ST. STEPHEN AND CALAIS.

[PROGRESS is for sale in St. Stephen by Master Ralph Trainor, and lat the bookstores of G S. Wall and J. Vroom & Co. In Calais at O. P. Treat's.] DEC. 2 - Thanksgiving Day passed very pleasantly both in St. Stephen and Calais. Thanksgiving services were held in the various churches. In the afternoon all places of business were closed and every one was free to enjoy the day as their fancy There were a number of dioner parties, which were as usual most happy affairs. In spite of the snow storm which prevailed all day, there | was a gathering of lovers of horses on Main street, Calais, which was gay with elegant turnouts, and fast horses. whose fortunate owners enjoyed themselves racing up and down, the long street, in friendly trials of speed. The theatre, was the attraction at the St. Croix Hall in the evening, and "Lost in New York" was played by the John E. Brennan Company to one of the largest audiences ever seen in the hall. and I might add in Calais.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. King, entertained a party o friends at dinner on Thanksgiving day. On Friday evening Mrs. Fredric Waite entertained at tea at her home a party of friends. In the evening whist was the amusement provided, and was greatly enjoyed.

A description of the wedding of Miss Ethel Jamieson to Mr. Frank Gove will be interesting to many readers of Progress. I mentioned this wed-comin a letter several weeks ago as having taken place in Shanghai, China, but this description is taken from a Shanghai paper, which was sent to his sister Mrs. Hazen Grimmer. "If the adage holds good, 'happy is the bride that the sun shines on' Miss Jamieson who vesterday entered the bond of matrimony with Mr. Frank Gove should be a happy weman, for an ideal day of bright sunshine and fresh breezes succeeded the murky regatta days, and lent a crowning charm to a charming wed ding. The ceremony was fixed for the somewhat unusu al hour of four o'clock, doubtless to suit the conventence of the bridegroom's large circle of business friends who were thus enabled to attend in force. En the moment the doors were opened the guests and a large concourse of interested people began to fill the church. The cathedral, which in spite of a little barrenness is the finest church in the far east, yesterday was converted into a bower of beauty the lofty nave lending itself admirably to the style of decoration adopted. From the entrance to the chancel steps was one long avenue of arching bamboo greenery, beyond which the rood screen stood out a net work of snowy bloom, while at the base of the pulpit, and around the door way were hundreds of foliage plants which gave a brightness to the decorations and added much to the effect. A large floral bell of white chrysanthemums was suspended over the chancel steps where the first portion of the service was read.

The bride was magnificently gowned in a rich white satin, with a square cut trail several yards in length and carried an exquisite shower bouquet of white flowers. The brides only attendant was a winsome little maid, Miss Fearon, who was lovely in a dress of cream silk and carried a bouquet of vellow chrysanthemums. The well known bridal hymn, "The Voice that Breathed o'er Eden," was sung by the choir as the bridal party entered the church. The Rev. H. C. Hod (es M. A., performed the marriage ceremony. After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Fearon where a reception was held, before they left for the wedding tour to be spent in Han-Kow. As the happy pair, both so popular and well known entered their carriage and drove away three lusty cheers and a tiger were sent after them by their friends. Owing to the lateness of the season the toiletees at the wedding were rather sombre in hue and more seasonable than artistic but were exceedingly rich and be sutiful."

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gove are expected here in the early spring from Shang hai, and will make an extended visit part of which will be spent with Mrs Hazen Grimmer and part with Mr. Grove's parents Collector and Mrs. C. M. G ove in St. Andrews.

A very pretty tea party was given on Saturday afternoon by Mrs Frank A. Grimmer for the plea. sure of her little daughter Hattie and her young friends, it being Miss Hattie's tenth birthday There were numerous pirthday gifts, and a birthday cake ornamented with ten candles. It was a most happy little party and thoroughly enjoyed by the young hostess and her guests. Mr. and Mrs. William Woods gave a family din.

DEC. 2 -Of course the great event of last week was Madame Albani's concert, and to attempt to give any adequate description of such a grand feast of song would be quite beyond my powers. It is sufficient to say that Madame Albani's singing was a revelation to many who fondly imagined that they had heard some fairly good voices before, and though a few of the more ignorant amongst the aud ience endeavored to impress those in their immediate vicinity, with their superior judgment, by aud. ibly expressed crit cisms of a singer whose fame is world wide, the audience as a whole listened in a silence so deep as to be almost painful, to each note that fell from the singer's lips, only interrupting her by bursts of applause when their enthusiasm could no longer be restrained.

Each member of the company was an artist and rendered fitting support to the star. The opera house presented an unusually brilliant appearance as nearly all the audience honored the great cantatrice by appearing in evening dress, and some very beautiful costumes were worn. Madame Albani's visit will long be remembered by all music lovers in our city, and will remain a bright spot in the memories of all who heard her sing. A number of strangers were in the city last week attending the Albani concert and amongst them were many familiar faces.

The world has become so accustomed to buttons that it has forgotten that there was ever a time when buttons were unknown. It is safe to say that 99 out of 100, if asked to name the date of the first button, would anticipate the actual date by several centuries. In the fourteenth century there were buttons-but no button holes. It was purely ornamental, lacking a button hole, and the question voluntarily arises how our ancestors managed to keep respectively covered.

Two hundred years ago there were not as many buttons in the world as could be found in a small old clothes shop today, and even those were made by hand. It was not until 1745 that any considerable

In these modern days we are apt to boast that this is an age of paper, pointing at the same time to paper wheels, paper boots, paper carpets, and the thousand and one novel uses made of this material, as proof of that assertion. It is a curious fact that as far back as 1784 we find mention of paper buttons.

Quinine Wine and its improvements has, from the first discovery of the general virtues of Quinine as a medical agent, been one of the most thoroughly discussed remedies ever offered to the public. It is one of the great tonics and life-giving stimulants which he medical profession have been compelled to recognize and pre-scribe. Messrs. Northrop & Lyman, of Toronto, have given to the preparation of their pure Quinine Wine the great care due to its importance, and the standard excellence of the article which they offer to the public comes into the market purged of all the defects which skilful observation and scientific
