FACTS FOR REFLECTION.

It does not matter whether the man of the house or the woman of the house buys the groceries, they want to be sure that they are of the best quality and as low in price as quoted anywhere. Life is too busy to look around every day to compare qualities and prices. But this fact we have always emphasized that our price is as low as the lowest, quality considered. Our Teas and Coffee continue to grow in the favor of our customers. Every flavor of Tea at prices ranging from the lowest to the highest. You can surely get what you desire. The Coffee is always "ground while you wait"—which buyers will appreciate. BISCUITS of almost every make in stock—the very best manufacturers supply me and the best prices prevail. In Canned Goods we always lead and those who doubt can think of the fact that with us Canned Salmon sells for 13 cents, or, 12 cans for $1.50. We have things in our stock that cannot be eaten, such as Whisks, Brushes, Lamps and Wool Dusters (that can be washed) which are, however, necessary for living a comfortable life.

St. John—South End.

The announcement of the death of Mrs. Pullen wife of Mr. James H. Pullen, which occurred at her residence, Horsfield street, on Saturday last, was received with feelings of the deepest regret by a large circle of friends. Her death was most sudden and unexpected, and was caused by paralysis after only three days' illness. To her sorrowing husband and children the sympathy of the community will be extended. It was only a few months ago that Mr. Pullen was called upon to part with his eldest son, and another bereavement following so closely makes it doubly sad. Mrs. Pullen leaves five daughters, three unmarried, and two married, the latter being the wives of Mr. A. DeForest and Mr. J. H. Pepper. Mrs. Pepper who now resides in Philadelphia, came to St. John, to be present at the funeral, which took place from Trinity church on Monday last. The floral offerings were very beautiful.

Mrs. Jones, wife of Mr. E. C. Jones, manager of the Bank of Montreal, died at her residence, King street, (East) on Sunday last. Mrs. Jones has been a great sufferer for the past two months, and her death was not wholly unexpected. She leaves two sons and two daughters, the latter are at present travelling on the continent. The funeral took place on Tuesday last, and was largely attended. Services were held at Trinity church. Among the floral tributes was a beautiful wreath, from the clerks of the Bank of Montreal.

The congregation of St. James' church met in their schoolroom on Monday last to bid farewell to their pastor, Rev. Mr. James, who has labored amongst them for the past seven years. He was presented with two addresses—one from the church wardens and vestry, read by Mr. R. W. Crookshank, and one from the Sunday school, read by Mr. R. Keltie Jones. Both contained expressions of the deepest regret at his departure. Mr. James replied, after which refreshments were served, and a short musical programme gone through. Mr. James left for Montreal on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Wm. Magee, sr., is again confined to his room at the Royal, through illness. The report circulated last week that Mrs. J. D. Shattford had gone to Chicago to join Mr. Shattford, is, I fear, quite incorrect. Mrs. Shattford, accompanied by her aunt, Miss Partelow, is visiting friends in or near Boston.

Mr. Wm. F. Starr still continues seriously ill, though there is a slight improvement for the better in his condition. He has been suffering with hemorrhage of the lungs.

The evening was delightfully mild, and both the drive out and in was much enjoyed.

The bride who was dressed in a handsome gown of white Irish poplin, with trimmings of lace, was given away by her cousin, Mr. J. Kerr Osborne, of Toronto. Miss Eleanor Carey, who acted as maid of honor, was dressed in blue silk, and carried a bouquet of roses, while Miss Helen Stratford, cousin of the bride, who is bridesmaid, wore white silk. Both wore torquise pendants, gifts of the groom. The bride's mother was dressed in a handsome costume of black satin with lace fichu, and Miss Alice Carey looked very pretty in a becoming dress of pale blue. The bride received many handsome and valuable presents, prominent among them being a pendant set in diamonds and pearls, from the groom, a cheque from her father, a set of desert knives and forks from Mrs. Carey, and a grandfather's clock from the members of the geological survey staff, to which Mr. Tyrrell belongs.
