Mrs. Bou bee who has been staying with Col. and Mrs. Stewart leaves for England this week.

Surg .- Major Lees-Hall has received orders to leave by next mail. His successor has already been on this station and was very popular. F The Buzzard was the first man of war to arrive.

I was summery to see the blue jackets, though no doubt they heartily wished it were summer.

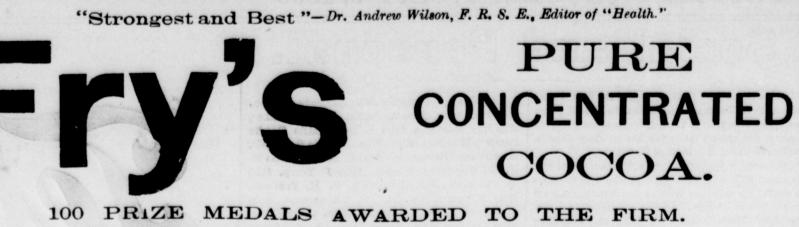

Halifax society will regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Reginald White which occurred suddenly in England on Thursday of last week As Miss Sinclair. Mrs. White was one of the reigning belles here. Ever since her marriage shs has been in delicate health and has caused her family much anxiety. Mrs. White's new born bady died also. The deceased was a daughter of the late Captain Sinclair and a sister of Mrs. F. J. Tremaine and Dr. Siuclair to whom much sympathy is extended.

The marriage of Miss Kate Kenny and Mr. Bridson, R. N. took place last week at the Langham hotel in London, and was attended by Mrs. and Miss Daly, Admiral and Mrs. Fane, Captain and Mrs Primrose, Colonel and Mrs. Will and many of the brides triends and relatives at present in England. Many cables of congratulation were sent to Mr. and Mrs Bridson on the morning of their marriage. Mrs. Will and her children are expected to accompany Mrs. Kenny back to Halifax to spend the summer at Thorndale.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker of the Grove are about to leave Halffax and will be very much missed by their many friends. I believe a testimonial is on foot among her many friends to present Mrs. Tucker with a token of their regard for her. Mrs. Tucker will be much missed esspecially in St. Lukes parish where she was always foremost in good works and in whom the poor always found a ready helper. Mrs. and Miss Tucker will go on a visit to a married daughter before proceeding to Bermuda.

The recital at the conservatory of music on Friday v ning was as usual well attended. The programme was most creditable performed by the per ons whose names appeared on it, Miss Beatrice Whidden doing especially fine work in her violin golos. Miss Wabel Botsford of Connecticut and Miss Annie McDonald of Prince Edward Island, two of the conservatorys most promising pupils also merit special mention and Master Max Fyshe 18 also to be congratulated on his attainments. These recitals serve to give confidence to the youthful performers and demonstrate to their friends the satisfactory progress being made by the pupils of the conservatory.

I am informed that the Crescent will not be here till the first of June and also that Mrs. Erskine is

New York.

The programme was varied and most interesting including bar and trapez = performances, tumbling and club swinging. The music was delightful, a good orchestra furnished accompaniments for the various performances while several solos on diverse instruments were well rendered. The introductory address was given by Mr. Harry F. McLeod in a pleasing manner. Little Miss Beatrice Payson gave a very pretty exhibition of club swinging. The fact that he received news of his appointment on Friday evening and left early the following morning to resume his duties, did not bebar his gentleman friends from tendering him a farewell oyster supper at Hotel Weldon on Friday evening, and this is but a slight token of the esteem in which he is held. Dr. Ellis left many friends who wish him every success in his new field of labor and who realize that his departure leaves a void which will be hard to fill

ANTIGONISH.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Antigonish at J. R. Mc. Illreith & Co's book store.]

MAY 7.-Society has been very dull here for some time, the ladies, and gentlemen too, have been very busily engaged at house cleaning, quite an number are having their houses painted and their walls papered. There has been delightful weather since May came in and every one seems to take advantage of the beau iful days for enjoyment, except the ones who are too much engaged at heir business, and even those seem to have a more cheerful appearance than when the days were dull and cold. Quite an number of new cottages are going up this summer, Mr. Fred Trotter is building a snug cottage near his present home and if rumor can be depended on their will be a happy bond of union between a well known young man and a Halifax lady. The many friends of both parties are anxious that such should be the case, as the groom is one of the most popular young men in town and the bride wto is considered a very fine young lady would be quite an addition to social c.rcles.

The many friends of Dr. A. J. Chisholm will be very sorry to hear of his very serious illness, he has been quite delerious for some time but hop s are entertained that he will come through under the skilful treatment of Dr. Huntly.

Dr. Cameron's little boy has been laid up with diphtheria and it is very doubtful if he will pull through. The family have the heartfelt sympathy of a host of triends in their sad trouble.

Death has been visiting our town and on Sunday one of the fairest of our young ladies was called away in the person of Minnie ( hisholm daughter of Mr. Roderick Chisholm, St. Ninian street. The funeral on Monday was one of the largest ever seen here, showing the esteem in which she was held. The father, sisters and brothers have the sympathy of a host of friends in their sad loss.

The band concert was a grand success. The hall was packed and everybody enjoyed themselves very much. Among those who took part were: Miss Newcomb, Miss Gossip, Miss Grant, Miss Kirk, Miss May Jocelyn and little Miss McIntosh, Messrs McCarroll, Turnbu l, Chisholm, Power, Mc-Neil and Taylor. The band is getting along very nicely under the leadership of Bandmaster Hendersou who comes here regularly from Pictou.

Miss Laha G aham of Halifax is visiting her cousin Mrs. Ernest Gregory.

Mr. Bernisceni went to St. John last week and intends returning on Friday with his family, they are to reside in W. H. McPhie's house on Pleasant street.
