

ST. STEPHEN AND CALAIS.

[Progress is for sale in St. Stephen by Master Ralph Trainor, and at the bookstores of G. S. Wall and J. Vroom & Co. in Calais at O. P. Treat's.]

Dec. 23.—It is really wonderful how quickly eighteen ninety six has gone on! Christmas and the New Year are again close upon us, Christmas with its grand surprises, and its many and sad disappointments, its blessings and its bills, and lastly but certainly not least, its presents. Before my letter is printed all its joys and sorrows will be in the past, and we will be looking forward to the new year and its hopes.

Everybody is so intent upon preparations for Christmas day, that no heed has been given to society; indeed I have not heard of any social doings at all this week.

Christ church, and Trinity church are already adorned with green and are radiant for Christmas Day, much time and preparation has been given to the music for the Christmas services which will be held in the morning.

Two handsome books called 'Souvenirs of Calais and St. Stephen' containing pictures of all points of interest in the two towns, and many of their finest residences and churches are offered for sale in the book stores. Mr. Will S. McKay is the artist who arranged the books, and has received many compliments for the taste he has shown in his selections for them.

A very pleasant party of young people met in the handsome drawing room of Mrs. James Mitchell-Hinkley Hill on Tuesday afternoon to meet Miss Hudson. Mrs. Mitchell and Miss Margaret made most gracious entertainers and with Miss Hudson's parlor readings the time was very enjoyably spent. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Neale and little Miss Quence were the 20th for a week's visit to Boston.

It is stated on good authority that the 'Kineass', a gorgeous carnival of nations, it is to be prepared by Miss Hudson at an early date. We understand, that about two hundred will participate, and an up to date people we do not wish to educate an entertainment like the Kineass to be allowed to fall through. Mrs. G. Lurell Grimmer and her son Roy spent Thursday and Friday in town the guests of Mrs. Waterbury.

Miss Ida Boardman has returned from a delightful visit to New York city.

Miss Florence Mitchell's young friends are glad to welcome her among them again. Miss Mitchell arrived home on Friday.

Mrs. Martha Downes has returned from a very pleasant visit in Houlton, Maine.

Miss MacNichol and Miss Helen MacNichol are visiting Boston this week.

V. S. G. Davis of the Union church, Calais, is from Brattleboro, Vermont, where he spent a month to recruit his failing health.

Dr. and Mrs. Franklin Eaton of Providence, Rhode Island, will remain until after Christmas, and will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Eaton. Dr. Eaton has recently returned from a short visit in Providence.

Miss Agnes Lowell of this city who is teaching in a Ladies Seminary in Oyster, Penn., will accompany Miss Eleanor Nelson to Europe the last of December.

Miss Daisy Hanon and Miss Madeline Sisson, left on Friday to spend their holiday in Fredericton and Miss May Carter has gone to Kingston to spend her vacation with relatives.

Miss Madeline Stackhouse of Eastport is visiting her friends Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Boyd.

Mr. Ralph Barker, senior class at Yale, is home for the Christmas vacation.

Misses Margaret and Esther Blak of the Edgehill school at Windsor, have returned home for a three weeks holiday.

Miss Winifred Todd arrived from Andover, Mass., on Wednesday and was warmly greeted by her relatives and friends. Miss Todd is a pupil at Abbot academy, an old and famous school for girls.

Mr. Vernon Whitman, principal of the Calais High school, and his assistants, Miss Eaton and Miss Hoxie, left on Saturday for their respective homes to remain during the holidays.

Mrs. S. H. Blair is in Boston the guest of her cousin Miss Henrietta Ridgeway at 129 Charles st.

GREENWICH.

Dec. 22.—A very successful entertainment was given in the Public hall on Tuesday evening. Notwithstanding the bad condition of the travelling, a large number were present who did full justice to the goods things provided. The fancy booth which contained a large assortment of useful and fancy Christmas novelties, was presided over by Miss Blanche Richards and Miss Grace Fowler. Miss Flossie Marley presided over a well filled lemon tree. Miss Edith Belyea and Miss Nellie Whelpley very efficiently tended the candy booth which contained a goodly supply of home made candies, but much to the regret of the young ladies, the supply was not equal to the demand.

Miss Jennie Holder as "Rebecca at the well" dispensed hot and cold lemonade and was assisted by Miss Sadie Belyea who supplied the humorous applicants with cake. Miss George Belyea and Miss Minnie Seely also assisted very materially in the way of registering guesses for a handsome doll and clock which were gifts from St. John friends. Before the entertainment came to a close the Snuggles family were introduced to the audience. Miss Blanche Richards as the Widow Snuggles, acted her part very effectively and introduced her eight daughters to the audience, each one acting her part very nicely, which caused a great deal of merriment and applause. Altogether a very pleasant and successful evening was spent by all a nice sum of money was realized which goes for church purposes.
