ANAGANCE.

FEB. 11 -Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Davidson gave a large party last Thursday evening at their residence, Waterside villa, which proved to be one of the best parties of the season. Watersi ie villa never looked more cheerful or enchanting than upon this night, when after a cold long drive through the frosty air you at length reached its hospitable roof. Tae house was lighted from top to bottom most brilliantly and was trimmed with quantities of flowers, while fires sending forth their glow of warmth and good cheer blazed in the open grates. Mrs. Davidson's house is admirably adapted for entertaining and her party was a most successful one. All the arrangements were perfect, and an excellent supper which was served at 12 did not detract from the success of the evening. It was like approaching a fairy castle to draw near their magnificent residence that night as the glow of light and warmth reflected by the snow penetrated the darkness for some distance and lent an enchantment to the surrounding scene.

Mrs. Davidson received her guests in a handsome black with cream silk. Some of the pretty costumes noticed on the floor were those of Miss Mary Emmerson, who wore a black velvet skirt, pale blue cashmere waist with ribbon trimmings.

Mrs. George Robertson wore terra cotta brilliantine with trimmings of cream lace. Mrs. Hal Huestis, pale pink and Nile green striped Mrs. E Kinnear looked nice in black silk. Miss Bertie Davidson was attired in black, with pale blue silk and jet trimmings.

Miss Annie Webster looked nice in old rose cashmere with ribbon trimmings. Miss McAnespy wore robin's egg blue cashmere.

Miss Bessie McAnespy looked very nice in cream Miss Ida Smith looked sweet in garnet cashmere. Miss Birdie Blakney looked handsome in electric

silk trimmings. Miss Jessie McLeod wore bright red cashmere with velvet trimmings.

Mrs. O. Jones looked pretty in a golden brown cashmere and white lace.

The gentlemen present were Messrs. Bernard Ryan, Chip Keith, Geo. Davidson, Albert Davidson, Bliss Lester, Hugh Church, David Smith, Humphrey Davidson, Harry Smith, A. McAnespy, O.Jones, Sam Snider, Bev. McNaughton and S. Chapman.

Up to midnight dancing was indulged in and then all partook of the grand supper after which dancing was resumed and kept up until the wee small hours of the morning, when that old-time and still much or the morning, when that old-time and still much honored dance, the quadrille, ended up the festivities of the evening, and it must have been about four o'clock when the last Good night rang out on the clear cold air and the last sleighful of joily guests took their departure. Mr. Chapman, of Sussex, furnished the mus c, which was excellent.
