MARCH, 18.-A party of ladies and gentlemen drove to the Ledge on Monday afternoon and partook of a delicious supper at the residence of Mrs Scott, the popular game of "New Market," was the evenings entertainment and the party did not return to town until a late hour. A novel entertainment, was a "Studio Reception" given by Mr. Charles G. Pike, in his Art store one evening last week. The store was most artistically adorned for the occasion with flowers palms and elegant draperies of beautiful designs. A most dainty supper was served to the guests and the re ception is said to be one of the most attractive and delightful, given in Calais this season.

The ladies of the Union street bar tist church are arranging to give a "Birthday Party" in their vestry at an early date, for the pleasure of the congregation of their church. The preparations are most elaborate and much pleasure is antic pated.

The current News club met this week at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Ross and enjoyed their usual pleasant evening.

A very happy wedding party assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Kirke on Wed nesday evening to witness the marriage of their grand daughter Miss Mildred Mabel Kirke to Mr. Frenk Edward Macartney. At eight o'clock the bride leaning on the arm of the groom entered the drawing room. They were preceded by little Miss Armour McVey who was attired in pale pink silk and carried a basket of pink and white roses which she scattered before the brite. They were tollowed by the bridesmaid Miss Mamie Watson, and the groomsman Mr. Leonard T. Farris. The bridal party stood under a beautiful wedding bell of white roses in the deep bay window. The bride was elegantly attired in a gown of white satin brocade en tulle veil, and wreath of orange 1 lossoms and car ried a boquet of brides roses. The bridesmaid looked lovely in a dainty dress of white mull trimmed with valenciennes lace, and carried a be quet of pale pink roses. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Ladd of the Methodist church Calais. The ushers Messrs. N. Marks Mills, John Trimble, and Dr. Holland did their duty nobly, and way were most attentive. After the ceremony, and congratulations, supper was served. The floral decorations were magnificient, the house was really smothered in roses, carnations and lilies. The wed ding gifts were exceedingly handsome and valuable. The groom presented the bride with an elegant brooch set with diamonds. The bridesmaids and ushers also received handsome sovenirs of the occasion from the happy groom. Mr. and Mrs. Mac artney left the next day for a wedding trip to Portland Maine. On their return they will reside with

C. Whitlock and Robert Dow; magic lantern views, Lawton Whitlock. The "Travellers club," met with Mrs. Charles E. Swan on Monday afternoon and a trip was taken by them to Colorado. The grandure of the scenery, the wealth of the country, its climate, and the people was quite fully dwelt upon by the happy travellers." It is a most interesting club and thoroughly instructive, all of the members enter heartily into the work of writing original and nove papers, to make the club a continued success. Mrs. William Co'e entertained on Saturday even ing a small party of friends, a most delightful evening was spent at whist. Mrs. Cole's friends feel a constant thankfulness that after her long illness, she is able to enjoy social life with them again.

Miss Joseph'ne Moore gave a "thimble party" on Friday afternoon, a most jolly afternoon was passed, the guests busily plying the needle, and disgussing the topics of the day. Tea was served at five o'clock.

Mar. 18.-Judge Wells gave a very epiovable musicale, last Thursday evening at his handsome new residence on Main street. The guest of the evening was Mrs. Harrison, who contributed largely to the enjoyment of the guests by her sweet singin .. The entertainment served as a sort of housewarm ing, as Judge Wells has only very recently moved into the house, which has been undergoing extensive alterations The guests numbered about thirty, and it is needless to say that they spent a

The num rous friends of Mrs. John McKenzie were greatly shocked last Thursday morning to hear that she had passed away quite suddenly during the night. Mrs. McKerzie had been suffering from a severe attack of inflammatory rhoumatism, train and richly trimmed with lace. She wore a but was supposed to be convalescent, so her death was a great shock to her friends. Mrs. McKerzie has been a resident of Moncton for many years, and was universally beloved for her sincere piety, her warm heart, and her unfailing kindness and charity to all classes. She was a woman to whom no one who was in trouble of any kind, ever appeal. ed in vain, and her gentl heart was ever ready to feel for the sorrows of others. In stite of her 80 made the numerous guests at ease, and in every | years her heart remained young to the last, and she was greatly loved by young people, to whom she was the wisest and kindest of friends. Her loss will be deep'y felt in Moncton, and Mr. McKer zie will have the sympathy of the community in his sudden bereavement. The funeral took place on Satu day afternoon from the family residence on Queen street to the rural cemetery and was very largely attended. The pall-bearers were: Messrs. J. J. Wallace, John Baird, S. C. Wilbur, B. Crandall, Joel Steeves, and James Doyle. The services both at the house and grave were conducted by Rev W. B. Hinson, and a most impressive memorial service was held in

It was a terrible shock to the residents of Moncton when they le rd that Mrs. Allen Chipman had died at an early hour this morning, and those who had seen her no later than Monday, apparently in the best of health and spirite, were inclined to believe at first that it must be a mistake. But the news was only too correct and Mrs. Chipman had passed away after an illness of only a few hours. The cause of death was supposed to be peritoritis. Mrs. Chipman has been a resident of Moncton for nearly ten years, having moved here from Dorchester, and during that time she has won numbers of friens by her kindly manner, get uine hospitality and many attractive socia qualities. The deceased lady left several sons, one the well known commis sioner of the Eudson Bay company, Mr. C. C. Chipman, and two or three in the United States, but Miss Minnie Ch pman, who was her devoted companion was most unfortunately absen at the time of her death, having recently acceted the position of organist of St. Luke's church, Annapolis, but had intended returning for her mother at Easter.
