Mr. Thomas Brown also left for the old country, on Tuesday, Mr. Brown expects to be away about LITTLE JANE.

The ball at the 'Admiralty House was even a greater social; success than was anticipated. Although there were some three hundred guests present, the roomsidid not appear to be at all crowded, owing probably to the excellent manner in which they were arranged. The decorations of the supper room and table were superb, and the supper itself excellent. Lady | Hopkins | received her guests in al handsome gown of pale blue brocaded velvet, with trimmings of white lace. She was assisted in her duties by Miss Hopkins, who was dressed in white. Many of the handsome dresses worn by the ladies are especially worthy of mention. Mrs. Fielding wore a costume of pale green satin with trimmings of dark green velvet, Miss A. Keith, old rose brecade, and diamond formaments. Mrs. Secton, black velvet, Miss Uniacke, pink [silk, Mrs. Twining, green silk Mi ss Oliver looked extremely pretty in a handsome bine gown, MissiKenny wore combination of brown and yellow, Missi Bullock, dress of orange yellow, Mrs. 1 Graham, grey silk, and Mrs. Longley, gown of brown and yellow.

There was a large gathering in St. Paul's church on Wednesday afternoon to witness the marriage of Mr. Charles W. Gunning to Miss M. L. Halls, of this city. Rev. Dyson Hague performed the cereony. The bride wore a handsome gown of cream silk, and was given away by her brother. She was attended by her sister, Miss E. Halls, who also wore a gown of creamisilk. Mr. W. E. Thompson was groomsman. After the ceremony the wedding party repaired to the residence of Mrs. H. Hesshen, South Park street, whereka sumptous lunch was awaiting them. NEW GLASGOW.

[PROGRESS is for sale in New Glasgow by A. O. Prichard and H. H. Henderson.] Oct. 31 .- The fine days with the bracing air and the bright sunshine are making out-of-door life specially enticing and the clear starlight evenings are a boon to the young folk who this week are enjoying some very jolly driving parties.

The "harvest fe stival service" in the episcopal church on Sunday last was very largely attended, there being many attractions, which are not often met at once-magnificent decorations, fine music, the "appearing out" of a very charming autumn bride, and last-but-by no means least, the baptism of three little ones. Some of the other churches also had "baptism services" on that day. This evening the Misses Grey give an old fashioned "candy pull;" about thirty young peop e have been invited.

The reception room was beautifully decorated, with palms and chrysanthemuns. Words fail me on describe the table. It was a veritable glimpse of fairyland, and the menu was all that could be desired. After the inner woman had been fully satisfied the health of our departing guest was drunk in a cup of tea, nor were the other torasts customary on shortly to his former residence at Brookfield, there | such an occasion forgotten. The speeches were brilliant and full of wit, and the mu-ic was of the best. Notes of regret were read from several persons from neighboring towns who were unable to be present. During the evening Miss Smith was presented with a beautiful jewelled butterfly, as a remembrance from her New Glasgow friends. The function broke up by all joining hands and singing,"Auld Lang Syne."

NORTH SYDNEY.

[Progress is for sale in North Sydney at the stor of Messrs. Copeland & Co.]

Oct. 30 .- For many a day we shall remember and always with pleasure, the brilliant ball given by the tennis club on the evening of the 26th. I think the hall has never looked quite as festive, and the decorations surpassed any previous attempt. Many, racquets were hung in the ball room, which was gayly festooned in red and black. The windows were filled with potted plants. Here and there, if you knew just where to go, were numerous cosy corners suggesting room for two-no more. The stage was transformed into a drawing room and behind the flowers and the shaded tootlights there was a charming view of the dancers down below. During the evening ice creams were served and supper at twelve. Here again the evidence of exquisite taste was evinced-the table in the form of a Maltese cross, its decorations of white and green, for all flowers were excluded and the edict had gone forth "Nothing but leaves." Its long array of dainty dishes shone in the light of many candles in silver branches. There were a great many smart frocks worn, for everybody was in "fu'll fig," and the guests turned out in bravest array to grace the occasion. Among the gowns I heard particularly mentioned were those worn by Mrs. Blowers Archibald, Mrs. W. J. Christie, Miss Purves, Miss Vooght and Miss Copeland. Following is the list of guests, beginning with the four chaperons: Mrs. W. Purves, cream silk with Greek border
