

There is very little to record in the way of social news this week, the entire time and attention of the younger portion of society having been given to the flower show and to rehearsa's and preparations for the "Pirates of Penzance" which will be sung next Wednesday and Thursday. The former event was held on Thursday and Friday of this week and proved just as successful as preceding chrysanthemum shows have done. In point of richness and variety of display it may be said. to have surpassed other years the color and beauty of specimens being really wonderful. Much taste was exhibited in the grouping, and the most charming effects were obtained. Society was well represented, and while everybody worked energetically for the success of the show, there was still time for social enjoyment of an informal nature. The chrysanthemum exhibi ion has become an established institution and it is pleasing to note the general interest of the citizens.

The ladies who were assisting in various capacities were Mesdames A. H. Hanington, C. P. Clarke. Beverly Macaulay, W. C. Whittaker, G. U. Hay, Keltie Jones, J. D. Hazen, Geo. Curiosity drew many to the "Mysterious tea" in Leinster street church Tuesday evening, though doubtless the attendance would have been larger had the weather been more favorable. The mystery explained itself once the menu was examined, the different dishes appearing thereon being designated by some name descriptive of or associated is some way with the original article. For instance, "Boston's Overthrow," meant an excellent cup of tea; and so on through the entire menu The young ladies who looked after the patrons were, Miss Barbour, Miss Stevens, Miss Allen Mrs. D. E. Loomer, Misses Huestis, Miss A. Allen, Miss Knott, Miss Brundage, Miss Rising Misses Weldon, Miss Clerk, Miss Currie, Miss Sulis, Mrs. Fred Jones, Miss Wetmore, Miss Al ward, Miss Erb and Miss Smalley.
