Last week was a very gay ore indeed, and I hear tlat there is every pro: pret of a gay winter; I am told that some places ale incor the impression that we have all our gai ty in the sun mer; we have it both sinner and winter and indeed it is pretty senerally known th t socially Halifax is one of the gayest cities on the continent all the year round. Last week witnessed several teas two dances, 1 umerous theatre parties, several dinners and the King's regiment sports on the garrison grounds.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. J. F. Kenny gave a dinner.dance-a form of entertainment that is now very fashionable everywhere. The dance was not laige Leither was the dipper preceeding it, but both were preity and perfect in all the arrangements Mis. Kenny was beautifully gowred as was also ler neice Miss Heward. There were only forty reople at the dance so that there was plenty of space and everybody danced. Supper was served in the dining room and the dancers left about midnight. Everything was done in the simpliest and most charming manner and everything elaborate was taboobed.

On Thursday Mrs. En kine gave a dance at Admirality house, principality for the er joy menr of the "Middy's." It was a pretty party, be autifully managed, ard er joyed by everyone. Mrs. Erskine who is a spler dio bestess was assisted in receiving by Ler sis er Miss Constable; some lovely gowns were worn the prettiest being white and chire silk now the correct material for ball dresses; dancing was in the large dining room the smallest one being used for suppers; the decorations and flowers were very pretty and there was plenty of cosy places for those who preferred sitting out to dancing. The band played web, very pretty if not specially new waltzes having been chosen.

The people older and more important than the bud . had two evenings all to themselves last week as two very pretty dinners of sixteen and twenty gues sie pectively were given. At the first the Saturday being the monthly Edgehill holiday, our little town looked very much alive and brightened by seventy gillish faces. Several gay parties were entertained at the different houses until nine o'clock the usual breaking up time.

The boys of the Collegiate school made a goodly showing as well, and certainly they are a band to be proud of. I believe the number is very large this year quite exceeding that of former years.

B. last Monday; she was accompanied by Mrs. Page who will visit her, and other friends in Sydney. 718 A church wedding always attracts a large crowd, and St. Andrews' was filled to its very doors yesterday evening, to witness the marriage of Mr. Bowzano Jaspersen and Miss Gertrude Kent. The pulpit and its vicinity were beautifully decorated with potted plants and cut flowers, the steps leading up to the desk, on both sides being completely banked. Mr. Cumming was waiting for the bridal party, which arrived promp:ly at half past seven, the bride leaning on the arm of her father and attended by her maids, her cousins Miss Maie Smith and Miss Clara King; the groom and his best man his brother Mr. Fred Jaspersen were in waiting and the nuptial knot was soon tied. As the bridal party entered the church and took their places beneath the large bell of natural flowers from the centre of which hung a worn out slipper, the organ, under Mr. E. R. Stuart's skilful manipulation pealed out Wagner's bridal march, from Tannehauser, and the choir sang the "Voice that breathed o'er Eden" at the conclusion of the ceremony, Mendelssohn's wedding march was played. The ushers were :--Messrs. C. R. Coleman, E. M. Fulton, Chas. Smith and J. Stanfield. Everyone agreed that it was the prettiest wedding ever seen in St. And rews. The bride looked lovely in cream silk, with trimmings of embroidered chiffon and ribbon, with the usual veil and orange blossoms and large bou, quet of white chrysanthemums and maiden hair fern; Miss Maie Smith wore a handsome gown of silk and wool ctoth, trimmed with bead passementerie and ribbon; Miss Clara King a gown of white Henrietta, with white velvet trimmings. The groom's gifts to the bride's maids were a diamond pin and a ring set with diamonds and pearls respectively. Immediately after the ceremony, the guests repaired to the residence of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Kent, where supper was partaken of and where Mr. and Mrs. Jaspersen was the recipients of congratulations. The gifts to the bride were unusually numerous and costly, and to enumerate them, would be a perplexing task. There was plate both in gold and solid silver, in abundance, inlaid tables and costly bric a brac, in every conceivable form, down quilts in satin, silken draperies and toilet and table linen of the most fine and delicate handiwork. The bride's going away dress was of navy blue broad cloth, with trimmings of tawn embroidered in navy blue, small navy hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Jas. persen left last night for Halifax, after a short stay there they proceed to Kingsville Ont., where they will reside this winter. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Walker Smith . Mr. and Mrs. Wentworth, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kent, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Kent, Mr. and Mrs. Geo' Kent, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. pale autumn leaves-no flowers being used; the can dle shi des were pale fieme color and were most becoming.

The autumn teas have already begun and two very pleasant little gatherings took place last week. On Tuesday energetic persons were here there and everywhere to see the capture and defence of the town; I hear the stay at homes had the best of it as there ware some hardships attached to a picnic lurcheon which was given in a nicely sheltered place.

The weather was most propitious for the King's | Trinity in absence of the rector. regiment sports on Friday atternoon the sight and the sports good. Every body was there of course the ladies looking smart in new au'umn toggery. Some wore light dresses but regretted it before the day was over as the sun vanished after four o'clock and they looked cold.

Excellent tea was served in a tent and was much appreciated for the suests had been standing father of decessed, in their sad bereavement. around or walking about till the tea, coffee, and delicious little cakes, which are a feature of the King's regiment teas, were very acceptable. Colonel Stone made an exectient host and was ably seconded by the officers.

After the sports most of the guests hastened home for a little rest before fong to a revival of "H. M. S. Pinafore," at the academy. The house was crowded and there were any number of thes tre parties, and a very fashionable and beautifully gowned audience. The familiar music took many back to years ago when the academy was new and "Pinafore" the great sensation of the hour. The stage was beautifully set and everything went with E. I. a snap. One sailor gave an excellent hompipe for which he was, very justly, enthusiastically encored.

The great event of the present week is the ball by Capt. Powell and the officers of the Crescent. When the invitations were first sent cut it was in | weeks. tended to be held at the Commissioners house in the Dockyard; but that proved to be to small for the number invited so notices were sent to al that it would be held in the masonic hall instead. There is only one drawback and that is there will be no sitting out places ontside, tho' no doubt John. mothers and chaperone s will rejoice over this as on these cool evenings it is scarcely safe to go from a heated ball room to the open air.

Capt. Semmini who was stationed here some years age with the Leicestershire regiment is to take Major Waldron's place some time next month.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Payzant are expected to arrive today or tomorrow. Miss Anna Stairs is also expected. She has been visiting in England for more than a year.
