Mr. Jacob Wilcox of St. Thomas, Ontario, is one of the best known men in that vicinity. He is now, he says, an old man, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has made him feel young again.

"About a year ago I had a very severe attack of the grip, which resulted in my not having a well day for several months afterwards. I was completely run down and my system was in a Terrible Condition. I lost flesh and became depressed in spirits. Finally a friend who had been benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla advised me to try it and I did so. I continued taking it until I used twelve bottles and today I can honestly say Hood's Sarsaparilla has restored me to my former health." JACOB WILCOX, St. Thomas, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the Only True Blood Purifier

Prominently in the public eye today. It is superior when all other preparations fail.

Domestic Woods

You will be surprised if you call. You have no idea what beautiful woods grow in our Canadian forest. We can show native woods in our Pratt Pianos that are as desirable as imported woods for rich coloring, beauty of grain and figure and for fineness of finish.

We can show native woods that are comparatively unknown, but rank with the most celebrated kinds for actual value. This alone allows the suggestion that our native products are as good as foreign. The suggestion is verified to a fact, when it comes to the Pratt Pianos, on exhibition at our Showrooms.

If you want a source of pride in beautiful native wood, buy a Pratt Piano.

JUNE 10.—Pleasant rumors are wafted in the air of coming events. June weddings are always interesting and at present so many are on the tapis for this and the coming month that but little else has been thought of in society circles. The marriage of Miss Roberts, daughter of Rev. Canon Roberts to Mr. Archie McDonald will take place tomorrow in Christ church and will be a very fashionable affair, as I understand it is to be a white wedding and there will be three bridesmaids, but next week I hope to give a more interesting description of it.

The many friends of Miss Margaret Bailey, daughter of Dr. L. Bailey of the University will be pleased to hear that a cablegram has been received announcing her safe arrival in Australia and her marriage to Mr. Harlow E. West of West Albany, Australia. Mr. West is to be congratulated upon having won so brave and charming a bride, who has proved her devotion by so fearlessly undertaking such a long journey and to both are extended the best wishes of many friends for much happiness in their far distant home.

Miss Cline McDonald of Montreal is here, having come to be present at the marriage of her brother Mr. Archie McDonald.

Miss Mabel Smith is here the guest of her friend Miss Powys.

Miss Gregory is spending a week with relatives in St. John.

Mistake of His Life! He got the wrong kind of sarsaparilla. That was the mistake. Perhaps the druggist didn't have any other kind. Perhaps the man just asked for "sarsaparilla," and the druggist naturally gave him Ayer's. Perhaps..... But, anyhow, he had Ayer's when he got home, and "home" was miles away from the drug-store. Rather than go back to change it, he took Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It was a revelation to him. He never knew, till then, what sarsaparilla was. He felt so strong he had to wreak his strength on something. But let him tell it: "Your sarsaparilla made me feel so strong that I set to work, alone, to turn a house, 12 x 24, and 8 feet high. I turned it round, and moved it back 16 feet, in a day and a half..... I am so pleased I got your sarsaparilla instead of —s." These are only scraps from a letter recently received from THOMAS WARD, Hill St., Oliphant, Pa. There are many like him, who wont know what sarsaparilla can do, till they take Ayer's. Once they use it, they'll always choose it.

Send for the "Curebook." It tells of cures by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Free. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

DEACONS OF MUSEUMS.

One Evidence of Declining Real Estate Values in New York streets.

What has come to be accepted among real estate men as the invariable indication of a change for the worse of a New York thoroughfare is the appearance of museums in which statuary, works of arts, scientific and mechanical exhibits, portraits, and "wonders" are shown. So long as the street is devoted to business uses it is prosperous rent is high, trade is brisk, and the demand for stores continuous; such a thing as a museum, whether for the exhibition of a three-headed girl, a white-haired Albino, or an educated pig, is never seen. Then there comes a time when business languishes, rents fall, and tenants are hard to find. This condition lasts for a short time, and then a museum appears with a sign on the front, "Admission to All, Ten Cents," or "Five Cents Admits to All; No Extras," as the case may be.

The work of transforming an untenanted store into a museum is neither troublesome nor expensive. These exhibitions do not come under the head of the permanent museums, which are duly licensed by the mayor, and are fixtures in certain parts of town. They are, so to speak, ephemeral museums that start up in neighborhoods which are changing. The itinerant museum manager's chief exhibits are inanimate—statues, panoramas, wheels of fortunes, reproductions of foreign localities and buildings, calliopes, music boxes, and kalidoscopes. Of course, there are some freaks—dwarfs, giants, men and women of peculiar physical characteristics, girls having whiskers, women of abnormally large feet, Indians, wild men from Borneo and its vicinity, performers who sing like birds, sleight-of-hand men, and deft card players. But the salary list is largest in the announcements at the door. "We are paying $5,000 a week for the services of the Mexican giant," a sign may say, or "This week only: the $10,000 beauty, now on her way to St. Petersburg." The actual pay roll of such a museum is very small. The music is machine made. The manager is the doorkeeper and treasurer, too. The same tricks are used each day, and the performance given varies in no essential particular. The item of rent, however, is a larger one. This is an outlay which requires cash, and it is for this
