with a delight/ul dance at the beme of a graceful and popular young hostess, to be followed Tuesday evening by a childrens party at the same hospitable home. Thursday afternson was an exceedingly busy one for those ladies who were interested in the sale at Stone church and who had also been invited to a pretty tea given on the same afternoon A few weeks ago PROGRESS described the decorations suitable for a pink tea and since then has had several requests for ideas and suggesa tions upon this matter. The following charming scheme may be used for the decoration of a dinner d table lighted by a hanging lamp and would certainly be very effective and pretty if tastefully carried out. A green and white wicker basket wreathed with trails of asparagus, fern and smilax, and fi led with white flowers and ferns, and sprays of ivy and herberis, hung from the lamp, the handle tied with bright yellow satin ribbons. The table center is of vellow brocade, cut in star shape and bordered with narrow silver galon. Trails of smilax and fern tied with bows of yellow ribbon are arranged round the desert dishes, and silver dishes containing salted almonds and bonbons are placed at the point of the star-shaped center. Tuesday evening the Babjo club met with Miss McMillan and enjoyed an excellent practice. On Friday atternoon Miss Dever had a pleasant tea, and as the day w s delightfolly fine a large number of ladies were present. News of the death of Mrs. F. T. C. Burpee at her daughter's home in England, has been received in this city, and caused very deep regret among a very large circle of friends.

Last Monday even ng Mrs. W. E. Vroom and Miss Mello Vroom gave a delightful little dance in honor of Mr. Heber Vroom who was home from Halifax for the Easter holidays and that it was gotten up at short notice did not detract in the least from the enjoyment of the guests; very bright music was turnished the dancers and an inviting supper was served about midnight. As it was the first little dissipation after the lenten quietness it was thoroughly enjoyed. Mrs. Vroom was looking particularly well in black duchesse satin and point lace while Miss Mello Vroom was very charming in black with a pretty green silk bodice. The rooms were very tastefully arranged. Among those present were Miss May Blair, Miss Mary Warner, Miss Markh m, Miss McMillan, Miss Furlong, Miss Parks, Miss Travers, Miss Lena Dunn, Miss Jessie Walker Miss Markland, Mass Tuck, Miss Christie, Mrs. Simonds, Messrs. S. MacMillan. L. P. D, Tilley, Puddington, Dr. Travers, N. Parks, Blair, Hart, J. Harri son, W. Barrison, Markham, McKean, T. Jones, W. Clark, Mr. Tracey, Halifax; C. DeBury, W. Purdy. On the following evening a party of little folks were entertained by Mrs. and Miss Vroom and the evening was spent it dancing and games. That it was a delightful occasion goes without saying. The little maidens were looking very bright and dainty and enjoyed themselves just as much as the guests of the previous evening. Dainty refreshments were youthful guests were: Miss Violet Simonds, Miss Nan and Ileen Taylor were all wearing May Harrison, Miss Constance and Miss Amy
