PORT ELGIN.

JUNE 27 .- The most pleasant social event of the season was a boating party given by Mr. and Mrs. Spence, whose pretty home is situated on the bank of the river. The bank of the river at that point is overhung with trees, on which a number of lanterns were hung. Viewed from the bridge, the place presented a very pleasant appearance. The guests were received at the house and afterwards conducted to a wharf constructed for the occasion, where a number of boats were in waiting to convey the merry party whither their fancy directed. The river was calm, the moon bright, and everything in that state which makes a row the most delightful pastime imaginable. After spending upwards of two hours on the river, the party returned to the house, where ice-cream and other refreshments were served and enjoyed with great relish. Vocal and instrumental music was rendered by some of the guests in a most praiseworthy manner. Between fifty and sixty guests were present. Soon after midnight the party broke up and all went home well pleased with the entertainment, as Mrs.

Spence really excels in that line.

Forcible Words from an Honest Man

-Interesting Experience of a Millstream Blacksmith - A Happy, Well Man. "If you are the boss I'd like to talk with you?" These were the words of Mr. E. I. Ellison who called at our city office yesterday, without invitation of anyone, prompted only by a thankful heart. He addressed the manager of the Groder Co. with above words. Finding he was right ie continued: "I consulted a physician for THRONIC Diarrhea, from which I suffered all summer. Somehow he did not help me Just then I saw a testimonial from a man I knew, who had been cured by your remedy. We got a bottle. Thought it was no good only syrup. Well, sir, the first half bottle helped me. I kept on taking it. The medisine kept on curing. Now I'm all right; can eat, sleep. work, and enjoy life. Guess it laved me a large doctors's bill; and I know others that it has cured. I took less than hree bottles, and my case was a very bad

Such words come from the heart. Such a writing does good to other sufferers. GRODER'S SYRUP CURES.
