JAN. 23 .- Quite the most brilliant social event of the season was Mrs. E. F. Wilson's at home last Thursday evening, for which the invitations, over a hundred in number, had been out about a week previously. With but few exceptions, all in receipt of cards responded in person, there being present Dr. and Mrs. McKay, Mr. and Mrs. Morman, Mr. and Mrs. M. Dickie, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Gourley, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Crowe, Mr. and Mrs. Wetmore, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prince, Mr. and Mrs. S. Waddell, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. A. McCullogh, Mrs. Venner, Misses Jean Crowe, E. Black, Maud and Lottie Mc-Naughtor, Tena and Mabel McLeod, Maie and Grace Smith, S. Yorstan, Emma and Lilla Snock, M. Crowe, M. Blenkinsop, Bigelow, M. Laurence, M. McKenzie, L. Wetmore, F. Yuill, Messrs. O'Dell, Bishop, Bowers, Hornsby, Williams, Stevenson, Fitch, F. S. Yorston, W. Yorston, Coleman, Hall, Stanfield, H. C. Yui l, Graham, Corbett, Black, Vernon. Mrs. Wilson's handsome rooms were very artistically disposed and most prettily arranged, setting off to advantage the rich toilettes of the ladies present. Mrs. Wetmore wore yellow silk and white lace, a lovely toilette.

week. Mrs. Heartz, was at home two afternoons, Thursday and Friday, and Mrs. J. W. Johnson, on Saturday afternoon.

The oyster supper tendered Mr. A. O. Homsby, on Saturday evening last, at the "Prince of Wales," by a number of his friends, as a farewell, was a pronounced success. Those present were : Messrs. M. L. Dickie, W. D. Bowers, Putnam, A. C. Smith, F. L. Murray, A. V. Smith, G. A. Wall, F. S. Yorston, W. Yorston, H. C. Yuill, D. A. Bishop, C. W. A. Fitch, J. Stanfield. The toasts were: "The Queen," our guest," "the ladies," the bankers," "the professions;" they were severally responded Smith, F. L. Murray, A. V. Smith, Coleman. Bishop, Prince, E. Fulton, and Dr. O'Dell, and drunk most generously and enthusiastically from raspberry vinegar. Messrs. W. F. O'Dell, A. V. with much expression the "Bowery Girl," and to Dr. O'Dell's banjo obligato, Mesers. Fitch and Murray sang most feelingly, the pathetic ballad, "Hunting Tower." This very congenial gathering broke up about midnight, when many good wishes were said, to "speed the parting guest." Mr. Hornsby left on Monday for his home in Charlottetown, P. E. I., where he will take Halifax. Mr. Hornsby's many friends here, both in bank and social circles, regret very much his removal, while sincerely glad of his promotion. Miss Sophy Murray, from Falmouth, Hants Co., en route to Sackville ts visit friends, spent Sunday in town, a guest of her brother, Mr. F. L. Murray. PEG.

JAN. 24 .- Mr. Oswald Hornsby, of the Merchant's Bank, has been promoted to the position of acting agent at Charlottetown, P. E. I. Before leaving Truro, Mr. Hornsby, who is a most genial and gentlemanly young fellow, and who during his stay here has made hosts of friends, was given a farewell send off by some of his admirers and well wishers. Among those present were: Mr. Martin Dickie (manager of the bank), Mr. Hall, Mr. Bowers, Mr. Aubrey Frith, Mr. W. A. Fitch, Dr. Yorston, Wm. Yorston, Mr. Armstrong, (commercial bank), Mr. Coleman, Mr. Ted Smith, Mr. Fulton, Mr. G. H. Williams, Mr. E. R. Stuart, and Mr. Stairfield. Mr. Fulton, who was in good voice, sang "Susan's Sunday Out," next followed a selection on the banjo by Mr. Fitch, which was received with such enthusiasm that an encore had to follow. As Mr. Fitch is a beginner his repertoire is of course very iimited, so instead he sang "The Cat Came Back" which brought down the house. "The Prince of Wales hotel" has seldom seen within its doors a merrier party. Good fellowship reigned and the well told tale and merry jest went round. All Truro wish Mr. Hornsby success in his new and more Dickie, W. Smith, J. and W. Crowe, Blenkinsop, important position. (FROM AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT.) JAN. 2 .- The many other attractions for Thursday evening last did not prevent the assembling o a very large and representative audience, at "St. Patrick's Hall" when a concert was given, under the management of "St. Vincent de Paul" society. Conspicuous among those present were: His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, His Lordship Bishop Mc-Donald, Cnief Justice and Mrs. Sullivan, U.S. Consul and and Mrs. Kane, many other society people and a number of clergymen. The programme was an exceptionally good one, almost every number being encored. Among the young ladies who made their first appearance in this hall, and who I might say were "particular stars," were Miss Sullivan, whose singing was much admired, she being the enviable possessor of a rarely sweet contralto voice, which shows perfect training, and Miss Enid Mc-Lean, who as an "elocutionist" is winning golden opinions wherever heard; the perfect ease and grace combined with dramatic power shown in her rendition of "What Two Woman Can Do," were revelations of what may be expected in are only some toilettes, among this galaty, of airy the near future. Mrs. Byrne, who is always listened to with pleasure, won new laurels, her superb soprano voice appearing to advantage in "The Flower Girl." Judging from the applause which greeted Mrs. Maurice Biake, she is a favorite-who has not lost her power to please. The Misses Barrett and McPhee were "debutantes" their recitations being very good. Dr. Conroy read in characteristic style-true to life-and gave general lightening many, whose views, on the subject, were pleasure, Mr. George A. Dixon, late of New Gashazy and obscure. Mrs. Archibald returned to gow, N S, sang "The Holy City," during the early part of the evening, and later-by special requestsaog "Answered" both numbers were deservedly applauded. Mr. Dixon is becoming popular as a tenor. Mr. Bell sang "Mary of Argyle" with much effect. All the numbers were encored. Mr. Blanchard was accompanist, and Professor Caven "master of ceremonies."
