HALIFIX NOTES.

PROGRESS is for sale in Halifax by the newsboys and at the following news stands and contres. C. S. DEFREYTAS,..... Brunswick street

She came, she sang, she conquered ! A hackneyed expression, but to the point. Miss MacKay certainly did conquer the hearts of everyone in this city of talented amateurs. We have had good performances in Halifax performances deserving the greatest of credit. Never has there been given anything that commences to come up to "Martha." It is difficult to stint praise, when praise is so justly due. We need not criticise, for criticism is not necessary; in fact would be out of place. While the whole performance was perfect, Miss MacKay was more than prima donna. I would predict a brilliant future for this talented young lady. This is, I believe, her first essay in such a role. With her beautiful voice, her pleasing appearance and true dramatic talent, she will take a high place in operatic circles, her triumph which has begun so auspiciously in Halifax will extend to much larger circles. M18. J. McD. Taylor ably seconded Miss MacKay, singing in capital voice and acting with great talent. The ladies of the chorus worked with heart and voice. The fastidious critic would travel far and near before he would listen to a chorus so perfectly trained and in such perfect harmony. The conductor to whom great praise, played on them like he would an instrument. This company deserved the bumper houses that greeted them. House full to the utmost every night, many people going again and again, I cannot wonder at it, or it was, what the posters said it would be, "a musical treat". It was more, it was a revelation.

After this everyone, except the politically bent, is looking forward to the Nautical Fair. The dessertion of the fleet, unavoidable, is to be deplored. It will make a very serious difference to the finances. But the good people of Halifax will always rally to the aid and support of a deserving charity. From what I can hear, though I have not been in the rink, the booths are beginning to look ship-shape. All kinds of novelties are promised, but I hope my friends the managers, that you will not press the raffie system too freely. Many a buying man is deterred from a bazaar through his deadly fear of raffles. The continuous pestering drives him away. if it does not prevent him attending. The march, ever popular, will show new features. Mr. Greenwood is very busy and says he has good materials to work upon.

Lt .- Col. and Mrs. Will arrived last Tuesday from England. They will spend the summer with Mrs. Will's parents at Thornvale.

Mrs. J. W. Stairs and her little boy arrived on the same steamer after over six months absence. Col. and Mrs. Collard will arrive by the next mail boat and have taken Col. Stewart's house for a

As I predicted last week, Eurgn.-Col. O'Dwyer, P. M. O., has been appointed to Aldershot. Enrgn.-Col. and Mrs. O'Dwyer will leave Halifax | CORNELIUS GALLAGHER, 99 St. Patrick St. about the end of July.

There have been a number of cricket matches on the Garrisou grounds during the past week. The pavillion is a grand improvement, as all found to their benefit when it came on to rain Thursday afternoon. Cricket is very late in commencing this year, caused, so one player told me, by the fact that with the election on and the excitement and work connected these with, men would not do any pratice. Much, evidently is going to happen after the WI DEOR, June 23 .- The usual conversazione in connection with the encoenia of Kings college, took place Wednesday evening in Convocation hall, and was brilliant and largely attended, a number ct strangers being present. Music was furnished by the 78th. Batt. band. A pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation by Mrs. Courtney, of the Cogswell bats, for which the cricket match was played, to the fortunate winner Mr. Leslie.

On Thursday the encoenia exercises proper commenced with the usual service in Christ church at balf past ten, when the encoenia sermon was preached. In the afternoon the regular convocation was held in the hall, degrees conferred and the usual speeches made and listened to with more or less patience by a large audience.

The Students ball in the evening was a' most delightful affair and the dancing was kept up with spirit until 'he small honrs. Where their was so many handsome dresses it would be impossible to mention all, but among them I noticed:

was one of the prettiest seen in Windsor for some time. The bride looked very pretty and was handsomely dressed in white satin with lace and pearltrimmings, wreath and veil and carried a bouquet of waite roses. She was attended as bridesmaid by Miss Payne of St. John who wore a beautiful dress of dresden silk crepon and a large cream hat and feathers her bouquet was of red and white carnations. The groomsman was Mr. Tracy of Halifax. After the ceremony the bridal party and guests of whom there were quite a large number, proceeded to the home of the bride at Curry's corner where an elaborate luncheon was served after which the bride and groom took the train for Halifax. The presents were numerous and handsome, among them being a silver tea service from the employees of the firm

Much sympathy is expressed for Mrs. Carver whose youngest child died on Sunday. It is more than a year since Mrs. Carver lost her husband and eldest son and her lot seems hard indeed.

The town is full of people and the streets quite lively on account of the Dominion election which took place today. Excitement has run high and the losing side is much disappointed over its unexpected defeat.

Mr. Kaye of Brooklyn N. Y. was in town over Sunday a guest at "Claremont." At the afternoon service a child of his was baptised and in the evening he sang a tenor solo in Christ church which was much enjoyed by the congregation.

The Misses Holland of Canning spent last week in town with their friend Miss Keith, Park street. Miss Hensley of New York and Miss Winnie Hensley of Grand Pre were in .own for the encoenia The marriage of Miss Morris daughter of Captain D. H. Morris and Mr. I. C. Stewart of Halifax was celebrated in St. John's presbyterian church on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock Reverends Henry Dickie and M. G. Allison officiating. At the hour appointed the bride entered the church on the arm of her father preceded by little Miss Christie as maid of honor and Master Curry nephew of the bride as page and her bridesmaid Miss Masie Curry. The wedding march was played as the bridal party passed up the aisle. The bride looked very lovely in an elegant gown of ivory corded silk made en traine and trimmed with | W. S. Spencer. chiffon and lillies of the valley. The bodice was in surp ice style and was fastened at the waist by a handsome pearl and brilliant buckle which caught up a bow and long ends of ribbon. she also wore a veil and orange blossoms. The bridesmaid was beautfully dressed in cream lustre with pale green bodice trimmed with sequins, her hat was of cream lace and feathers. The bride's boquet was of cream roses and maiden hair and ferp, and the bridesmaid of pink. The gr. om was supported by Mr. W. Ross, of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Halifax. There were no guests besides the immediate family of the bride.
