Miss Story, who is shortly to marry Capt. Ballentyne, the Kings regiment, will be her cousin's maid ot honor. Capt. Ballentyne is at present in Halifax on leave from his regiment, the guest of Mrs. Story in South street. Mrs. Gasten, of New York, has with her daugh ters been spending the summer at Bedford. Mrs-Gasten is a sister of Col. Isaacson, well known in the Garrison here. Miss Gasten's fiancee, Capt.

A great many people, including his command, will regret Col. Isaacson's retirement from the ser vice. Col. Isaacson's successor, Lt.-Col. Tauncks, is well known in Halifax.

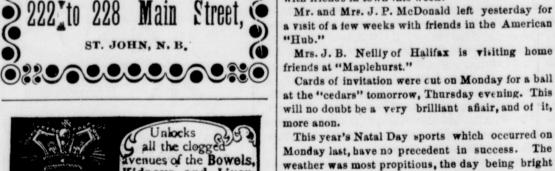

The Garrison regatta on Saturday was an urquai" ified success, the day being fine, the races interest. ing: the prizes pretty, and matters well arranged generally. But alas, for human nature; there has been a good deal of grumbling, several people being invited two or three times over, and several not being asked at all. These mistakes will creep into the best managed affairs, and how silly it is for offense to be taken where none is given.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Duffus had a small dance at their house on Kent street. Mrs. Duffus' functions are always well managed and pleasant.

Mrs. Charles Archibald had an evening "At Home" across the Arm on Wednesday. The grounds at Edgemore were beautifully lighted and supper was served by the light of a huge bonfire. On Thursday night the officers H. M. S. Tartar gave a small and early, the guests being chiefly mil.

A most brilliant wedding took place in Hartford, Vt., Sept. 9, 1896, at 7. p. m. The contracting parties were Miss Estella H. Conrad, daughter of W. A. Conrad of Waverly, N. S., and Mr. A. L. Morse, one of the prominent young merchants of Hartford. Rev. B. Smith performed the ceremony. The bride looked very charming in a beautiful costume of white silk, trimmed with white down, and carrying white roses. She was attended by Miss Florence Davis of Lowell Mass, who was attired in white tulle over pink silk and carried pink] roses. Mr. L. Mosher, Prof. of Andover College, ac'ed as best man. Miss Woodman of Lebanon, Vt , presided ss organist. Messrs. Brown, Wella and Gates filled the duties ashers in a most plea-ing manner; catering was in charge of E. A. Thompson. The presents were numerous and costly. The groom's present to the bride was a handsome up right piano and a phaton, and to the bridesmaid a gold ring. The father of the groom presented the bride with a handsome cheque. The choir of St-Paul' Methodist church, of Lowell, Mass., where Miss Conrad was a popular member, presented her with a silver service. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. A. L Morse left for New York, where they expect to spend their honeymoon. The young couple have many friends here who will extent best wishes for future happiness.

The Ethel Tucker company which has been scoring successes everywhere through the provinces recently opened a week's engagement here on Monday. In St. John Miss Tucker was greatly admir. ed personally. The elegantly manner in which she costumed her plays is said to have left nothing to be desired. Mr. H. P. Meldon, Miss Tucker's leading man, is spoken of by the St. John papers as one of the best actors ever seen in that city and though the company plays to popular prices, it is quite equal, if not superior, to any of the high priced companies which visit the provinces. There was a large tea last Thursday afternoon at

Mrs. Jas. K. Blair's, Halifax road. Mrs. Blair was assisted by Mrs. Jas. Miller and Mrs. Geo. Blair, the latter presiding at the tea table. Among the ladies present were ;- Mrs. O. C.
