The past week has been quite festive in a small way and a number of small things have been on The first to record being the rink party given by the officers of the staff and departments last Saturday. The ice was perfect, the music excellent and the lighting of the rink particularly pretty. The entrance was brightly lighted, artistically decorated with flags and bunting; a chandelier had been placed there for the occasion and added greatly to the appearance of the supper table and was a won derful improvement. The hosts were very energetic in locking after their guests for whom they provided an excellent supper including, hot soup, hot claret, sandwiches, cake and sweets. A very large number of people were present both as spectators and skaters and the band played so well that almost as much dancing was done in the large square part of the gallery by the non skaters as by those on the ice. The people looked very nice, as a rule, though the onlowing were well wrapped up from cold. Some very pretty costumes were seen on the ice all o! them exceeding chic and becoming. A large number of ladies were wearing silk blouses, and many pretty hats and toques brightened up the gen.

Monday afternoon Mrs. Montgomery-Moore gave her usual weekly tea from four to sever. A large number of people attended and the after loon was very pleasant. It will not be long before this hospitable lady will be off for England and her weekly doings have grown so popular they will be much missed. There was also a dinner at Bellevue dur_ ing the week for some of those who left later for Mrs. Fred Jones gave a charming tea at her residence on Morris street, lately at which a num ber o'men were presen', always a sign of a favorite hostess. The tea table was beautifully arranged with cut flowers, surrounding the lighted silver candelabra, and its handsome silver service. Miss Lawson in an elegant gown presided. Miss Jones was assisted in receiving by her sister Miss Nagle while master Alfred and the little Misses Jones were present and rendered material service in helping pass around the dainties. A new feature of this tea was the "Roman Punches" served in dainty little china dishes.

Major and Mrs. Longe, who have been on this station for a number of years, expect to leave Halifax in about two weeks time. Both Major and Mrs. Loage have made a number of friends in Halifax, and they will be much missed.

Colonel Isaacson left by the steamer Taymouth Castle on Thursday of last week on a short visit to Bermuda. He will return via New York, where he intends remaining some weeks before again return-

Mr. Motton of the flag ship Crescent, who has been spending a short time in Halifax, left on the same steamer.

Miss Kenny's marriage to Mr. Briceson of the Royal navy takes place in England this month. Mrs. Kenny is at present in England and Miss Kenny sailed last Saturday to join her, a small tea being given in her honor on Thursday evening.

On Friday there was another tea and there have been any amount of luncheon and poker parties so that the charge of dulness did not apply (to the

This week the only breaks were Madame Albani's concerts. The houses on both evenings were unusually pretty as the majority of the audience were in evening dress.

The ball spoken of for Easter week has been postponed _indefinitely, or rather [[until the ar. rival of the ships from Bermuda so that there would be no scarcity of men for as things stand now there are twice as many dancing ladies as men.

The Sergeants of the Berkshire regiment gave a very enjoyable ball last Friday evening in Free. mason's hall which was elaborately decorated with flags, bunting and designs made from sword guns, bayonets and ram rods. The names of the principle battles won by the regiment were displayed on the walls painted on white and gold shields. [The supper was laid in the hall in the basement, and was a very excellent one. The gentlemen's smoking room was off the supper hall and the ladies light refreshment room off the dancing hall which was beautifully decorated with cut flowers, potted plants terns and banners. There was also displayed fine s ilver cups won by the Sergeants in rifle competitions in Gibraltar, Malta and Bermuda. The Ser geants who managed this very brilliant and successful aff ir were : Color Sergt. Bestley, Sergt. Giles, Sergt. Charlton, Sergt. Day. Sergt. Davis, Sergt. Jordon. The order of dances was as follows, polks quadrille, valse, le militaire, d'albert, highland schottische, valse, lancers. valse, maz irka, valse, les pasteremes, le militaire, valse, flancers, mazurka, les pasteremes, valse, scottische, d'albert, valse, circassian circle.

The professors and students of Pane hill college gave a very brilliart conversazione last week the first that has been given in this institution and now that it was such a charming success no coubt such events will be continued at intervals. The clergymen of the different denominations were inv.ted and nearly all attended. Over five hundred invitations were issued and more than four hundred was accepted. The guests were received in the library by President Pollok, D. D., Professor Currie, D. D. and Professor Gorden, D. D. Then they spread over the building, a joyous and brilliant company of dadies and gentlemen, admiring first the pretty decorations which had been made. Bunting was greatly in evidence, the library decorations in this respect being particularly effective. Masses of tropical plants and evergr en foliage completed a very pretty picture. The company spent the hours from 8 30 to 11 30 mainly in enjoying the exhiliration of bright conversation and agreeable acquain tance-making. Samuel Crawford, whose voice is ever welcome, sang that song which he has made such a favorite, "Dye ye mind the days o' lang, syne," and was warmly applauded. Principal Pollok made a brief speech in the doc or's usually witty style; Premier Fielding gave a short address; Miss Eva Waddell recited. This was the extent of the fixed programme, for in "the flow of wit and feast of reason" which prevailed there was not room for more. The students and professors are to be congratulated on the success of the conversazionc.

APRIL 2 .- Two very smart teas came off on Wednesday afternoon up town which were very happily planned as regards time and guests so that both proved most successful events. Mrs. G. B. Smith's pretty home was the : esort for a goodly number of elderly matrons at five o'clock who without doubt were charmingly entertained. Mrs. H. J. Logan served tea a little later to many of her married friends; the gracious young hostess was assisted by Miss Lowerrison and Miss Hillson who poured tea, Mr. J. M. Curry and Mr. F. W. B. Moore performing the new role of tray bearers.

Invitations have been received by a large number of society folk to the ball which comes off at Dorchester next Thursday evening and I am told that they purpose going.
