On Sunday morning confirmation service was held in the catholic church, his lordship, Bishop Cameron, officiating, assisted by Rev. Mr. Coady of Thorburn, and Rev. John Shaw. The floral decorations were beautiful. The side altars from the floor to the top were banked with palms, ivy and smilax, through which gleamed numbers of fairy lights in red shades; on the grand altar were roses, lilies and other lovely flowers. Bordise's Mass in F was sung in grand style. The soloists were: Miss O'Brien, soprano; Miss Dwyer, contralto; Mr. Lawrence Dorion (Pictou), tenor; and Mr. Lewis Dorie on, bass. The chorus comprised thirty voices. Bishop Cameron preached a very elequent sermon, his text being taken from the twelfth chapter of the apocalypse. About sixty children were confirmed, the girls wearing white dresses and long white veils; the boys wore white ribbon tied on their left arm. In the afternoon the Bishop administered confirma-

A crowded house greeted the Fisk Jubilee singers on last Friday evening, when they gave one of their delightful concerts in McKeill's hall, under Y. M. C. A. auspices. All the numbers on the programme were superbly rendered, and were encored. It was a pleasure indeed to listen to Mrs. Porter Cole, whose magnificent voice appeared to great advantage. The "Basso" of the Jubilee singers missed his train on Saturday, and was left in town. Evidently he enjoyed the situation, for several young ladies took pity on his apparent loneliness, and paid him marked attention. At the athletic grounds, where a foot ball match was being played—he was made a hero off—Oh! he had just a lovely time, and the young ladies brought him safely back to town. I believe "the boys" quite envied him—and are vowing vengeance.

May 21 .- Quite a large and delighted audience gathered to hear the comedy "Snowball," which was produced by a company of amateurs at the Reform Club hall on Thursday of last week. The efforts of the company to give a pleasant evening were most successful, and the different characters in the play were well sustained. The ladies, Miss Lawson, Miss K. Smith and Miss Bossance, looked and acted their parts to perfection, while the gentlemen were equally good. The transformation of the plain-not to say ugly-stage of the hall into something very pretty to see, reflects much credit upon those who undertook the work of decoration.

The inaugural cricket match of the season was played on Saturday between the college club and a team from the Windsor athletic association, the latter coming off victorious.
