May 11,- Invitations were issued on Friday of last week by the Curlers to a Calico ball to be given in the curling rink tomcrrow (Thursday) evening. The rink has been beautifully decorated and adorn. ed for the occasion, and those who will attend are anticipating a most delightful and brilliant evening.

I hope to give a description of the ball and the toilettes worn by the ladies in my next letter. I hear some very fetching print gowns have been made for this affair, that for prettiness and style quite out rival richer material.

Mrs. Percy Lord entertained a party of friends with Fan-Tan one evening last week.

Miss Ida Boardman gave a five o'clock tea on Saturday afternoon to a number of young ady friends. As usual with Miss Boardman's parties, this was a most pleasant affair.

Miss Nelson's "Musicale" on Thursday evening in the St. Croix hall, was greatly enjoyed by the large audience present. The chorus were of ex cellent selection and well executed. Miss Nelson and Mr. Fredric Lowell sang with violin obligato, "Eternamente," which delighted the audience, Miss Nelson as an encore sang most exquisitely ""sn Bolt." Miss Nelson was attired in a lovely dress of white chiffon trimmed with mink tur, which was most becoming. A trio "boating" sung by Miss Florence Sullivan, Mrs. Hazen Grimmer, Miss Jean Sprague, Miss Kate Nelson, Miss Kate Ladrigan, and Miss Alice Bates, received much applause. Mr. George Downes in a fine baritone voice sang "Jerusalem." This is Mr. Downes first appearance in public as a singer he certainly achieved a great success and won for himself many compliments from the music loving public, who hope to soon have the pleasure of hearing him again. Miss Florence Sullivan looking must stately and charming in a beautiful gown of cream colored china silk, sang most delightfully "I've seen the swallows pass by" from the opera "Villanelle." Mr. Fredric Lowell and Ms Verne Whitman were of great assistance to Miss Nelson, and were highly complimented by those who had the pleasure of attending the concert and hearing them sing.

The "Travellers" club have discontinued their meetings until the autumn when the first journey they take they will be entertained by Mrs. W. H. Cole. During the summer they have planned numerous picnics and outings, which they hope will be of benefit to them in their literary efforts during the winter.

The coming election is the chief topic, every thing else seems of minor importance, and more interest is shown than at any previous election for years. At the convention on Monday af ernoon of the liberal conservative party Mr. G. W. Ganong was un animously selected as the liberal conservative candidate. In the evening Hon. Messrs Foster and Hazen addressed the conservatives in the Curling rink which was finely adorned with bunting and flags, across the top of the stage in blue letters on a white ground the heart felt, stirring words, "God Save the Queen." and "Canada for Canadians." There was a number of ladies in the large audience who were greatly interested in the speeches and proceedings. The band was present and played a number of selections "Our own Canadian Home" was heard and received with applause. The meeting was a lengthy one, and closed with cheers for the Queen, Messrs Ganong and Foster and the conservative | arty. A Church of England Sunday school conference will be held in the parish of Christ church on Tues. day and Wednesday of next week. Arrangements are being made to pleasantly entertain the delegates who are ex; ected to attend from various parts of the province. The party given in the Grand Army hall, Calais, on Friday evening by the Misses Mina McKu ick, Mattie McCartney, Flora Coeke, Ella W. Harrison and Minnie Haycock, was a very jolly and pleasant one. Earl Poulett Does Not Wish His Eldost Son to Inherit. The case of Earl Poulett is unique, for he has no fiercer desire than to die penniless. feet high. This tough old man at the age of 70, continues doggedly to devest himself of property in order that his eldest son and heir may inherit nothing more than the title and a tew heirlooms, of which it seems, his father cannot deprive him by any action or strategy known to the law. Earl Poulett's strange story was partly told a year or two ago. At the age of 22, while engaged in sowing wild oats, he became infatuated with Elizabeth Newman, the daughter of a humble pilot at Portsmouth, and, believing R. Satzster, A. E. Chapman, J. H. Marks and her a virtuous girl. he married and made her a peeress. Less than six months afte rward she presented her astounded lord with a son, of which he emphatically disavowed the parentage. He left his wife and child forthwith and never saw either again, but the child was born in wedlock and the law said it was his legal offspring. Elizabeth went back to her people, and the boy was nurtured in poverty and vice, and at this moment, although he bears and uses the
