March 6.—The evening with Longfellow given by the King's daughters on Thursday last was a great success and the young ladies who worked so indefatigably, to make it what it was, must have felt amply repaid for all their trouble. The temperance hall was packed to its utmost capacity with an appreciative audience, and a fine programme was given. The ladies' orchestra consisting of Miss Gibson, and Miss Margaret Johnston,

Like angel faces do appear
The living looks of tender youth;
No time of life are they so near
Angelic looks by photo's truth.
Charles Climo, Art Photographers, 54 Princess St.,
St. John, N. B. Telephone 62.

violin, Miss Bailey and Miss Babbitt, mandolins, Miss Frankie Tibbits, Miss Purdy, and Miss Ethel Hatt, guitars, with Miss Johnston pianist, done themselves ample justice and were highly appreciated; they would have presented a more uniform appearance though if all had retained or else had taken off their hats, but as their music was most smoothly and beautifully rendered few would be critical of appearance. Miss Holten read an essay on the "Life of Longfellow" which was listened to with rapt attention, and Miss Florence Humans recited, Longfellow's earliest poem and received an encore. The tableaux were very prettily presented but the effect was marred by the reader's voice not being heard. At the close of the entertainment the young ladies passed coffee and cake to all present. Over eighty dollars was realized. The King's daughters are doing a great deal of good in a very quiet way in visiting the sick and needy.

Mrs. Chas. Tabor entertained a large party of friends at whist (nine tables) on Thursday evening. Miss Mamie Gregory, of Rothessy, has been spending a few days with relatives here.

MONCTON.

[Progress is for sale in Moncton at the Mountain Bookstore, at the Central Bookstore and by M. B. Jones.]

March 6.—Last Friday evening there was a - other children's carnival at the Victoria rink, and was largely attended both by skaters and spectators.

There were some very pretty costumes, but the prizes were carried off by Miss Lillian Campbell, who represented "Grace Darling," for the most original, and Rosana Bourque for the most handsome, her representation of a "Butterfly" being very pretty. The prize for the most original among the boys, was given to Mat Lodge, as "Shadow of the Moncton Dock." Another good character was "Jack in the Box" represented by Mr. Carl Fraser, who received honorable mention.

WOODSTOCK.

[Progress is for sale in Woodstock by Mr. Look & Co.]

March 6.—The Rev. J. Cooper Robinson, church of England missionary in Japan, delivered a most interesting and highly entertaining lecture in the school room adjoining St. Luke's Church on Friday evening. Many fine light views showing the beautiful scenery of Japan, also the manners and costumes of its people, were exhibited to the great enjoyment of the large audience. Mr. Robinson traced himself in the attire of a Japanese gentleman at the close of the lecture and exhibited several of the most curious "necessities of life."

On Tuesday evening of this week the Boy's Brigade gave an exhibition in Graham's Opera house. The meeting was arranged in honor of Mr. Smith's visit, but his programme unfortunately was changed so that he could not be present at the time appointed.

The Boy's Brigade though not large in number presents a fine appearance. It has been organized by Colonel Baird and the drill has been under the management of Colonel Baird and Major Vines. A musical programme was carried out consisting of several choruses and solos—Miss Henderson Mrs. Good and Mrs. Holyoke were the soloists.

Miss Stephenson returned home Saturday after a very pleasant visit in Woodstock.

Mrs. MacLaren, of Moncton, spent a week in town, the guest of Mr. W. T. Townsend.

Mr. T. M. Jones returned from Boston, Saturday, where he had spent some weeks.

The Band of Hope will give an entertainment in the W. C. T. U. hall on Saturday evening of this week. A pleasing programme will be carried out by the little ones. The entertainment is under the management of Mrs. E. L. Atherton and Mrs. Bancroft and will doubtless prove successful.
