CURED BY TAKING
AYER'S Sarsaparilla
"I was afflicted for eight years with Salt Rheum. During that time, I tried a great many medicines which were highly recommended, but none gave me relief. I was at last advised to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished the fourth bottle, my hands were as Free from Eruptions as ever they were. My business, which is that of a cab-driver, requires me to be out in cold and wet weather, often without gloves, but the trouble has never returned."—THOMAS A. JOHNS, JAN. 15.—Mrs. Peter McWeeney gave a very delightful "At Home" on Wednesday evening. At her handsome residence on Queen street. The function was in honor of her daughters the Misses and Cora, and Wilhelm McWeeney and I fancy it was numbered as their "coming out" dance. The guests numbered between 30 and 40. Mr. and Mrs.

McWeeney are always ideal hosts, so it is scarcely necessary to say that everyone enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

Miss Patterson of Campbellton is spending a few days in town visiting her friend Miss Henderson of Bonaventure street.

The many friends of Mrs. Faulk, will hear with deep regret of her serious illness. Mrs. Faulk is an aged lady, and her condition is such as to cause grave anxiety to her friends.

The funeral of the late Mrs. G. Fred Atkinson who died in Montreal last week, took place on Wednesday from the residence of her father Mr.
Stephen Peters and was largely attended. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. John Read, pastor of Wesley Memorial church. The fact that Mrs.
Atkinson's six brothers acted as pall bearers was sufficiently unusual to be worthy of note.

Miss Constance Chandler of Dorchester, who has been visiting her sister Mrs. R. W. Hewson of Alma street, returned home on Thursday.

Miss Laura Deacon of Shediac, is spending a week or two in town the guest of her aunt Mrs. J. H.
Rogers of Pleasant street.

Christmas holidays at her home in Moncton, returned to Halifax on Friday to resume her studies at the Halifax Ladies college.

Mr. Fred S. Walker of the Merchant's Bank of Halifax, at Sackville paid a short visit to Moncton on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harry Watts are being warmly congratulated upon a new arrival in their family circle. The latest acquisition is a boy.

Mrs. L. Archibald of Antigonish, who spent a few days in town lately, this guest of her sister Mrs.
P. S. Archibald, returned home on Friday.

The many friends of Mr. Will Bruce of the Bank of Montreal staff, son of Mr. J. H. Bruce I. C. R. auditor, will regret to hear that he met with a very painful, though not serious accident while playing hockey at the Victoria rink on Friday evening. During the excitement of the game he struck violently against one of the posts of the rink, breaking his collar bone. Unfortunately he will be laid up for some weeks.

The orchestra gave their long promised concert last evening, and to say that it was an unqualified success, is but faint praise! The opera house was well filled and that the audience was a thoroughly appreciated one was evidenced by the frequent and enthusiastic applause which greeted the different performers. The first piece on the programme after the overture, was a baritone solo "Happy Three" by Mr. George Daniel, which was warmly received, and after the orchestra had rendered the "Fellowships" march with great spirit, Mrs. Daniel delighted the audience with "Il Bacio" and in response to a tumultuous encore kindly gave "Oh Promise Me" never has Mrs. Daniel's fine voice been heard to greater advantage, than in both these songs. Mr.
Wetmore sang Schubert's beautiful "Serenade" with great taste and expression, and the vocal part of the programme was concluded by the trio from "Aida" with Mrs. Daniel soprano, Mr. Wetmore tenor, and Mr. Daniel baritone, which received an enthusiastic encore. All the numbers were sung with full orchestral accompaniment.

A notable feature of the entertainment was the cornet solo "Songs of Long Ago" by the most youthful performer who, I believe, has ever appeared before a Moncton audience. This very young musician was Master Frank McMurray of Salisbury and his performance would have done credit to many a grown up musician, he was obliged to respond to a very imperative encore, and narrowly escaped being called out a third time. The act comedy "The Thumping Legacy," which concluded the entertainment was short, crisp and bristling with inn, every part being well received. The scene is laid in Corsica and the lot turns upon the inevitable Corsican Vendetta which seems to descend to every respectable native of that bloodthirsty island, just as consumption or lunacy, descends to the denizens of more peaceful, and prosaic countries.

Mrs. C. A. Murray made a charming Rosetta and sustained her part as heroine of the piece nobly, Mr.
J. H. Watts made a most imposing Brighella, and Dr. C. A. Murray was gloom and vindictive in his selfish Bambaogetti, the untamed lover of Rosetta.
Mr. E. A. Wilkinson fully sustained his reputation as one of the best amateur actors in town, in the part of Filippo the landlady, Mr. W. D. Foster played the part of Cap. Leon Rosetta's favored suitor to the life. Messrs. Chas. Peters and Reginald Walker made imposing carabinieri and Mr. A. T. Steed fairly earned the enviable position of star of the evening by his clever impersonation of "Jerry Opins" alias Gerolamo, the degenerate nephew of the house of tironio, who obstinately declines either to kill or be killed by one of his hereditary enemies of the house of Leon in order to avenge a fancied slight to one of his ancestors, who flourished only three hundred years ago. The happy playing of the orchestra added greatly to the attraction of the entertainment, and they are to be warmly congratulated upon their success.

Very Hard indeed.

There are so many things that appear unnecessary, and which for the life of us can see neither purpose nor end. It may be corns or it may be sores on the flesh or the new and the whereof of which we cannot see. Nevertheless they are of the kind that are easily removed. Putnam's Corn Extractor makes a corn or a sore of the kind that is easily removed. Try it and see how easily it works out. Use none other than Putnam's Corn Extractor. Sold by druggists.

Odesa is to hold a French industrial exhibition, Why suffer from weak nerves, want of appetite, and general debility, the loss of sleep and rest, impoverish the system, and thin the blood, when such a really meritorious remedy as Northrup & Lyman's Quinine Wine may be had at any drug store. This article is recommended by the highest members of the medical faculty in cases of indigestion, general debility, loss of appetite, and nervous affections of all kinds. It is also specially beneficial to children, and delicate females, and to business men, students, and to those who have much brain work. We would say, "Never be without it." It will strengthen you, keep your system in regular order, and enable you to successfully grapple with the work you have to do.

It is pleasant to the taste and contains nothing injurious to the most delicate constitution. Remember to ask for Quinine Wine, prepared by Northrup Miss Sibyl Sanderson's ambition is to become a singer. At the Paris grand opera, recently she tried the part of Giulio in "Rigoletto."

The folly of prejudice is frequently shown by people who prefer to suffer for reasons than try an advertised remedy. The millions who have no such notions, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla for blood diseases, and are cured. So much for common sense.

Garner has improved on his monkey story; he is starting a monkey school in Calcutta, where apes will be taught to read.

Nearly all infants are more or less subject to diarrhoea and such complaints while teething, and at such periods of their lives is the most critical, mother should not be without a bottle of Dr. J. D.
Kellogg's Dr. Kellogg's Cordia. This medicine is a specific for such complaints and is highly spoken of by those who have used it. The proprietors claim it will cure any case of cholera, or summer complaint.

Golf is played under difficulties at Bulawayo, as the natives have taken a fancy to the balls, and lie in wait for them in bush near by. They pierce a hole through the balls and string them with the beads of their necklaces.

Fagged Out.—None but those who have become fagged out, know what a depressed, miserable feeling it is. All strength is gone, and dependency has taken hold of the sufferers. They feel as though there is nothing to live for. There, however, is a cure—one box of Parmentier's Vegetable Pills will do wonders in restoring health and strength. Mandrake and Dandelion are two of the articles entering into the composition of Parmentier's Pills.

the blood is thus purified, and the system is Presbyterian vigor in invective has not degenerated in Scotland. A Glasgow minister, who opposed total abstinence, was described lately in the pulpit as "A white-choked blasphemer engaged in raising a question to lead."

For Nine Years.—Mr. Samuel Lyman, Theodor, writes: "For nine years I suffered with ulcerated sores on my legs; I expended over $100 to physicians, and tried every preparation I heard of, or saw recommended for such disease, but could get no relief. I at last was recommended to give Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil a trial, which has resulted, after using only a bottle (using it internally and externally), in a complete cure. I believe it is the best medicine in the world, and I write this to let others know what it has done for me."
