lege Mrs. I. W. Snook, gave quite a large dance, on Thursday evening last, in honor of her young guest Miss Fred Bent, of New Glasgow. Among those present were, The Misses Bizelowe, Stuart, Mc-Leod, Snook, Fulton Graham, Murrav, McCallum, Hanson, Jamieson, Nelson, Messrs. W. D. Dimock, N. Crowe, L. Crowe, S. L. Walker, J. Stanfield, H. Stanfield, N. McKay, J. Rettie, B. Graham, F. Turner, Vernon, V. Jamieson.

Miss Gliska, who is at present in town visiting friends, is desirious of obtaining a class for tuition in dancing. In conjunction with the class, for tuition, Miss Gliska would be willing to arrange for a social evening, which, would be much after the mode of an assembly. There are so many new and novel vagaries in the round dances, that very many are in need of further instruction, in the art bridesmaid, wore a dress of green silk with trimmings of cream lace. The groom's present to the bride was a gold bracelet, and gold brooch with pearl settings. To the bridesmaid he gave a diamond ring. Mr. and Mrs. Mackasey will spend their honeymoon in New York. Many were the handsome and valuable presents received by the newly married couple.

Another wedding was solemnized at St. George's church on Monday morning, the principals being Mr. James W. McFatridge and Miss Maud Tremaine, daughter of Mr. Albert Tremaine. Rev. Dr. Partridge performed the ceremony. The bride was dressed in a pretty suit of grey with silk trimmings and wore a cream hat. The bridesmaid, Miss Mildred Tremaine, wore a dress with fawn trimmings. Mr. J. Milton Rhuland was groomsman. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. McFatridge left for a trip through the Annapolis Valiey. They will reside in this city. Invitations are out for the marriage of Mr. John Munro, of New York, to Miss Mary Forrest, daughter of Mr. Alexander Forrest, to take place in this city on Wednesday next.

Judge Duport, of Savannah, is visiting friends in this city.

Mr. B. F. Pearson and Mr. B. W. Ross have returned from their trip to Boston.

Mr. Donald R. Rose left on Saturday last for Boston where he will remain a few weeks.

Mr. John H. Sutherland is making a trip through New York, Pittsburg, Toronto and Montreal.

Mr. T. W. Casey, of this city, spent last week in Atlanta, Georgia.

Mr. John Naylor, who has been spending some month in England, returned home this week. Rev. Geo. M. Clark, of this city, was in Shelburne last week, the guest of Mrs. John H. Bower. Mr. Frank Wallace, formerly of this city, but now a resident of New York, spent this week at his old home here. Mr. W. B. Freeman, who has been spending some time in England, returned home this week. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hesslein returned this week from their visit to England. Mr. Bernard Corr, of Boston, is visiting his many friends in this city.

A pretty wedding took place in St. Paul's church on Tuesday morning, the principals being Mr. John Duncan Grant and Miss Ada L. Lindsay, daughter of Mr. J. P. Lindsay, of this city. Rev. I. Perry officiated. The bride was attired in a pretty brown travelling suit, and Miss Vose, of Boston, who acted in the capacity of bridesmaid, wore a dress of grey. Mr. Humphrey Stafford was groomsman. Many handsome presents were received by the young couple, among them a handsome oak writing desk from the Sunday school teacher of St. Paul's. Mr. and Mrs. Grant are spending the honeymoon in Boston and New York.

Chalmers church was also the scene of an interesting event on Tuesday morning when Miss Henrietta C. McIntosh and Mr. James C. Jones, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed by Rev. John McMillan. The bride wore a dress of fawn silk, with trimmings of the same shade, and the bridesma d, Miss Janet McIntosh, wore a similiar gown. The groom pre sented the bride with a silver tea service, and the bridesmaid with a gold brooch.

Archbishop O'Brien entertained the following guests at lunch on Thursday afternoon of last week. The Governor General and Lady Aberdeen, Lieu'. General and Mrs. Montgomery-Moore, Lieut. Gov. ernor and Mrs. Daly, Hon. L. G. Power, Mrs. Power, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Mrs. Fielding, Hontonight. AMHERST.

SEPT. 5.-Something must be askew in the autumn regulations of the weather buleau or else the season has been pushed a little to keep in touch with some of our enterprising merchants who made such a elaborate display of new winter garments in August. The exceedingly cold weather of the week has not been with good effect however for mostly everybody who were tarrying by the sea board have returned to their "ain fireside." Mrs. J. M. Townshend and Miss Johnston, who have been spending several weeks in Parrsboro, came home last week. Miss Bessie Hickman and guest Miss Jennie Kennedy have returned from a long stay at Tidnish shore; also Miss Edna Moffat and visitors, who returned to town the latter part of this week.

She leaves one little son, and is universally regret. Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Smith are making preparation ted, as during her short residence in Annapolis she to vacate their pretty summer cottage at Parrsboro had made many friends. Much sympathy is exand will probably be in their Amherst residence next week.
