About 11 o'clock a fine-looking young "Lady" D--, in d.scussing these events, deciared himself, somewhat in this wise: "I do not think man and two decidedly good-looking and this sort of thing should be encouraged and in my stylishly dressed young women entered the opinion a very wrong thing has been done in the manager of the rink allowing the use of the rink at recorder of deed's office and asked for a marriage license, and one was issued to any time to an exclusive party or set, such a prac Democrat." These, of course, are not the exact words used, but in substance is as I heard remarked William Dray and Viola Roderick. They said that the marriage was to be a surprise, and requested that nothing be said about During the past two months the deaths were re-corded of four of our oldest citizens, whose ages corded of four of our oldest citizens, whose ages averaged 85½ years. The deceased to whom I re-fer were: Miss Maria Bown, Mrs. Matheson, Mr. Douglass Rigby and Mr. Malcom McInnes. The "Knights of the besom" of Sydney and our sister town, North Sydney, have been vieing with one another this season as to which teams possess the most 'Canny Scots.' The first tournament too, place at North Sydney on Saturday, the 21st ult., when the visitors were in a cosely contested games defeated by six points. A return game was played granting of the license. Then they consulted together, and finally asked if they could be married right there. Recorder Queal hastened to the telephone and called up Justice Ebert. Before the justice arrived word had passed around that a wedding was to occur and the room was filled defeated by six points. A return game was played here last Thursday when "our ain laddies" van. with uninvited guests. The groom did not relish this, neither did the bride, neither quished their "brother" from across the water by seven points. The groom, supplied him or herself with a blanket coat and toque. On the score, it appeared of this innocent wearing apparel one of our local divines delivered a evidently a brave man, was not as nervous as the justice, who fumbled to get from iew Sundays ago, a sermon in which he indulged in some rant at the expense of these same blanket coats his pocket a paper upon which he had written the words of a simple marriage ceremony. The door was shut sottly beand the wearers thereof. The amusing part of the af-fair was the presence in the congregation of several of the reverend gentlemen's own flock who were dressed in that most becoming costume. It seems really too tad that the young people cannot indulge in such innocent amusement as toboganing and showshoeing without being made the butt of some clerical crank who does not know enough to mind hind the party and the vedding was screened from curious eyes.

The justice was getting along fairly well, and had just reached that part in the ceremony where he asked the coaple to join hands, when something happened. One of the clerks had slipped to the switchboard and turned off the lights in the vault. Performing Wild Beasts and Electricity.

"I fully believe that electricity, properly applied, will work a revolution so far as the restraining, in an emergency, of wild beasts which appear before the public is concerned," said the proprietor of one of our best-known menageries. "I have tried the administration of fairly mild electric shocks to lions, tigers, and wolves, and you cannot imagine the astonishment of the animals. They seem spellbound, and I am confident I have found a means of restraining them should they attack any performer. Up to a recent period it was consider-ed that the best thing for the person attacked, or about to be attacked, to do was to hit the lion or tiger full on the nose, and, if possible, to slightly cut the nose.
