"77" FOR INFLUENZA

COLD IN THE HEAD. Influenza is almost, if not quite, epidemic—the grippe, serious kind, but the distressing flow from the eyes and nose that makes the sufferer miserable. "77" gives quick relief, and the quarter is well spent to rid one of such torment.

TAKE COLD IN THE SPRING. Vanity is largely to blame—the anxiety to wear the new Easter bonnet, or lighter wrap, or top coat. Sometimes the change is made because the winter garments look shabby in the dangerously bright, spring sunshine—the person is exposed to the lingering, sharp, wintry air; result—a miserable cold that is hard to shake off.

"KNOCKS OUT THE GRIP." B. A. Field, the leading druggist of Richmond, Ind., writes under date of April 10: "Please express three dozen '77' as early as possible. My customers say it knocks out the 'Grippe'."

DR. HUMPHREYS' SPECIFICS. KIDNEY Diseases—Gravel, Calculi; Thick Urinary Discharges; Difficult, Painful Urination—cured by "27." URINARY Diseases—Incontinence, too Frequent, Painful or Scalding Urination, Wetting the Bed—cured by "30."

DR. HUMPHREYS' SPECIFICS. RHEUMATISM, Acute or Chronic; Sciatica, Lumbago, and all Rheumatic pains are cured by Dr. Humphreys' Specific No. 15. MEDICAL BOOK—A copy of Dr. Humphreys' Specific Manual of all diseases mailed free on application.

Humphreys' Specifics are sold in small vials of pleasant pellets, 25c., or pocket flask holding six times as much for $1.00. Sold by druggists, or sent prepaid upon receipt of price. HUMPHREYS' MEDICINE COMPANY, corner William and John streets, New York.

catata "Woman of Samaria" was the last number on the programme, the solos in it were taken by Miss Lewis, Mrs. J. McD. Taylor, Mr. E. I. Macdonald and Mr. J. R. Currie.

The Dor-Norcross company opened their engagement on Monday night with "Jane." They had a very good house indeed considering the state of the weather. Before "Jane" they gave a curtain raiser called "Barbara" written by Jerome K. Jerome.

Judging from that author's book "Three Men in a Boat" you expected something very funny, but on the contrary you were treated to quite a pathetic little piece. Miss Migerva Dorr sang in the first act very sweetly indeed "The Dearest Story Ever Told" and for an encore "Coming Thru' The Rye," On Thursday they are going to present "The Old Old Story" for the first time in Halifax.

Word comes to us from across the Atlantic of the engagement of Miss Laura Almon to Mr. Addison Co., an English gentleman. Miss Almon has been in England for the last eighteen months staying with her sister, Mrs. Edward Sydney.

Thun much talked of and well advertised Charity ball is now a thing of the past. It came off at the Mason hall on Wednesday evening. The dancing room was lung with flags; the floor was very good and the band of the King's regiment played for the dancing. Upstairs there were two or three sitting out rooms, and the different halls and stairways were used for that purpose.

Refreshments were served just outside the dining room; the supper followed with little delay. The guests were received by Mrs. Mackintosh, Mrs. Tucker, Mrs. Lyde, Mrs. J. F. Kenny and Mrs. Jim Morrow. About two hundred people were there and every one seemed to consider the dance a great success.

pettaquamscutt. APRIL 17.—Miss Moore who left here on Friday to spend her Easter vacation at her home in Riverside has not yet returned. I hear that her brother is seriously ill.

Last week Miss Florence Jones spent a few days in Moncton the guest of Mrs. L. McSwaney. Mrs. F. W. Emerson has just returned from a short visit to Fredericton. She was the guest of her sister Mrs. Gordon.

Mr. Charles Stockton, of St. John, spent Saturday in the village. A few of the people of Pettaquamscutt attended the ball in Sussex Monday evening. Among those who were invited were Mrs. Lawrence, Miss Annie Webster, and Messrs. Ryan and Robinson.

Mr. D. Jones spent Sunday at home resting on Monday to Sackville. Last week Mrs. Geo. Lutz, of Follet River Plantation, spent a few days in the village the guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Price.

Betrayed by her Weight. The spectacle of half a hundred hysterical women waiting in line to be weighed, guarded the while by a dozen gendarmes, excited the curiosity of the crowd about a railway station in Vienna a little while ago.

A wealthy Austrian manufacturer, on arriving home one night, found a note from his wife saying that her love for him had grown cold and that she had left him for ever. Being a practical man, he wasted no time in useless grief, but ascertained at what hour his wife left the house, then consulted the railway time-table, and decided that she must have taken a certain train for Vienna.

Even a long and detailed description of his erring wife might not be accurate enough, and there was no time to lose, so he telegraphed to the Viennese Chief of Police: "Arrest woman who will arrive by the 10.15 express. Her exact weight is 83 kilos" (about 186 pounds). On receipt of this despatch the chief himself repaired to the railway station, and was much perplexed when he saw that most of the women who descended from the train were stoutly built.

But he hesitated only a moment, and then decided to weigh each woman, and one by one they stepped on to the luggage scales. The spectators were as ignorant as the women themselves of the motive for this singular proceeding, and the opinion prevailed among them that it must be the beginning of a series of new and disagreeable eccentricities on the part of their Chief of Police.

At last one woman stepped on the scales and registered exactly 83 kilos. She was detained until the arrival of her husband, and was so impressed by his cleverness that she was anxious to be forgiven, and promised eternal fidelity when he came.

Well Protected. It is all too common to misunderstand the true nature of a medicine, as anyone must confess, remembering the story of the nurse who awoke her patient in order to administer a sleeping potion.

A certain doctor one day met a neighbor, and inquired: "Well, Jackson, how did your wife manage her new shower bath?" "Oh, she had very good luck. Mrs. Smith told her how she managed with hers. She made an oiled silk hood, with a big cap on it, that came down over her shoulders."

"She was an idiot for her pains," said the doctor, impatiently. "That's not the way." "So my wife thought." "And your wife did nothing of the kind, I hope?" "Oh, no, no. My wife she used an embryo!"

A Wooden-Legged General. A general with a wooden leg remaining on active service sounds rather curious. It appears, however, not to be impracticable. Last autumn, during the manoeuvres in Catalonia, General Rendos was thrown from his horse and broke his leg. The limb had to be amputated, and it was feared that the general, who is one of the youngest and most talented of the staff would have to be placed on the retired list. A clever surgeon, however, has invented a leg which not only enables the gallant officer to walk without the aid of a stick, but to keep as good a seat on his horse as ever.

CANCER ON THE LIP CURED BY AYER'S Sarsaparilla. "I consulted doctors who prescribed for me, but to no purpose. I suffered in agony seven long years. Finally, I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a week or two I noticed a decided improvement. Encouraged by this result, I persevered, until in a month or so the sore began to heal, and after using the Sarsaparilla for six months, the last trace of the cancer disappeared." JAMES E. NICHOLSON, Florenceville, N. B.

Hood's Cured Others Failed

Scrofula in the Neck—Bunches All Gone Now. "What's in a Name? Publisher: "Fine number this week, isn't it? All big names; every contributor famous!"

Blanche Atwood, Sangerville, Maine. "C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: 'Gentlemen—I feel that I cannot say enough in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. For five years I have been troubled with scrofula in my neck and throat. Several kinds of medicines which I tried did not do me any good, and when I commenced to take Hood's Sarsaparilla there were large bunches on my neck so sore that I could not bear the slightest touch. When I had taken one bottle of this medicine, the soreness had gone, and before I had finished the second the bunches had entirely disappeared.' BLANCHE ATWOOD, Sangerville, Maine."

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures. not bear the slightest touch. When I had taken one bottle of this medicine, the soreness had gone, and before I had finished the second the bunches had entirely disappeared. Hood's Pills cure constipation by restoring the peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.
