Solo-"Ring on, Sweet Angelus," Miss Flora Mc-Hymn-"Val'ent Little Soldiers," cho'r and school. Tae church was beautifully decorated with flowers and plants, and a large number of people were in attendance. Rev. Dyson Hague and Mrs. Hague have been spending a week in Annapolis, has returned to the Minister of Militia Borden arrived in the city, lately from Ottawa, and left again for Wolfville. W. J. Hutchins, organist of St Paul's, is going to England on a pleasure trip. Mrs. R. F. Burns left Great Britain lately for Halifax, where she will be welcomed for the sake of the late Dr. Burns and for her own sake as well. There are in Nova Scotia literally thousands who honor and esteem her. We cannot say that Mrs. Burns is to make her abode in this city, but there is reason to hope that such will be the case.

The marriage is to take place the last of August of Seymour Grant, of this city, to Miss Minnie daughter of E. B. Hubley, of the 14 mile House St. Margaret's Bay Road.

Hon. W. S. Fielding left for Ottawa last week, to be sworn in as Minister of Finance. He took leave of the officials in the Provincial Building this fore. noon, with all of whom his relations for more tha a dozen years have been most pleasing and satis.

Deputy Prothonotary Nicholas Mu'cahie has been confined to his house the past week through illness. A pretty wedding was solemnized in the method. ist church, Burlington, Hants on Wednesday, July 15, at 2.30 p. m., the contracting parties being Annie Louise Angwin, eldest daughter of Rev. J. G. Angwin, the officiating clergyman, and Francis Cochran, M. D., of Bedford. Miss Edith Angwin, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Wilfred Cochran, brother of the groom, acted as groomsman. The church was very tastefully decorated with plants and flowers. The congregation presented the bride with a handsome clock and . gg stand, accompanied by and address. The choir, in appreciation of her services as organist, also presented an address and cake basket. Dr. and Mrs. Cochran, after a trip through the Annapolis valley, return to Bedford next week, where Mrs. Cochran will be "at home," to friends on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, July 27th, 28th and 29th. The weather I uesday morning was anything but pleasant for a wedding party, but it was no detriment to the happy and pretty union which was enacted at St. Mary's Cathedrel, when Prof. Lanos, of the County Acatemy, and Miss Annie, daughter of the late John McDonald of this city, were united in the golden bonds of hymen. The fair sex, as usual, were present in large numbers, and the church presented a beautiful appearance. Rev. Dr. Foley was the officiating clergyman. The bride looked charming in her bridal gown of white brocade silk, trimmed with silk point Brusse's lace, and satin ribbon, the bodice being edged with white lilac, and the skirt gathered up with white satin ribbon, and draped with sprays of white lilac, and train, and bridal veil. The bride was attended by Miss Florrie Power, who looked charming in her costume of yellow crepon, trimmed with white violets and tulle, and a hat of a similar shade. The other bridesmaids were Miss M. Chisholm, prettily attired in cream crepon, and the maids of honor were the little Misses Lydia Hickman and Sadie McDonald, whose appearance added greatly to the imposing bridal procession.

There were two groomsmen Messrs. Finn and Duggan, and M. A. D xon officiated as usher. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful gold bracelet, and the bridesmaids received pretty gold

The happy party left the Cathedral after the ceremony to the strain of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and after a naptial breaktast, the newly wedded took the "Bluenose" en route through the Upper Provinces, on their honeymoon.
