MARCH 20.—Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Miller entertained on Thursday evening, a large number of unmarried ladies and gentlemen of the presbyterian church. Various games and amusements helped to pleasantly pass the evening, anagrams, of course, forming an attractive feature.

Quite a number of progressive anagram parties have been given during the week. Among the young people of the town this game seems to grow in favor, and at present seems to be quite popular. Informal, old-fashioned tea parties seem to be in vogue these last few months, and have greatly taken the place of more formal five o'clock teas, perhaps it is because they are informal, or perhaps it is "the fashion."

On Easter eve there is to be a confirmation service in Trinity church, which will be held by the bishop of Nova Scotia. And on Easter Sunday special services will be held in most of the churches of town.

The election of Thursday last seemed to be one of the most stirring there has been in town for a long time, the day could not have been finer. In the evening meetings were held in all the town halls, and the successful candidates were serenaded by the Yarmouth and Milton brass bands.

A special service of praise was held in Wesleyan Methodist church school-room, on Sunday afternoon. The programme included vocal solos, duets and recitations, and was of special interest.

The clergymen and other temperance workers held a prohibition meeting in Music hall last week. The hall was packed. Addresses were given by all the influential temperance workers of the town, and the meeting was a grand success.

The sympathy of the town goes out to the relatives and friends of the late Mr. Chas. Horton, who passed away on Saturday last, after a very short illness. Mr. Horton was a well known and much-beloved citizen, and will be greatly missed in the town.
