PROGRESS, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 1., 1896.

"Dum' it !" he said ; and it is doubtful if

"I'm awful sorry for you, Billy" said

Edna softly, and then he saw that the

She had thrown a white woollen "diamond-dusted" thing over her head, and sparkling moonlight fell on snow crystals, diamond dust, and tears, making dazzling when she repeated "I'm awinl sorry," he Bill Keeler's mind moved slowly, but realized that sympathy is a blessed thing.

He took her hand-she slipped into his

The small boy who saw this scene from a

"proscenium box" behind the rain barrel, could never go on from here in his report.

"They stood so close together 't I couldn't see what they were doin' "he said aftward,

"Where on earth is B ll Keeler ?" asked

"Guess he's gone home," suggested

"Don't let him go !" ezclaimed the hospitable farmer. "Here, Ernest, you run an'-" the kitchen door opened, and there

"I come for a wile, an' by jingo ! I guess

There was a double wedding and a sup-

Sometimes, in these later days, when

Prof. Field finds his wife's country wit too

"Yon know you really proposed to me.

To which she replies sedately : "It was purely my interest in checkers, dear. 1 couldn t bear to see a good game lost by a tor it you hadn't helped me to win that game you would have married Billy."

"an' they jest whispered."

got one," was all he said.

per to be remembered.

sharp for him, he says:

pretty, foolish creature was crying.

brilliants of all.

Farmer Bates.

Uncle Tommy.

arm around Edna.

arms.

A GAME OF CHECKERS.

"Play checkers, School master?"

16

"Oh, yes; I play checkers." The tune betrayed the rash confidence of youth, but the old farmer met it with a serene smile, born of the memory of many victories.

"Hattie, bring that checker board. What kind of a game do you play, Teacher, side or centre ?"

"I don't understand your terms," replied the schoolmaster, "but I play the regular openings, and then gauge my play according to my opponent's play." "Well, I'll be switched!" exclaimed the farmer. "I always thought checkess was checkers the world over, but I never heard of openings, nor gauges nuther."

"I see your board is not numbered." said the teacher, "Do you object to my marking the numbers with a pencil ?"

"Mark all you want to, Schoolmaster," replied the hilarous farmer. "Put a sum in mental 'rithmetic in the middle, an' algebra 'round the edges. Turn the board over, an' write out some examples in bot'ny an' hist'ry on the back of 'er! Can't hurt the board any ! Ernest, git some of that cider.'

After the farmer had won four games in succession, he said to his son: "Here Ernest, you come an' play with the schoolmaster. This ain't exciting enough for me. I'll go an' set by the fire an' think !"

Ten minutes later Ernest said : "Well, father, this may be fun for you, but it's rather monotonous for me. You'd better play with Hattie, Schoolmaster. You may get a game occasionally, it she's good natured."

So the teacher and his oldest pupil played together. But the memory of certain caustic remarks anent the atternoon's algebra recitation rankled in the young girl's bosom, and she showed him no mercy. She forced his pieces into unprofitable corners; she coaxed him after apparently unprotected "single men," only to slaughter the pursuer, and at last in completing an innocent looking combination, swept the board time and again.

Looking up in the midst of the fifth game he became conscious that their normal conditions were reversed. He knew that his face was flushed, and his brows in a tangle, while she was watching him with a cool, amused smile.

"What are you thinking of" he said. "Algebra," she answered demurely. "It does seem'-she gave him a "man"-"as though checkers"-she gave hime two more-"was so mucheasier," and she swept the board.

When the teacher retired that night he

"You'll be lonesome drivin' that twelve "I fail to see," persisted the teacher, miles all alone," said Edna sympathetically. "what there is so remarkable in that young "Yes," he answered, "considerin' that I fellow that he should take up all your time." expected to take some one with me, it'll be dum' lonesome !" "Come, tell me, Miss Bates, what on The contract between that moonlt drive, earth he is noted for." as he had rictured it to himself, and as it She looked up sideways into his face. "Pa says," she answered gravely, "that he would now be, struck him with fall force. He pulled his cap over his eyes. His is the best checker player in the coun ty !" vocabulary was not extensive :

"Can he beat me ? The question meant a good deal. With any fate could have got more than that a reckless flasq of her great gray eyes, and dropping into the Michigan country dialect, | from him. which the school master had labored months to eradicate, she answered : "Um huh ! Beat the boots off'n you !" The schoolmaster was furious. He took the checker doard and flung it into the stove. The books were about to follow, her blond hair blew around her face. The when when he felt a little hand laid on his arm, and turning saw Hattie, with tears in her eyes. "Don't !" she said, "I should be lonesome without-without the books !"

The schoolmaster dropped the books and kissed his pupil.

Then the little hypocrate assumed an air of mighty dignity, and said : "The school laws don't allow this form of punishment !"

"Are you going to marry that fellow ?" he asked peremptorily.

"I don't know."

Still no answer.

"Will you marry me ?"

With a droll liitle smile she replied :

"If you please, Mr. Field, that isn't in today's lesson." As that was all the satisfaction he could get, he went to consult with her father. "Well, Schoolmaster," said the old gentleman finally, "Hattie has explained the hull thing to me. When Bill is here she thinks she likes him best, and when in the doorway stood Bill Keeler with his you're here she sort o' cottons to you most. Now, why don't you and him play a game of ckeckers to decide it-winner take the girl-eh ?' "I agree to that," replied the teacher.

The proposition was submitted to Hattie. and she, after some consideration, accepted

Now, you mustn't take no advantage of Bill," said the farmer. "He's ccmin' Christmas Eve, an' we'll have the game then, an' the weddin' afterward. You mustn't keep Hattie after school, nor come to see her till then."

The schoolmaster got a new checker board that night, and every evening he studied alone, carefully noting the moves of the great games in his books.

"Science will tell," he said to himself. "These games were played by champions, and the results are certain as fate."

At last the day came, and at 5 o'clock the school master went to the Bates residence.

There was a jolly crowd of neighbors

Dignity, Euphemisms, Avocations, and Hopes of Up-to-date Undertakers.

A STUDY OF FUNERAL DIRECTORS.

manifest euphemism meant to hide the nature of the trade for which it stands, the undertakers long ago sought further to disguise their profession by elegant phraseology. Nobody but a pauper is now buried in a coffin by an undertaker. The wealthier dead are laid away in burial caskets by funeral directors. The undertakers of this town as a class are an interesting, if somewhat grisly, subject of study. Nobody gravediggers' talk in "Hamlet." The modgravedigger, but he is a man of small reticence touching subjects that most men prefer to avoid. He has become calloused by use to such things, and he has an ungravediggers. an almost offensively respectable person. There is a tradition of the trade that imposes neatness upon the premises. Undertakers are divided as to the exact proprieties of decoration. Most affect ebony trimmings to their offices, but a few subeffect. Undertakers in New York commonly join with their main business one or more of three or four avocations. Many keep livery stables, so that the coach that carries a sable company to a cemetery by day whisks off a bride in white silk and orange blossoms by night. Some undertakers are also manufacturers of funeral offerings, wreaths, and emblematic devices. Some show little signs which read "Pinking done here." Some deal in cut flowers. A few are in the real estate business, and the announcement "Lodgings for single gentlemen," beside a gaping coffin, serves to recall Lamb's pleasantry on this subject in one of his droll letters to Manning in the far East. Undertakers in New York are of all na-

Armenian Cookery.

The attention now directed to Armenians may arouse interest in their culinary methods. Powerful seasoning is not obnoxious to them. Tarragon, onions, rue, cinnamon, coriander, cloves, pepper, mustard, cumin, and salt are employed. These are all used in a sauce for a sort of ragout not unlike Scotch haggis. An Armenian sandwich is recommended to givers of afternoon teas. This is made of two thin slices of wheaten bread covered with white chicken. Grape sirup is poured around it, with alternate rows of almonds and nut kernels. pieces of cheese, olives, sprigs of tarragen, who has ever really known an undertaker and rings of hard-boiled eggs. It is can doubt the truth and realism of the sprinkled with salt and eaten, cut in slices, with virgin oil. If this be not enough to satisfy a delicate appetite, it may be folern funeral director of this town is not a lowed by a sweet composed of thin cases of pastry that envelop a rich amalgam of almonds and fragrant flavoring, served in a sauce of melted butter and sugar. As provocative to renewed gustatory effort Armenian hors d'oeuvres are suggested. pleasant way of dwelling upon certain de-tails of his profession, as had Shakespeare's red eggs, olives, pickled fish, and asparagus in oil. If all this be not enough to stay hunger in anticipation of an 8 o'clock Outwardly the New York undertaker is dinner, thin pancakes fried in oil, floating in a rich sirup, and covered with rose water, may be effective.-New York Sun.

An Historic Church.

The historic church in Paris of Notre Dame des Victories is to be restored. The church was founded in the early part of stitute white paint for black with startling the fourteenth century by the Guild of Cross Bowmen. The church is noted for the ancient and historic monuments which it contains, amongst the most notable being the monuments of Counts Egmont and Hoorn, who are represented on their way to execution > so great as might be supposed, there being | Port La Tour, Jan. 20, Howard Snow, 19. only 1,332 in the reports.

A Danger Signal.

The loss of sense of smell is one of the early effects of catarrh. It is a danger signal. Partial deatness and impared eyesight are other results of the disease, which becomes more distressing as it progresses, and if not checked will gradually develop the most serious complications.

Better heed the first danger signal and endeavor to effect a cure. Hawker's catarrh cure is a positive remedy, and a tions, and it is usual for a foreign family to simple one, easy to take. Its effects upon Fair Haven, Jan. 26, Mrs. Mary J. Ferris, 90. employ in the case of death an undertaker a simple cold in the head is instantaneous Canning, N. S., Feb. 3, Mrs. R. D. G. Harris.

BEST POLISH IN THE WORLD.

with Pastes, Enamels, and Paints which stain the hands, injure the iron, and burn red. The Rising Sun Stove Polish is Brilliant, Odorless, and Durable. Each package contains six ounces; when moistened will make several boxes of Paste Polish.

HAS AN ANNUAL SALE OF 3.000 TONS.

DEARBORN & CO.,

WHOLESALE AGENTS

New Glasgow, Feb. 5, by Rev. A. Robertson, Robert S. Robertson to Sarah B. Fraser.

Ritceys Cove, N. S., Jan. 29, by Rev. Oskar Gron-lund, William Smith to Flora Risser.

East Dover, Jan. 29, by Rev. Father Parker, Wil-liam J. Duggan to Mary M. Murphy. Harbor Au Bouche, Feb. 4, by Rev. M. Coady Augustus Bowie to Therese Lavendier.

Lower Granville, Jan. 29, by Rev. James A. Porter Frank P. Covert to Lizzie W. Johnston.

Hopewell Hill, Jan. 27, by Rev. I. B. Colwell, James Robinson to Elizabeth C. Bishop. Rose Bay N. S. Jan. 1, by Rev. Geo. A. Leck, James A. Smith to Lucretia Himmelman.

DIED.

Truro Jan. 30, George Longhead, 66. Halifax, Feb. 6, Edward Miller, 21. Halifax, Feb. 5, J. N. Lyons Q. C., 43. St. John, Feb. 7, Asa D. Blakslee, 79. St. George Jan. 26, James Spinney, 90. Overton, Feb. 3, Mrs. Alfred Sarvante. St. John, Feb. 7, Mrs. Jane Griffiths, 76. Beaver Harbor, Jan. 27, Eliza Cross, 85 Ship Harbor, Jan. 16, Charles Esson, 59. The number of patent medicines is not Antrim, N. S., Jan. 30, Robert Smith, 75. St. Croix, Jan. 31, Mrs. John Proctor, 76. Dutch Valley, Jan. 17, John Patterson, 70 Shubenacadie, Jan. 30, Robert Smith, 75. Cloverdale, Jan. 24, Jason Herriagton, 78. Lower Granville, Jan. 28, Daniel Ellis, 80 Westport, Jan. 27, Mrs. Amanda Denton. Chamcook, Feb. 1, Eleanor Lownshend, 88. Cedar Lake, Jan. 11, Mrs. Susan Porter, 80. Marshallton N. S., Jan. 31, Mary Small, 84. Hebronville, Feb. 1, Joseph F. Gardner, 64. Long Point, Jan. 18, Daniel McEachern, 73. Upper Woodstock, Jan. 16, Louisa Sawyer. Lower Wakefield, Jan. 29, J. H. Clarke, 83. Sussex, Feb. 9, Ida, wife of Albert Scott, 35. of the own race. There are a few negro and complete. The most severe cases of Windsor Plains, Jan. 27, Mrs. Julia Brown, 62. Blaine Me., Feb. 1, Mrs. Charles Antworth, 30. Indian Road N. S., Jan. 31, Donald McPhee, 16. Montreal, Jan. 29, Lillie, wife of John Walsh, 32. Tusket Wedge, Jan. 18, Mr. Francoise Pothier, 65. Guysboro, Jap. 25, Sarah, wife of Jairus Hadley, 66. Halifax, Feb. 6, Janet, wife of William Walker, 36. Chelsea, Jan 31, James A. Gibbon formerly of N. S. Harcourt N. B., Feb. 4, Mary, wife of Albert Taylor Dartmouth, Feb. 7, Mary wife of Henry C. Walker Westville, Feb. 2, Christin, wife of George Mills, Lower Wakefield, Jan. 19, James Henry Clarke, Bakersfield Cal. Jan. 24, Mrs. Edward Randall of Port Mulgrave, Jan. 13, Mary M., wife of John Cahill Mount Hebron, Feb. 4, Sarah, wife of Alexander Long, 49 St. John, Feb. 10, Margaret, wife of Timothy Cal" lahan, 6 Cleaveland, Annapolis Co., N. S., Jan. 20, John Miller, 89. North Grant, Jan. 29, Mary wife of Angus Mc. Doug .11, 22. Tenny Cape, Jan. 23, Adeline El za, wife of H. B. Huntley, 39. St. John, Feb. 7, John M., son of the late Andrew Ruddock, 56 Tiddville Yarmouth Co., Jan. 31, Mrs. Catherine McCuby, 83. Halifax Feb. 9. Emma Mary, wife of Edward J. Bysantson, 24. Mlddlesex Falls, Jan. 12, Ella, wife of George Moody of N. S Milford, Jan. 27, Margaret, widow of the late Samuel Kerr, 81. Brooklyn N. Y., Jan. 31, Eleanor, wife of Charles Arnold McCully. Smithfield, Jan. 24, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Smith. Dartmouth, Feb. 3, Lillie, infant daughter of Henry and Lily Creighton. Toney River, Jan. 25, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Turner. Moncton, Feb. 10, Edmund, infant son of Daniel E and Alberta Shaw, 4. Carleton, Feb. 8, Ambrose T. son of Timothy and Matilda Donavon, 6. Truro, N. S., Feb. 6, Florence, daughter of William and Ellen Taylor, 11. Halifax, Feb, 9. Eliza, daughter of the late Peter and El za Hobin, 24. Ship Harbor, Feb. 2, James E.Chapman, son of John J. Chapman 27. St. John, Feb 8, Nellie Maud, daughter of John and Nora Driscoll, 14. Yarmouth, Jan. 28. Everett, C., son of William and Etta Haskins, 3 weeks. Ma'den Mass, Nov. 27. Eva D. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Goodwin 26. Titusville, Feb. 9, Edith, youngest daughter of John and Kate McCordock, 22. Lakeside, Feb. 9, William O., eldest son of William and Margaret Stewart, 26. Halifax, Feb. 6, James Mortimer, son of Martin and the late Teresa Murphy, 19. Halifax, Feb. 4, Fredrick W., child of Albert and Hannah Hollett, 17 months. Near Gloucester Mass, Feb. 9, by drowning, Andrew McCarron of Springhill N. S., 40. Atlantic Mass, Jan. 26, Charles W., child of Alex an Mary McDonald of N S., 3 months. Near Gloucester Mass, Feb. 9, by drowning, Laur-ence J. only son of the late Loraine and Susan O'Regan Melanson of Springhill, 37. What is foolish move."-G. W. Rose.

The Stricken to be Seen in Every Community.

Many Cured of this Appalling Form Living Death by Using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Although the word "undertaker" is registered a vow that he would beat girl at checkers, even if he had to give up his school and devote his whole time to studying the game. He lay awake a long time. gazing at the bare ratters above his bed. silver gray in the moonlight that streamed through his uncertained window, and thinking ot this remarkable checker-playing tamily. He remembered the jovial old man's way of pretending to be in extreme tear, and how he would ejaculate: "Ah! now you've got me !" "Look at that, now ! I never expected that." "Now, you have got me," & ..., and the way his knotty hand would hover over the board in simulated uncertainty.

He remembered Ernest keeping up a laughing conversation with his mother, and spparently not paying any attention to the game. He remembered Hattie, always watching him with that keen, amused smile, and moving her pieces with swift, sliding touch of a slim, white hand. Then he wondered why he had never noticed her hands before. Also, he remembered a certain vivid color in her cheeks, and wondered if it showed the same by daylight.

It may have been a week after this evening that Edna Bristol, Hattie's pretty but dull seatmate. found the day too short for her lessons, and had to "stay after school."

Hattie obtained permission to wait for her, and after every one else was gone she said to the teacher :

"I think you have a checker board here, Mr. Field. Won't you show me how to play by numbers ?"

The schoolmaster rather shamefacedly got out his board and his books : "Rudiments of Draughts," "Spayth," and "Robertson," and they played games and variations by the dczen. And pretty Edna seemed to find the atmosphere conducive to study, for she mastered the grammer lesson thoroughly. The next day Edna said :

"Teacher, I can study after school better than any other time. May I stay tonght? And so the programme was extended.

Now a young man cannot play checkers with a pretty girl night after night without coming to give fully as much attention to her as to the game; consequently the school-master felt as though a great blank spot had moved into his life one afternoon when Hattie without looking at him, left the house immediately at the close of school.

The following afternoon a big, freshfaced young fellow, whom the schoolmaster had never before seen, called for Hattie, and took her driving in a very dashing equipage. Edna volunteered an explanation atter school. "That's Bill Keeler," she said. "He's Hattie's beau, | tion," she answered. and he wants her to get married. His mother has promised to give him the farm if he'll get a wife before Christmas."

This news threw the schoolmaster into the sulks. The young farmer visited the ity by the "big boys and girls," and with cold civility by the teacher. He took Now he remembered Wyllie's w Hattie to the Thursday evening singing play of 16-20, and black to win. school, and was driving with her and Edna every day.

the old farmer, but the schoolmaster con-This week was one of misery for the for myself all money paid by the public. Eel Brook, Feb. 4, by Rev. J. Crouzier, Capt. Vin-cent Richard to Lavinia Pothier. the sense of smell. They rely upon their schoolmaster, though his checker board | trolled the moves. I take it as installments of my salary. It Again 13-23, and every checker player | sight when in quest of food. was some consolation. But sitting alone does not amount to very much. But what-Richmond, Feb. 5, by Rev. A. W. Teed, Alfred Lee in the darkening schoolroom while the stared in amazement. Again 20-27, and ever it happens to be, I pocket it." McBride to Annie E. A. Wilson. A VANCOUVER FRUITER. Rose Bay, N. S., Jan. 30, by Rev. George A. Leck Jeremiah Ritcey to Minna Smith. snow whirled high around the windows he | then it solwly dawned on them that the These men are, of course, petty officials, would imagine that vivid face, lit by great | teacher won the game by a series of re-Ask your Tobacconist In British Columbia rheumatism is very but their case is not essentially different Chatham, reb. 4. by Rev. George Steele, Stillman Blakely to Wilhelmina McIntosh. luminous eyes, opposite him. Or, as he markable moves. prevalent, and very hard to cure owing to from that of the majority of their betters, One more move, and then the piece on 2 looked from book to board, he would see the and Judges, officials, deputy governors, Tusket Wedge, Feb. 4, by Rev. J. M. Gay, Amond Le Blanc to Marguerite Le Blanc. dampness of atmosphere. Mr. W, F. Beggs, went the "long jump," removing three swilt flish of a slim, white hand above his etc., are to the full as impecunious and inthe well-known fruiter of Vancouver, B. C. Shelburne, Jan. 29, by Bev. A. W. Lewis, Stanford A. Kenny to Elizabeth McAlpine. pieces and winning the game. The players rose, and the people crowded says :-- "I suffered intense pain for over comparably more greedy.-Contemporary own. The week ended at last, and the young around the successful one, with hearty con- tour years from rheumatism of the ankles Port-au-Pique, Jau. 29, by Rev. W. Ness, John Fulmore to Mrs. M. J. Urquhart. Review. farmer returned to his home. and teet. I doctored with everyone, even Decade Rings. "He's coming again Christmas," Edna gratulations. Mabone Bay, Ja^{*}. 24, by Rev. J. W. Crawford, _ John C. Egner to Florence Frank. employing a Toronto specialist to treat me Bill Keeler slipped into the hall unobsaid to the schoolmaster. but could not get cured, and had almost Decade rings, or rings having ten proserved, and after putting on his great over-coat, cap, and huge lambskin mittens, made given up in despair. A friend told me how Lower Granville, Jan. 28, by Rev. L. Daniel, Joseph Anthony to Abbie Holmes. Monday evening Hattie stayed after jections on their circumference, were once school was dismissed, bending a flushed face over a perfectly recited algebra lesson. very popular, not only in religious orders, South American Rheumatic Cure had acted Louisburg, Jan. 29, by Rev. J. M. Browne, Thomas H. Bognell to Margaret McDonald. but among serious people. They were used to keep account of the number of prayers recited. The knob or large sethis way out and started for the stables. As After a long silence the schoolmaster said, he passed the kitchen door Edna came out in his case and advised me to try it. The very first bottle gave me immediate relief, and I am now on my second bottle and al-Tusket Wedge, Jan. 22, by Rev. J. M. Gay, Capt John LeBlanc to Cornelie Cotreau. and stopped him. with stiff dignity : 'Going home, Mr. Keeler ?" she asked. "Yes; I haven't anything to stay for," he most entirely cured, I consider it the only ting designed a Paternoster; the ten pro-Antigonish, Jan. 29, by Rev. John Lewis, John Payson Clarke to Hattie A. Hulbert. "I am glad, Miss Bates, that you still You will be pleased. retain some interest in your studies." jections each counted an Ave. cure for rheumatism." There was no answer. answered.

present. The old house was overflowing. Preparations were going on in the kitchen, and the smell of roast turkey and coffee was everywhere.

The minister was there-a nervous little man in an uncomfortable black suit. The teacher's rival came a few minutes later.

Then Farmer Bates took the floor. "Neighbors an' friends" he began oratorically. "Is pose you know that the schoolmaster and Bill Keeler here are goin' to play a game of checkers for my girl Hattie. Now, I'll 'point Dave Nash an' Uncle Tommy Bilk to be empires, an' you all understand that if any one makes any suggestion on the game it'll all have to be played over. The weddin'll be right after the game, an' then we'll have supper. Place your men, empires !"

The rivals were seated, and the board placed between them.

"Here, Hattie," the farmer called, "you set here where they can both see you, an' then they'll know what they're playin' for." Hattie gave a timid greeting to the two young men, and took the seat indicated.

Then the great gime began. The schoolmaster played slowly, relating every move to some game played by the old champions. Keeler played with a dash that carried him victor in countless contests. The spectators crowded around them, breathless at first, then as the game slowly progressed making whispered comments. One of the elder women sang a ltttle, softly, and someone in the background whistled part of a popular air. "The "empires" watched the game closely.

It was a great game, and it is a pity that a record of the moves was not kept. When the thirtieth move was made, the old farmer blurted out: "By gum ! 't'il be a draw?'

Now, the schoolmaster, w ho was playing the black, was preparing to move 1-5, for his thirty-first move. His hand hovered over the place, but still he hesitated. Just then Hattie began to whistling a queer little tnne.

Much surprised, the schoolmaster paused.

"Well, Hattie, that is the dumdest tune I ever heard," said her tather.

"That tune," replied Hattie slowly and distinctly, "has fifty-nite variations."

The schoolmaster was just touching the piece, but the word "variations" stopped him. He stole a quick glance at her, but she was looking resolutely at the carpet.

"Must be the tune the old cow died on." laughed the farmer. "Which variation was you whistlin'?"

"I was whistling the fourteenth varia-

The stormy color surged up over the schoolmaster's pale face. "The Laird and Lady" had fifty-nine variations given in his book, and there on the board before him was the identical situation that he and school, being received with bashful cordial- | Hattie had noticed and studied in the fourteenth variation.

Now he remembered Wyllie's wonderful Holding his breath, he made the move.

"Lost the game, Schoolmaster ?" shouted

The most startling example of human helplessness is the paralytic.

The victim excites your commiseration, but with eye clear and mind still unclouded he resents your interest.

The most hopeless sufferer of all is he of the tottering gait and dragging feet. He of the palsied hand stiffly pressing the benumbed side is to be seen everywhere you go. The most convincing proof that this pitiable condition is the outcome of kidney disease is the fact that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure it.

Not generally recognized as a kidney disease, it succumbs to kidney treatment. And that is all Dodd's Kidney Pills were ever claimed to be.

That paralysis should even be placed on the list of curable diseases stands to the credit of these Pills. Did you ever know of a cure? Just think a moment !

It you do, it must have been the work of Dodd's Kidney Pills, for no other medicene ever yet cured.

Evaporated Potatoes.

Evaporated potatoes, prepared in the same manner, as evaporated apples, are to be put on the market from Minnesota next fall. Last season's potato crop was so large that many millions of bushels were wasted, and experiments were made in evaporating potatoes. The experiments were successful, and two big factories for preparing potatoes in this manner are building.

IN FAVOR WITH THE DOCTORS.

Dr. Godbut, M. P., Beauce, Que, Speaks in Highest Terms of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder.

When a member of the medical profession, hedged in as by a large measure of conservatism, expresses an opinion of a proprietary medicine it means a good deal, Dr. Godbout the popular member in the House of Commons, of Beauce, Quebec, speaks in highest terms of Dr, Agnew's Catorrhal Powder, not alone as a professional man, knowing the nature of this remedy, but from a personal experience. He has used the medicine for catarrh, and freely lets the public know of the remarkable, speedy and effective nature of the medicine in all cases of the kind. One puff of the Powder gives relief in 10 minutes. Sold by H. Dick and S. McDiarmid.

Revival of an Old Lawsuit.

A 300-year-old lawsuit came up the other day in the Bavarian courts, apparently as far from a settlement as at the behad appropriated.

Vultures cannot discover a carcass by undertakers. "Entrepreneur des pompes funebres" is the occasional announcement in the French quarters, and each nation has its own euphemism for a business regarded with some popular prejudice.

nearly all anxious to surround their business with pomp and dignity, differ greatly in their methods. A few lise quite above the display of caskets and content themselves with a modest announcement of their trade. Many have the privilege of placing advertisements in the fronts of churches. In such case the undertaker acts as sexton at rather less than current rates, the advertisement of the sign on the church front being an equivalent for part of the pay. It is a great card for the ordinary undertaker to have the victim of an accident or a murdered person or a suicide sent to his shop. This brings the coroner, an official investigation, and a tree advertisement in the newspapers. Such undertakers like to use the word "morgue" as an equivalent for their places of business, and are all eager to see their names and addresses in the newspaper report of the coroner's inquest. The truly swell undertaker is anxious to avoid this sort of notoriety. It would be almost fatal to his fame to have a "slovenly, unbandsome corse" brought into his place of business after a murder or on accident. He is a grave and respectable, semi clerical person, learned in the etiquette of grief, and unparalleled in making plausible by a nice itemizing the lump sum of a large bill. To have the hope of burial at his hands is almost a temptation to suicide. He does not rise early to read the death announcements in the morning newspapers and get his card to the homes of the afflicted ahead of his rivals. On the contrary he can count with certainty upon his clients. He regards certain respectable families as his natural prey and never sees any one of half a dczen feeble millionaires roll by in a carriage without a vision of a hearse in which that same millionaire must soon take his. last ride .- N. Y. Paper.

Turkish Officials in Armenia.

"I have not received a para for the past twenty weeks, and I cannot buy even clothes," exclaimed the official who was told off to "shadow" me one day and night in Erzeroum.

"Do they pay your salary regularly ?" I inquired of the head of the telegraph office at Kutek. "No, Effendi, not regularly," he replied ; "I have not had anything now for fully eight months. Oh, yes, 1 have; a month's salary was given to me at Bairam." "How do you manage to live. then ?" "Poorly." "But you must have some money to go on with, or else you Franconia, which is now part of Bavaria, | could not keep body and soul together ?" brought the suit in 1595 against the Lords | "I have a little of course but not enough. Allah is good. You have now given me some money yourself." "Yes, but that is longing to the community which the lords not for you; it is for telegrams, and belongs to the state." "Well, my shadows will have grown considerably less before the state beholds the gleam of it. I keep catarrh vield to a course of treatment by this remedy, and a complete cure is in due time effected. It costs but 25 cts. per box. A single box will convince anyone of its merits. It is sold by all druggists The New York undertakers, although and dealers, and is manufactured only by the Hawker Medicine Co. (Ltd) St. John, N. B.

BORN.

Westville, Jan. 21, to the wife of J. D. Fraser, a son Milton, Jan. 29, to the wife of Dwight Cain, a son. Halifax, Feb. 4, to the wife of B. J. Mulcaby, a son. St. Croix, Jan. 30, to the wife of D. Spence, a daugh

Riverdale, Feb. 4, to the w fe of Alex Bain, a daugh-Lunenburg, Jan. 3!, to the wife of Lorenzo Parks, a son Ottawa, Feb. 5, to the wife of C. W. Treadwell, a Truro, Jan. 26, to the wife of W. Burton Johnson, a son Eastvilie Feb. 2, to the wife of William Brown, a son. Everett Mass, Jan. 22, to the wife of R. D. Suthern, a son. Baddeck, Jan. 29, to the wife of Joseph S. McLean, Truro, Feb. 6, to the wife of Kenneth McIntosh, a daughter. Milton, Jan. 30, to the wife of James W. Power, daughter. Halifax, Feb, 9, to the wife of W. F. Linton, a daughter. Halifax, Feb. 9, to the wife of H. W. McIntosh, a daughter.

Lunenburg, Jan. 31 to the wife of George Nelson, a daughter. Kempton, Jan. 28, to the wife of Charles Al ison, daughter. Dalhousie Jct., Jan. 31, to the wife of James Shaw a daughter. Jpper Stewiscke, Jan. 27 to the wife of Alex Power a das ghter. Parrsboro, Feb. 3, to the wile of C. M. Fowler, a a daughter.

Dartmouth, Feb. 2, to the wife of H. S. Creighton, a daughter Ottawa, Feb. 4, to the wife of Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper, a son.

Memramcook, Feb. 1, to the wife of Amie M. Vineneau, a daughter.

Three Mile Plains, Jan. 25, to the wife of Hedley Lunn, twin boys.

Clark's Harbor, Jan. 28, to the wife of Dr. G. W. Brown, a caugater. Parrsboro, Feb. 4, to the wife cf Stuart T. Day, twins, boy and girl. New Glasgow, Feb. 3, to the wife of Rev. A. Rob ertson, a daughter.

New Glasgow, Jan. 25, to the wire of Daniel H. Cameron, twin boys.

MARRIED.

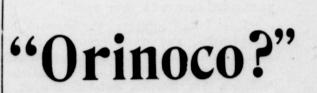

Guysboro, Jan. 25, by Rev. W. Purvis, Thomas Horton to Mary O'Neil. Brockton Mass, Jan. 14, Angus Beaton to Cassie McFarlane, both of N. S. Milford, Feb. 4, by Rev. A. Dickie, Grant Mc Donald to Nettie I. Isenor. Andover, Jan. 31, by Rev. W. R. Pepper, Neils Nelson to Marion C. Madson. Lunenburg, Feb. 1, by Rev. G. L. Rankin, Daniel W. Crouse to Annie V. Croft. Tatamagouche, Jan. 9, by Rev. Thos Sedgewick, Daniel Sivan to Nettie Oliver.

Wellington, Jan. 5, by Rev. J. Lavton, Alexander Patterson to Margaret Stevens. Smith's Cove, Jan. 22, by Kev. J. T. Eaton, J. K. Cossaboom to Sarah A. Cosset.

Tracy Mills, Feb. 1, by Rev. G. F. Currie Freeland McKenzie to Maggie Churchill.

Millerton, Jan. 30, by Rev. T. G. Johnston, Richard D. Wilson to Jennie M. Miller.

1. 1. 1

his with ginning. The village of Burgirm in lower of Thuringten ior 2,000,000 marks, the value of a forest of oak and beech trees be-