PROGRESS is for sale in Fredericton by W. T. H. enety and J. H. Hawthorne.

JUNE 13 .- St. John's Episcopal church, Oromocto, was, on Wednesday last, packed to its utmost capacity to witness the marriage of Miss Agnes, only daughter of R. D. Wilmot, M. P., and Dr. Geo. Parke of Quebec. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with pink apple blossoms, wild cherry and white lilac; from the chandelier was suspended long white ribbons, the ends of which were brought down and caught at the end of the last pew reserved for the guests. The bride who entered the church with and was given in marriage by her father, was beautifully attired in a gown of cream duchess satin trimmed with honiton lace and orange blossoms and wore a veil, and carried a magnificent bouquet. The bridesmaids were Miss Effie Parke, of Quebec. sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Myra Randolph, who wore white dotted Swiss muslin and carried bouquets. The little Misses Winifred Barker, daughter of Judge Barker, of St. John, and Edith Wilmot, daughter of Mrs. John D. Wilmot of Belmont, acted as maids of honor and wore costumes of cream china silk and large hats, and carried baskets of flowers which they strewed before the bride as she passed down the aisle to the bridal carriage. The groom had the support of the bride's brother, Mr. A. B. Wilmot; and the ushers were Mr. J. Warrack of Quebec, and Dr. T. D. Walker, of St. John.

After the ceremony the bridal party drove to Beauvoir, the residence of the bride's parents; where Dr. and Mrs. Parke received their friends standing under a magnificent hanging basket of flowers in the bay window of the drawing-room, the decorations of which were on a magnificent scale. Banks of ferns, calla illies and trailing vines made an ideal picture of a beautiful country home. Lunche in was served in the large dining-room, the decorations of which were white and pink. The bridal cake was a colossal structure, and after the luncheon a round of toasts followed,-the first, "the bride", proposed by Governor Fraser, responded to by the groom; Rev. Mr. Dibblee proposed the health of the bridesmaids, which was responded to by Mr. Allan Wilmot; "our host and hostess" proposed by Mr. Simonds, and answered by Mr. R. D. Wilmot, who proposed the Lieut. Governor and Mrs. Fraser.

The invited guests were Governor and Mrs. Fraser, Col. and Mrs. Maunsell, Mrs. Hemming, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Winslow, Mr. T. B., Mrs. and Miss Winslow, Miss Mabel Gregory, Mr. W.
