In another fortnight society will be at a loss to dispose of its afternoons. The skating once over here is nothing to take up spare time but visiting and walking, and people living on the outskirts of the town suddenly find their "days" most popular. It is quite true that a golf club and a bicycle club are to be started, but people are progressing very fast or are to be very comprehensive when they do arrive at a settled footing. Miss Colborne has been the pioneer lady as regards golf, just as Mrs. Erskine has in bicycling.

Just now, while the roads are bad and no one has invested in a bicycle, at least one or two afternoons a week are taken up with sewing parties for the Sailors' Home bazaar. If everything is to be ready by June the ladies interested will have very few leisure moments, for the time is anything but long. I hear that the ladies of the Montgomery Moore's stall are thinking of appearing with red mess jackets, white skirts and uniform caps, instead of the sailor dresses which are to be worn by all the other stall holders; the exact costume has not yet been fixed on, and there are grave doubts if one company of charming soldiers would not break the effect in the marching of the mass of lady-sailors. Mrs. Montgomery Moore goes to England in April, but will be back in time to take charge of her stall in the bazaar, as she is much interested in the Sailors' Home. There are several contributions coming for it too from old residents of Halifax now in England, so that there are certain to be novelties at nearly all the stalls.

The rink parties given on Wednesday night by the civilian subscribers to the private afternoons was one of the brightest and most cheerful of the season. To begin with, the ice was perfect, just wet enough and not too wet, and then the sixtieth band played most admirably and with such a swing that every waltz was skated by most people without a pause from start to finish.

Refreshments were served in the usual place just inside the entrance to the rink, instead of up-stairs as at the last rink party. This leads, of course, to more of a crowd in an always crowded place, but then it saved people having to get up stairs in their skates, which many ladies hate doing. The hosts of Wednesday evening looked after their guests capitally, and as there was plenty of men very few ladies stood out at all. As for non-skaters, they seemed to pass their time very satisfactorily in the gallery, which is big enough to afford "solitude for two" to any amount of people.

There were the usual amount of pretty frocks worn, but I saw no really new gowns—make up for which nearly every lady was wearing a brand new hat.

Last Saturday night the club gave their rink party which was an excellent one and every detail was very nicely arranged. The invitation list was quite a long one and the hours on the card were from eight to eleven; these the guests were obliged to present at the doors. The Berkshire regiment band gave some excellent music. The hosts of the evening were, Colonel Creagh, Colonel Shannon, Surgeon-Colonel O'Dwyer, Major Longe, Major Hamilton Smythe, Major Trotman, Surgeon Major Lees Hal, Captain Colbourne, Captain Semlin, Surgeon Captain Drew Moir, Captain Au sine and Captain Hardy.

There have been the usual innocuous and teas during the week, but the ones in that line are rather dull and will be until Easter week. Among others a very pleasant "smal" tea was given on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Moren, to which both ladies and men were invited, though the former predominated. The tea table I hear, looked very pretty, and Mrs. Moren was assisted by Miss Graham and Miss Townsend as tea makers.

After Easter there are to be a couple of large "at homes" given, and while Madame Albini is here there will be a small party given for her by a Halifax "adv. an old friend of the singer. It all goes well the Easter holidays will be very nice ones, as there will be a ladies' subscription dance besides one in a private house. This is welcome news after a dull winter, and with every prospect of a quiet spring, a number of people are in mourning, and the other possible hostesses are gone away. Among the people who will be absent in England during the spring and early summer are General and Mrs. Montgomery Moore and Captain and Mrs. F. Colborne, as well as Mrs. and Miss Daisy and the Misses Kenny. Mrs. and Miss Wickwire, and Miss Grice Harvey are still others who are going across in the spring exodus.

DISEASED LUNGS CURED BY TAKING AYER'S Cherry Pectoral.

"I contracted a severe cold, which settled on my lungs, and I did what is often done in such cases, neglected it. I then consulted a doctor, who found, on examining me, that the upper part of the left lung was badly affected. The medicine he gave me did not seem to do any good, and I determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking a few doses my trouble was relieved, and before I had finished the bottle I was cured."
