The two at bomes on Saturday afternoon of last week did not interfere with one another in the least and both were well attended. The Crescents tea was quite one of the nicest things that have taken place this summer, and no one can complain in the least of any want of gaiety in Halifax. It really gives one an impression that either Halifax is fearfully wicked, as compared with other cities or else the other towns are fearfully slow and hum drum with little teas, picnics and an occasional reception of the most diminutive dimensions. However, to return to the Crescent; the weather was perfect and every arrangement was made for the pleasure of the guests. The ship looked lovely with vast quantities of flowers and many flags. All kinds of comfortable little seats and cosy nooks were scattered everywhere, cushions an flags being their chief coverings. Everybod seemed to be on board the crescent and there wer many strangers; prominent among the American people were : Mrs. Lay and Mrs. Jackson, both of whom were very much admired. The event of the afternoon was the setting off of two torpedoes, both being done by ladies. Mrs. Montgomery Moore set off the first, and Lady Walker (who with Sir Mark Walker spent the whole afternoon on board) the second. The explosions were most successful, sending great columns of spray into the air, to the delight of many people who had never seen torpedo practice.

There any amount of ladies present, and of course any amount of smart and pretty frocks. Lady Walker and Mrs. Montgomery Moore were both quite plainly if hands mely dressed, while Miss F. Colbourne was looking very well in a pretty gown. Mrs. James Morrow was in black, with a large black and pink hat which was most becoming. Mrs. J. E. Kenny wore quite a lovely dress, of an indescribable color known, I think, as gorge de pig- ma and Lillian Snook, Miss Tibbitts (Lynn Mass) and Mrs. Jas. Gabriel.

But I got a bottle of your MIN-ARD'S LINIMENT, and within three days my child was all right and I feel so grateful that I wis you to use this testimonial, so that others may learn the merits of your wonder/ul iinbroidery; Mrs. Kenny had with her Miss Howard, who looked very nice in a girlish toilette.

Mrs. M. R. Morrow wore one of the handsomest dresses of the day, a very pretty yellow musin with yellow lace and black ribbons, and among the smart linen coats and skirts Mrs. O'Dwyer's red and white one was noticeable. There were not quite so many white duck suits as usual, though they were to be seen, and one very pretty and tresh one worn by a young girl was for once most becoming. White duck as a rule is not a flattering material to the wearer. Miss Wickwire wore a very smart little gown, and Miss Moir and Miss Uniacke both looked very well, while Miss Worsley looked really lovely in heliotrope muslin with a large black hat.

Miss Henry was another lady who was very well gowned, and Mrs. A. Doull was looking very nice in an extremely pretty frock. Miss Daly was very their Truro friends. Mrs. W. E. Bligh gave a charming tennis tea at her home Dominion St., on Monday last. The courts were in perfect condition and the playing ex-cellent. After several exciting games tea was prettily dressed in a frock with much pale blue about it, and looked particulalry well

The Wanderers are indeed to be congratulated on the very successful termination of their "at home" on the same afternoon as that on which the Crescent entertained its visitors. Of course one descrip. tion of costumes will suffice as those worn at both were the same. The arrangement made by the Wanderers committee were perfect in every detail | rectory. and it is hard to say at which place the guests were made to feel most at home. One advantage which it gave in holding both affairs on the same day was that neither was uncomfortably crowd d as the visitors kept on the move between the two places. For brilliancy these two events are quite equal to any others so far this season.

Mrs. M. R. Morrew and Miss E. Stairs gave a very pleasant dinner picnic party across the Arm on Thursday, and I heard of one small dance on Tuesday at which there were a very select few. Miss Blanche Wiswell gave a small but pleasant dance on Wednesday last, which was much enjoyed by the young people.
