Social and Personal.

With the approach of the long evenings matters social seem to be looking up, just as every body prophesied. Hallowe'en parties were the great features of the week just ended, and were enjoyed as only hallowe'en parties can be. The night was a perfect onethough perhaps a trifle too bright for those who wished to make the usual hallowe'en trip to the one, outside of a novel that ever tried it, so can't vouch for its reliability. No doubt there were many merry pranks indulged in at the various parties on that evening; at any rate they are all spoken of as particularly bright.

Ladies Day at the Union Club is, I believe, an annual affair, and is always a gala day for the lady friends of the members, all of whom have the privilege of inviting five ladies, There was a very large number present at Wednesday afternoon's reception, in fac, most people think far too many for comfort, but as nobody was willing to tay away in order that there might be less crowding, the crush that followed was unavoidable; the gentlemen arranged everything so nicely, however, that very little inconvenience was experienced; the function may be said to have been the most successful in the annals of the club's entertainments. The ladies were all elegantly gowned, the majority of the dresses being new; silks and velvets predominated and there was a pleasing and unusual variety in the colors worn-

The rooms were not elaborately decorated but everything was in excellent taste; palms and ferns

Priestley's "Eudora" Cloth

"Eudora," is the name of the new black dress fabric put upon the market by the Priestley's, whose famous dress goods are a household word all over the world. It is like their much esteemed Henrietta cloths; indeed, it has all their merits, and a few things which they lack. It is made in black only, it is a perfect dust shedder; has extra weight and width; and, fitting easily and draping gracefully it gives a distinction to the wearer which all of Priestley's goods confer. This is their excellence, which sets them apart from all other goods. "Eudora" is wrapped on "The Varnished Board," and Priestley's name is stamped on every five yards so that ladies cannot be deceived.
