MONCTON.

Progress is for sale in Moncton at the Moncton Bookstore, by W. G. Standfield, S. T. Hall and M. B. Jones Bookstore.

May 27.—There was little to attract the enterprising stranger in search of amusement, to Moncton on the national holiday, and still less to keep the guileless native at home, therefore nearly everyone who could do so left town on the 24th. Those who could not, remained at home, chewed the end of discontented reflection and sighed for some mischief to get into. A few went fishing and got into all the mischief they could on their return—that is to say they perilled their souls by describing the number of fish they caught and which afterwards crawled out of their baskets and got away. But on the whole the day passed harmlessly.

Judge Wells and his mother Mrs. A. C. A. Wells who presides over his home, have issued cards for a large dance on Thursday evening, at their handsome new residence on Main street. Judge Wells has made so many alterations and improvements in Mrs. Weldon's property since he purchased it, that it is virtually a new house and this function is understood to be in the nature of a housewarming. I need scarcely say that it is being looked forward to with very pleasant anticipation.

Amongst the few strangers in town for the holiday were: Mr. Gordon, Mr. Blair of the Bank of Montreal, St. John, and Mr. F. W. B. Moore, of the Amherst branch of the same bank both former residents of Moncton. Mr. Blair was the guest of his mother-in-law Mrs. Weldon of Main street, and Mr. Moore was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. T. He was a native of Glasgow Scotland, but had lived in this country for sixty-eight of his seventy years his early home having been in Charlottetown where he taught school for many years occupying the position of principal of the Fanning Grammar school for ten years. Mr. McDougall was universally respected and esteemed for his integrity in business matters and his many estimable qualities. He leaves a widow and one son and two daughters. The funeral took place on Friday afternoon, and was very largely attended. The services both at the house and grave being conducted by Rev. J. M. Robinson pastor of St. John's Presbyterian church. The Etude at the Y. M. C. A. Hall on Thursday evening, given by Miss Jessie C. Master Dean Clark, the young son of Mr. W. E. Clarke a tiny fellow of six years, played a piano solo very prettily, and in quite a masterful manner, winning for himself many compliments, and a round of applause. An exhibition of strength that was really very wonderful, was given by Mr. S. Porto, and added much to the interest of the entertainment. Afterwards the musical part of the programme was again resumed.
