The following address, beautifully done in mauve and white, was the work of Mr. Francis Walker: VICTORIA'S TOKEN TO ANOTHER JUBILEE SOVEREIGN. Two Queens we celebrate this year—The first more widely known,

Crowned with a regulation crown Adorns the usual throne; And, for her sixty years of fame, And many acts of grace, Five hundred millions shout her name— Head of the British race.

Big cannon's boom, bright flags are seen, And bands strike up, "God Save the Queen." The second Queen we have to praise No guns and bands annoy, Her crown is called "Content"— A crown, that seldom kings enjoy. Her gems, those actions that surpass The price of rubies far, Her throne, beside this hearth no shocks Of fifty years could mar. No better hand could claim on earth Victoria's golden sign of worth.
