A LIFE SAVED

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Several years ago, I caught a severe cold, attended with a terrible cough that allowed me no rest, either day or night. A friend, learning of my trouble, sent me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. By its use I was completely cured, and I believe it saved my life."—W. H. Ward, 6 Quincy Ave., Lowell, Mass.

PETITODIA.

Nov. 6.—It has been infernally dull but there is promise of diversion in the shape of a few parties since Mrs. M. A. Freeze "set the ball rolling" by entertaining a number of young ladies and gentlemen to a most enjoyable affair on Friday evening last. As it was not a large party, the dresses worn were not elaborate, though most becoming to the wearers. Miss Alice Trites wore a black dress with pink moire sailor collar trimmed with jet. Miss Eugenia Walsh looked well in a combination costume of fawn cashmere and silk trimmed with velvet.

The guests were:—Mrs. McDonald, Miss Moore, Miss Trites, Miss Walsh, Miss Blakely, Miss Curry, Miss Smith, Miss Annie Smith, Miss McRae, St. John, Miss Keith, Miss Avar, Miss Crichton, and Messrs. Smith, Colpitts, Jones, H. Smith, J. Jones, Hughes, Ryan, and Keith. Refreshments were served at twelve and the party broke up at one o'clock.

Mrs. and Miss Webster are visiting friends in Sussex.

Mrs. G. M. Blakely has gone to Fredericton to attend her son, who has been very ill with typhoid fever.

Miss Edna and Mamie Trites entertained a few of their young lady friends on Halloween. Candy making was the chief amusement, though there was gaiety afterwards. I hear such as are best for that particular day of the year.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Emmerson on the arrival of a son.

KINGSTON.

ST. STEPHEN AND CALAIS.

[Progress is for sale in St. Stephen by Master Ralph Trainor, and at the bookstores of R. S. Daggett, G. S. Wall and J. Vroom & Co. In Calais at C. P. Treat's.]

Nov. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. James G. Stevens gave a most delightful party on Friday evening at their residence. There were forty guests. What was the amusement of the evening, and the party was given for the pleasure of Mrs. John Black's guests.

Mr. E. Q. Hill, on Saturday evening, entertained at his residence in Calais a party of gentlemen friends, who enjoyed themselves greatly with whist. A fine supper was served at eleven o'clock. The gentlemen who were present at this jolly party were: Messrs. W. H. Cole, D. M. Gardner, F. T. Pote, J. M. Johnson, C. J. Lyford, J. Webber, L. A. Gould, Stephen Gardner, J. E. Duren, C. E. Hayden, George Tarbox, Frank Washburn, Walter Pike, H. W. Gillespie, W. A. Waldron.

Collector and Mrs. Graham gave an exceedingly pleasant tea party at their home on Thursday evening last. After tea whist occupied the rest of the evening. This pleasant party was in honor of Mrs. Simpson and Miss Simpson, of Charlottetown.

Through the invitation of Miss Nellie Robinson, a jolly party left town on Halloween to enjoy a hay cart ride to Oak Bay to the summer cottage of Mr. John B. Robinson. On their arrival, they partook of a delicious supper, and the evening was devoted to fun of all kinds—that was full of mystery and dread. It was a charming moonlight night, just the sort of a night for a hay cart ride, and at 12 o'clock, that witching hour, several young ladies visited a spring some distance from the cottage to look into its depths, to see if they might not see a little sweetheart. Each lady went alone, and on their return were rather silent on what they saw, but one strong minded lively girl declared she saw nothing but the face of the "man in the moon," as it was reflected in the shining depths below.

Several other thrilling trials of courage were made to decide their future, when it was suddenly announced it was time to return home, which they accordingly did, arriving here at an early hour in the morning. This was one of the most enjoyable outings that has been given for many weeks, and many pleasant comments have been made in regard to the charming manner Miss Robinson was of entertaining.

A Japanese Halloween party was a novel and charming entertainment given by Miss Flora Cooke, to a number of her young lady friends on Thursday evening. The house was prettily decorated with ivy chrysanthemums, and Japanese ornaments and lanterns. A number of golden colored pumpkins were scooped out, eyes, nose and mouth, carved in a most ridiculous style on one side, each had a candle placed inside. These were arranged in different conspicuous places through the house, and produced a most grotesque effect, making much fun and laughter. The evening was devoted to Halloween games and tricks. Supper was served at eleven o'clock. It was a most happy affair, Miss Cooke being a graceful hostess, understanding quickly what pleased each guest, and making one and all enjoy themselves extremely.

Mrs. John Sears invited a large party of friends to enjoy a game supper at her residence one evening last week. Mr. Sears is an enthusiastic sportsman, and the game was the result of his good luck on a hunting expedition a few days before.

Mrs. Willard Pike entertained the F. U. S. club at her residence on Wednesday evening.

A number of young people enjoyed a Halloween party in a large empty building near the Shore Line depot on Thursday evening. The hall was prettily decorated with flags and colored paper, which gave it a gay appearance. A basket supper was served at midnight. I hear it was a jolly affair and greatly enjoyed.

THINGS OF VALUE.

Christmas trees by the hundreds are being marketed for harvest in Maine. In a few weeks the crop will be started toward New York and other big cities.

Why suffer from weak nerves, want of appetite, and general debility, letting the loss of sleep and rest impoverish the system, and thin the blood, when such a really meritorious remedy as Northrup & Lyman's Quinine Wine may be had at any drug store. This article is recommended by the highest members of the medical faculty in cases of indigestion, general debility, loss of appetite, and nervous prostration, all kinds. It is also specially beneficial to children, and delicate females and to business men, students, and to those who are overworked.

It will strengthen you, keep your system in regular order, and enable you to successfully grapple with the work you have to do. It is pleasant to the taste and contains nothing injurious to the most delicate constitution. Remember to ask for Quinine Wine, prepared by Northrup & Lyman, Toronto, and we are sure you will be satisfied that you have full value for your money. Druggists sell it.

The real object of education is to give children resources that will endure as long as life endures; habits that time will ameliorate, not destroy; occupations that will render sickness tolerable, solitude pleasant, and death less terrible.

Many people, when a little constipated, make the mistake of using saline or other drastic purgatives. All that is needed is a mild dose of Ayer's Pills to restore the regular movement of the bowels, and nature will do the rest. They keep the system in perfect order.

It always grieves me to contemplate the initiation of children into the ways of the world when they are scarcely more than infants. It checks their confidence and simplicity, two of the best qualities that heaven gives them, and demands that they should be wise before they are capable of entering into our enjoyments.—Dickens.

"Turn the rascals out!"—the familiar party-cry—may be applied to microbes as well as to men. The germs of disease that lurk in the blood are "turned out" by Ayer's Sarsaparilla as effectually as the old postmasters are displaced by a new administration.

The race of mankind would perish did they cease to eat and drink. Food is the first thing that binds the child's heart, fills the man's mind that some kind assistance will bring the food of the divine one, we cannot exist without help. All therefore, that need have a right to ask it from their fellow-mortals, no one who holds the power of granting can refuse it without guilt.—Sir Walter Scott.

Do not wear impermeable and tightfitting hats that constrict the blood vessels of the scalp. Use Hall's Hair Renewer occasionally, and you will not be bald.

Cholera morbus, cramps and kindred complaints usually make their appearance at the same time as the hot weather, cramp, cramps, cholera, and cholera, and many persons are debarred from eating and drinking food, and never would not abstain. If they have Dr. J. D. Kellogg's dysentery Cordial, and take a few drops in water. It cures the cramps and cholera in a few minutes, and is sure to check every disturbance of the bowels.

A fool squanders away, without credit or advantage to himself, more than a man of sense spends with both. The latter employs his money, he does his time, and never spends a shilling of the one, nor a minute of the other, but in something that is either useful or rationally pleasing to himself or others.—Chatterbox.

For an Aque and Bilious Derangement are positively cured by the use of Parnell's Pills. They not only cleanse the stomach and bowels from all bilious matter, but they open the excretory vessels, causing them to pour copious effusions from the blood into the bowels, after which the corrupted mass is thrown out by the natural passage of the body. They are used as a general family medicine with the best results.

Games not only keep a man in health, but give him spirit for his work; they teach him how to get on with his men; to give way in defeat, to give and to take; to work to an extremity.—Sir John Lubbock.

Mr. Thomas Ballard, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I have been afflicted for nearly a year with that most distressing disease Dyspepsia, and at times worn out with pain and want of sleep, and after trying all most everything recommended, I tried one box of Parnell's Valuable Pills. I am now nearly well, and believe they will cure me. I would not be without them for any money."

Another of Dickens' famous London taverns is threatened with extinction. The Old Inn which is the Old Sol's Arm's mentioned in "Bleak House" as the scene of the request, has been boarded up prior to being pulled down.

Difference of Opinion regarding the popular internal and external remedy, Dr. THOMAS' KIDNEY PILLS.—Do not so far as known, exist. The testimony is positive and unanimous that the article relieves rheumatic pain, cures lameness, checks a cough, is an excellent remedy for pains and rheumatic complaints, and it has no nauseous or other unpleasant effect when taken internally.

The devotion of a colic to his master is to be rewarded by a statue in Cypress Hills Cemetery, Brooklyn. The dog was owned by J. George Burke, and when he died two years ago it with touching fidelity found its way to and died on the grave. So it was decided to reproduce the dog in statuary.

Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters.

Mr. J. Martin, Notary Public, King St., East, Toronto, writes and says: I was suffering from Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach and torpid liver for years. I was advised to try Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters, which I did, and a few bottles have completely cured me. 50 cents per bottle, for sale by druggists. There is None Just as Good; the only Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters. Allan & Co., 53 Front St., East, Toronto, proprietors.
