Miss Florrie Powys, who is a favorite with every one who knows her, is the recipient of very general sympathy on account of the painful injuries she re-eeived in her late accident. Miss Powys in com-pany with Mrs. Roberts and Mr. Will Roberts was driving in from Rev. Canon Robert's farm at Woodland, where they have been spending the summer. Miss Powys was on the front seat driving, with the others behind. In going down a hill the horse stumbled, the shock throwing her forward and over the dasher in front of the wheels, both of which passed over her. In addition to some bad bruises about the face, her injuries consist of a fractured rib and a ligament of the arm ruptured. Although painful, her injuries are not considered serious and her many friends hope for her speedy recovery. Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Laggie, Misses Maggie Allen, Ida Allen and Crookshank, Messrs. J. H. Winsiow and Cowie formed a party which drove up to Spring. hill Saturday afternoon for tea at the hotel, returning

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Reid, who have been spending a week in Dorchester, returned home on Monday. The Moncton amateur orchestra gave a promenade concert in the Metropolitan rink on Thursday evening, which was well attended in spite of the very unpleasant weather. The programme was an excellent one, and the solos including a trombone solo by Mr. Bowness, and cornet solos by Messrs. Bourke and Stewart were enthusiastically received, Mr. Stewart's "Lost Chord" calling forth a unanimous encore. The presence of four ladies is a very attractive feature of the orchestra and speaks we for the musical talent of the Moncton ladies. On Thursday evening Miss Bruce played first violin and Miss Alice McEwen, second. Refreshments of fruit, ice cream and cake were served during the evening, and I believe a very respectable sum was
