The past ten days have been more than ordinarily dull, to all appearances, but there have been a number of small things given for the officers who leave on the 5th of December.

The largest tea of the week was given by Mrs. Robert Book at her pleasant home; it was a perfect afternoon for a tea and everybody seemed to enjoy themselves very much indeed; the table was prettily decorated with fruit and flowers and was loaded with delicacies. Mrs. Book was assisted by her daughter Miss Louise Book.

The marriage of Miss Annie Anderson and Mr. H. Johnson took place in Boston last week and was by all accounts a very pretty, quiet, wedding. The bride was beautifully attired and carried a very large shower bouquet. She looked it is said quite the prettiest bride of the season. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will return to Halifax early in December and will make their home here.

There were a couple of dinners last week—one on Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. Crichton and one during the week by Mrs. Montgomery-Moore; after the two performances of Faust there were several suppers, and on Saturday night there were four suppers after Yorkie's Love.

The engagement is announced of Mrs. Grace Unice, youngest daughter of Mr. Robt. Unice and Captain Morris H. A. Miss Unice will be greatly missed in society as she has ever been much admired.

There has not been an afternoon this week which could not boast of its five o'clock tea though none of them were very large. At one of these teas there was quite a new style of tea cloth to be seen. It was round instead of square and was made of white damask of which the design had been beautifully worked over in raised white embroidery. It was a very novel and effective piece of work and was made by the hostess herself.

On Thursday evening Lewis Morrison was accorded a royal welcome when he appeared as Mephisto in Faust. Never was there a better house and the gathering was an ultra fashionable one, and one could hardly realize that the performance was not in a metropolitan house. The broken scene was marvellous weird and blood curdling especially when all was darkness and nothing but the red glare on Mephisto as he stood on the mountain top calling on the fiends. Mr. Morrison was good at all times. His comedy was delicately and finely drawn, but he was pretty generally conceded, to be at his best in the third scene outside the church when Faust defies him. Miss Roberts had a difficult part. She was very good at times but was disappointing in the jewel scene. Faust's costumes were magnificent but no harder part could be found; it requires a master of elocution; the tendency is always to make it too whimsy so that it requires much strength and energy. Next to Mr. Morrison the gentleman who played Valentine seemed to give the most satisfaction.

A great many of our society people have left to spend the winter in Bermuda and other more congenial climes so no doubt we will be very quiet socially this winter.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Church of England Institute held a bazaar on the 22nd of December in the institute, the proceeds of which will go towards the funds of that building. The ladies are working very hard, and are desirous of making it a great success if possible. The dolls alone, of which there will be quite a number, both large and small, will prove quite an attraction; also the five o'clock tea-table. The Hon. Mrs. Montgomery Moore will preside over one of the fancy tables.

Captain Campbell, who spent the summer in the Rockies, where he has had very good sport, has returned to join his regiment before it leaves for Bermuda.

TRURO.

[Progress is for sale in Truro by G. O. Fulton and D. H. Smith & Co.]

Nov. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Whiston and Mr. and Mrs. Johnston, Halifax, were guests of friends at Stonycroft cottage, on Thursday and Friday of last week.

Miss Lena Fulton and her brother Mr. E. M. Fulton spent Thanksgiving with New Glasgow friends.

The marriage of Mr. F. B. Layton and Miss Lillian Smith was quietly solemnized last Wednesday evening, at the home of the bride's parents, Broadway Villa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thos. Cummings assisted by Rev. T. B. Layton, father of the groom. The bride was attired in her traveling suit of navy cloth, trimmings of fawn cloth, with cape and toque to match. After the ceremony and congratulations had been extended to the newly wedded couple, by the guests who comprised both the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties, an elaborate lunch was partaken of. The bride was the recipient of a very large number of handsome presents, in furniture, plate, china-ware, paintings and a large number of things, both useful and decorative. Mr. and Mrs. Layton left per C. P. R., for Halifax amid the best wishes of hosts of friends for long and continued happiness.

Mr. H. L. Sanford left on Monday last for his home in New York, he was accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. McKay.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Wilson had a pleasant surprise last Wednesday evening. It being the anniversary of their wedding, Mr. Phillips and Miss Wetmore got together a party of friends who called on them at their residence West Prince street where a very pleasant evening was spent in dancing and cards. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were the recipient of many mementos of the occasion, both handsome and unique. Among those present were, Dr. and Mrs. McKay, Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mrs. Geo. Campbell had a very pleasant evening last Friday, in honor of Mr. Leo Burrows, Halifax, who was a guest for a few days last week, at St. Andrews manse.

Mrs. Sam'l Riddle's residence was the scene of a pretty wedding, last Thursday afternoon; her daughter Maie was united in marriage to W. C. Sumner of Victoria Mills. The drawing-room, was beautifully decorated for the occasion, with palms, ferns, potted and cut flowers. The loveliness of the bride was much enhanced by her beautiful wedding gown, of white Irish poplin trimmed with real lace and passementerie beads carrying a large bouquet of white roses and maiden hair fern. The bride and groom were attended by the little niece and nephew of the bride, whose father Rev. W. C. Gonthier, of St. Stephen, N. B., tied the nuptial knot. The little maid was bewitching in buttercup silk, with trimmings of filmy lace, while her brother was very courtly in a velvet tuxelotry, they performed their duties gracefully. After the ceremony a dainty collation was served in the dining room. Among the guests were—Mrs. G. C. Mahon, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Sumner, Mrs.

WATERPROOF YET POROUS.

Admits the air and keeps out the water. . . . .

This may seem an impossibility, but it can be explained. The RIGBY process renders the fabric a non-absorbent and a repellent to water. It makes the material so that it will shed water like a duck's back, otherwise it is not changed in appearance or feeling. It permits the free respiration of the skin and at the same time it keeps you dry.

Made in all woollen materials, suitable for Ladies' and Gentlemen's Garments, Tweeds, Meltons, Serges, Mixtures, etc.

AMHERST.

[Progress is for sale at Amherst by Master A. D. Campbell.]

Nov. 27.—The large progressive whist party given last Wednesday evening by Mrs. R. C. Fuller at her home, Chiltern house, on Havelock street was an unusually smart and pleasant affair. Mrs. Fuller who is an interesting and gracious hostess, entered charmingly, and succeeded in giving in its way, the merriest party that her guests have enjoyed for a long time. As only married ladies were numbered among the hostess' guests, black gowns as usual had the monopoly, many of them being relieved with a pretty touch of color. The first prizes which were very pretty, were captured by Mrs. D. T. Chapman and Mr. W. T. Pipes. The consolation prizes going to Mrs. D. W. Robb and Mayor Curry. I understand the party was given in honor of Mrs. Nelson of Truro, who has been Mrs. Fuller's guest for the past week. Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Main, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Munro, Mr. and Mrs. E. Biden, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Chapman, Mayor and Mrs. Curry, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Robb, Mr. W. T. Pipes and Mr. John M. The Mission band of the Presbyterian church held their annual sale and tea this evening in the basement of the church. Mrs. Mowatt, who is president of the band, is assisted by a large staff of the young ladies of the congregation so no doubt the affair will meet with the success that those of former years have met with.

Mrs. Morris, who has been visiting friends in town, went to her home in Truro on Monday.

Miss Lander, who has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. T. S. Moore returned to her home in Norriok, Virginia on Friday.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. C. S. McLeod gave a delightful party at her residence on Church street, that was a very merry and pleasant event, given for her visitor, Miss Lizzie Hawker of St. John. The hostess has a charming way of entertaining and was assisted by her sister, Miss McLeod, who is among our leading belles and looked well in a gown of cream silk and black lace. Miss Hawker wore a most becoming dress of pale blue crepon with trimmings of pale blue satin ribbon. Miss Lillian Nelson was another charming acquisition to our general list of guests, looked very pretty in a gown of salmon and blue. The other guests were—Mrs. M. Main, Miss Main, Miss Fipes, Miss Rhoda Sutcliffe, Miss Harris, Miss Munro, Miss Ella Hillson, Miss Powell, Miss Chapman, Miss Jessie McLeod, and Mr. J. R. Douglas, Mr. H. A. Lushy, Mr. H. L. Lushy, Mr. J. M. Curry, Mr. T. S. Sayre, Mr. Wilson, Mr. Purdy, Mr. E. M. Lockwood, Messrs. Main, Mr. Joe Douglas, Mr. W. Murray, Mr. Kindman, Mr. Moore, Dr. Hall, Mr. Kempton and Dr. McCully were among the gentlemen present.
