MAR. 11.—Although the storm was most severe on Thursday afternoon, yet it did not prevent a large number of ladies from accepting the hospitality of Madame Chipman, and Mrs. John D. Chipman, it being the occasion of an At Home given by these ladies at the "Cedars", the home of Madame Chipman, which by the way is a most charming place to visit, the house is so spacious and attractive, and as soon as one enters one feels that the true vein of hospitality reigns within. There were about a hundred ladies present and they were received by the hostesses in the large drawing room, Madame Chipman wore a gown of black and white striped satin and Mrs. J. D. Chipman was attired in a handsome dress of black silk trimmed with velvet and paws. After a short conversation in the drawing room the guests entered the dining room which was in charge of a number of ladies, Mrs. John D. Chipman sat at the head of the table and poured tea, Mrs. W. F. Todd presided over a small table and dispensed chocolate, Mrs. Jessie W. Moore, Miss Janet Robinson, Miss Berta Smith, and Miss Alice Graham also assisted in the dining room. Mrs. G. W. Ganong and Mrs. George J. Clarke were the ladies who helped the hostesses in welcoming and entertaining their guests. The floral decorations in the dining room were, yellow daffodils, yellow roses, carnations, and smilax, and were arranged with an original and exquisite taste. The hours of the reception were from four until seven o'clock.

MAR. 10.—"The Eucharistic Club" gave its first entertainment in the form of an "Armenian" benefit concert in Graham's opera house on Thursday evening March 5th. The programme was an excellent one and well carried out consisting of vocal instrumental music, reading, and tableaux. The programme was commenced by a brilliant piano duet by Mrs. Mitchell and Miss Nan Bull, who looked charming Mrs. Mitchell in black brocade satin with blue trimmings, and Miss Bull in pale blue silk. Mrs. A. A. Brewer's song "When the tide comes in" was beautifully rendered. She wore pale blue silk and net. Mrs. Wendell Jones played a piano solo in her charming manner and wore a most becoming dress of rose silk with white lace and rose, which tips trimmings. Miss Jennie Baird's violin solo was very pretty. The tableaux "the four Maries" was one of the prettiest pictures ever presented here, Miss Munro, Miss Mary F. Duncan, Miss Mary D. Clarke, and Miss May Clark, all robed in black velvet with the collars cuffs and caps peculiar to the period, made a most charming group. Miss Lily Jordan's reading, "The pilot's story" was rendered with fine dramatic effect. A trio by Mrs. Mitchell Mrs. J. V. Skillen and Miss Munro entitled "Summer fancies" was one of the most charming features of the programme. Mrs. Skillen wore black satin and pink velvet. Miss Munro sang a lovely solo, "Whisper and I shall hear" in her sweetest manner to which Miss Baird played a violin obbligato. Miss Munro wore black satin cream roses and heliotrope. The "bachelor," a tableau mouvement was very good. Mr. Everett did the part of the bachelor splendidly, while the various other parts were taken by, Miss George Augerton, Miss May Clark, Miss Isabel Watts, Miss Nan Bull, Mrs. A. A. Brewer, Miss Cora Smith, Miss Blanche Dible, and Miss Helen F. Jordan. The young ladies were dressed to represent the various characters as follows: "The studious girl" girl of the period and etc. Miss George Augerton gave a character sketch in costume, "sant Doletta's visit" and was irresistibly funny. Some of her local hits being wonderfully good. Little Miss Pearl Skillen recited very prettily. "The club" sang a chorus in good style. The tableaux, "statuary" was lovely, the different figures were represented by Mrs. Skillen Miss M. Clark, Miss H. F. Jordan, Miss Alice Bull, Miss Mabel Watts and Miss Cora Smith. Dr. Maloney of St. Andrews played several selections on the cornet accompanied by Mrs. Mitchell on the piano. The closing tableaux "good night" was sweet; to Miss Helen Connell the chairman of tableaux committee and general directress, the success of the tableaux is largely due. The thanks of the "Eucharistic club" are due to Messrs. H. H. Donville, C. A. Appleby, W. C. Everett, Dr. Maloney, and George Mitchell for the kindly assistance tendered on the evening of the concert. The net proceeds $20. were handed to Archdeacon Neale who forwarded it to Armenia.

MONCTON.

[Progress is for sale in Moncton at the Moncton Bookstore, by W. G. St. John, S. T. Hall and M. B. Jones Bookstore.]

MAR. 11.—Between the civic elections which raged with great violence all day, and the rival factions of the carnival, the Moncton society and the annual meeting for the election of officers of the M. A. A. A., Monday was an exciting day in the various circles of Moncton society, and those who were not either recording their notes, or deciding whether they would prefer to be president or treasurer of the M. A. A. A., were engaged in manufacturing their costume for the carnival. But once more broods over the city. Mr. C. A. Chapman has been elected mayor of the city to the great satisfaction of his friends and of the large majority who placed him in that position. The ladies prepared for the best costume at the carnival was awarded to Miss Julia Triles of Moncton and the gentlemen's to Dr. Jasper Day of Salisbury, and as both prizes were gold watches the fortunate winners were probably more than satisfied, while if the officers in the gift of the M. A. A. A. were not distributed with strict impartiality the outside public have not heard any thing to the contrary.
