breton with Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Kenny, and Miss Kinney. Mrs. Binney, Mrs. Lancaster and Miss May Bellfield are expected next week from England, where they have been for the last two years. The Rev. H. G. Lancaster does not accompany them, I hear. Mrs. Binney's house is now being prepared for her and her relatives and friends are looking forward to her return.

Miss Lily Norton-Taylor and her sisters are staying with Mrs. James Moran for the summer. The Misses Nicholson of St. John, are at the Claremont, and are to be seen at most of the picnics and tea now on foot.

Mr. A. Dewar has returned to Halifax after an absence of thirteen years, and is living at Hulseide Hall. Lady Valentin, (the mother of Mr. Valentin, R. A., who was drowned here some years ago), is making a visit here on her way to England from the West Indies. Lady Valentin has received much kindness from the friends of her son.

Captain Clayton of the King's regiment, and Mrs. Clayton, left for England on Saturday, on account of the serious illness of the former.

LE BON MARCHÉ, Halifax, N. S.

scene was very cheery and pleasant. There were more dark gowns than if the day had been fine, but people, as a rule, were well and smartly dressed. Tea was served in one of the large rooms, so that there was very little crowding. As far as enjoyment went, the rain made no difference, all the arrangements being too well thought out; but was scarcely as pretty a party as it would have been had the day been fine. It is to be hoped that Friday will afford Mrs. Daly Queen's weather, which her pleasant parties deserve.

Commander Bagly, of H. M. S. "Blake" is fishing at Bonaventure. The officers of the King's regiment are having their mess-room done up, and re-decorated, so that at present they are having meals at the Claremont.

Miss Merr, of Annapolis, is visiting her brother, Mr. F. A. Marr, Spring Garden Road. Preparations for the Masonic Fair are going on most energetically. There is very little time left now, and the ladies in charge of the various booths have but little time unoccupied. Captain Boileau, R. A., is I hear, getting up some wonderful attractions.

Lieut. Buthoven R. E., and Major and Mrs. Maycock will shortly leave Halifax. Major Maycock will be terribly missed in the Polo Club, of which he has really been the main-spring for the past three years.
