Dec. 4.—The benefit ball given by the B. O. R. T. for their sick member Conductors Street, was a grand success in every way. The Brotherhood spared no pains in making it a most enjoyable affair. The ball was held in Graham's new opera house which is splendidly adapted to such functions. The grand march and circle formed at nine o'clock. The march began at the dressing-room doors and extended up-stairs to the ballroom. The galleries were crowded with spectators who were well pleased with the brilliancy of the scene as the party of eighty or one hundred couples marched around the room. The dresses of the ladies were very pretty and presented a gorgeous appearance. The "march" was led by Mr. and Mrs. George A. Taylor, followed by Mr. Thomas W. Murphy, chairman of the committee, and Mrs. Murphy, then the members of the committee ladies looked remarkably pretty.

Mrs. George Taylor wore a most becoming dress of turquoise blue silk.

Mrs. Thomas Murphy, our latest bride, looked lovely in a dainty dress of pale blue silk with ribbon trimmings.

Mrs. Guy Smith looked charming in a dress of heliotrope satin with heliotrope and silver gauze, pearl ornaments.

Mrs. Atkinson, Bristol, black satin and lace.

Mrs. King, Houlton, blue silk and white lace.

Many of the young ladies looked very pretty, but it is impossible to give a full description of so many toilettes, so I wisely refrain from giving any. Robinson's orchestra, of Houlton, rendered most inspiring music and a long programme of dances was carried out, extending till four o'clock. A "running supper" was served from eleven till one in rooms in the building, nicely fitted up for the occasion. Several ladies, namely Mrs. Gables, Mrs. Dibble, Miss Beardsley, Miss Montgomery had had that branch of the entertainment in charge and successfully carried out that part of the ball, which was by no means an unimportant one. The sum of $250.00 was realized.

Among the many strangers at the ball were Dr. and Mrs. Atkinson, of Bristol.

Our winter season in Woodstock this year promises not to be so dull, from a social point of view as had been expected, thanks to the energy and enterprize of Messrs. Ernest R. and A. D. Holyoke, who have made arrangements to open an ice rink. The rink will be opened next week and will have several band nights a week. During the winter there will be a series of carnivals, which will give the young folks an opportunity to display their artistic skill in devising fascinating costumes. As the party season is about over, the opening of the new rink will be hailed with enthusiasm by large numbers of young people.

The funeral of Henry Parker, who was killed on Friday morning at Fredericton, took place on Sunday afternoon with all possible honors. The young man was highly esteemed by his many acquaintances and his funeral testified to the fact. The Knights of Pythias, the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Orangemen attended the funeral in full uniform. The band played a solemn march as the procession wended its way to the quiet city of the dead.

Miss Seely returned to St. John on Saturday.

Miss Jessie Peabody returned on Saturday from a very pleasant visit in St. John.

ST. STEPHEN AND CALAIS.

[Progress is for sale in St. Stephen by Mrs. Ralph Trainor, and at the book stores of G. S. Wall and J. Vroom & Co. in Calais at O. P. Treat's.]

Dec. 5.—Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Todd will entertain at their residence tomorrow evening the I. T. Y. I. club, of which they are members.

The Thanksgiving ball in the Grand Army hall in Calais on Thursday evening last was a most brilliant and enjoyable affair, and dancing waxed long and merry until an early hour in the morning. Cards also made a pleasant amusement for those who did not dance. Fruit punch was served throughout the evening and supper at 12 o'clock. The toilettes of the ladies were very pretty and elegant, but with the exception of the ladies' committee it was difficult to get a correct description. The young ladies of the reception committee were Miss Mae Jones, who looked most lovely in a pretty costume of white silk with a corsage bouquet of pale pink carnations; Miss May Foster in white with bouquet of Jacque and Maraschell Nell roses; Miss Carrie Barker wore a stylish gown of lavender which was most becoming to her beauty, and Miss Nellie Marchie, who wore an exceedingly pretty dress of pale green silk trimmed with white lace. This ball was one of the pleasantest ever given in Calais on Thanksgiving night. The success of it, so it is said, was owing to the number of gentlemen from out of town, who were most charming dancers and most attentive to the young ladies, consequently no "wall flowers," and every one enjoyed themselves.

There were a large number of Thanksgiving dinner parties in Calais on Thursday.

Mrs. George G. King, gave a card party on Thanksgiving evening which was greatly enjoyed by her guests.

Mrs. Willard B. King entertained the "six of one" and "half dozen of the other" club at her home on Monday afternoon, cake and Russian tea were served at five o'clock. Mrs. King is a most delightful hostess and her guests enjoyed them selves exceedingly.

DECEIVING THE LADIES.

The unceasing struggle for supremacy in almost every line of trade, undoubtedly has a tendency to make dealers resort to questionable methods of business. Take, for instance, a line of high-class dress goods like Priestley's, which has been brought to a state of perfection and has attained popularity everywhere; as soon as the ladies insist upon having these goods and no others it is reported that some merchants have even taken the "Varnished Board," Priestley's Trade Mark, out of the Genuine Priestley's Black Dress Goods or Crayonettes and wrapped inferior goods upon it for the purpose of deceiving the customer. Fortunately, however, an extra precaution was adopted by the manufacturer in stamping the name "Priestley's" and the length on every five yards so that ladies who want these goods can be sure they are getting them.
