Last week was a week of teas small and great, as this week will be one of skating parties if the frosts hold.

On Monday afternoon of last week, Mrs. James Duffus gave a small tea for Mrs. Huddleston, who has been well entertained during her stay here. On Tuesday Mrs. Stephen's large at home was the event of the day, and passed off most charmingly. Mrs. Stephen received in a handsome toilette, and her tea table was quite one of the prettiest of the day. Among the guests were all the representatives of the town and garrison, and some very smart gowns were worn.

On Wednesday there were two small teas given in Morris street houses, both very pleasant and cheery. One was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Huddleston, while the other was almost altogether composed of the unmarried element, this latter being a new fashion in teas, which was originated last year by Mrs. Norton-Taylor, and is a very popular form of entertainment in Upper Canada.

On Friday Mrs. Montgomery Moore's weekly day was well attended, and Mrs. Moren gave a small tea at her house on Pleasant street, which was as pleasant and well done as all her parties are. There were a goodly number of people present for a small tea, and the tea table was quite surrounded during the late afternoon.

For the next few weeks there will be very little gaiety as most people will be quite engrossed in preparations for Christmas. In spite of the many charitable societies of the town, there must be a number of children whose Christmas will be anything but a merry one, and it would be a good work to look them out, and provide them at least with a few sweets and a warm garment piece in honor of the day. There is a deal of sad childhood in this city in winter, if work is scarce, and Christmas is before every other, a festival for children.

Mrs. Wickwire's dance on Wednesday evening was a very successful one, and was, of course, most beautifully done. The Leinster band, for the first time here, played for dancing, and acquitted itself admirably; not only it is an excellent band, but it also plays dance music with that desirable swing which makes all the difference to the dancers. Dancing was in the drawing room and supper in the dining room the smoking and card room being upstairs. People danced most energetically, and some very pretty gowns were worn, quite the handsomest being Mrs. Huddleston's white satin trimmed with exquisite lace. Miss Wickwire was looking particularly well, and among the married ladies Mrs. Cotton looked charming. The latter, by the way, were in the minority, as there were a very large number of girls present. The dance was a late one, and altogether, most successful. The next dance on the cards is to come off in Christmas week, and is to be a large one.

The engagement is announced of Captain Sir Robert Arbothnot, R. N., and Miss Mabley, daughter of Colonel Mabley of the Seaforth Highlanders. Sir Robert Arbothnot has many friends in Halifax where he served for some years as a midshipman, before succeeding to the baronetcy. The marriage will shortly take place in England of the eldest daughter of Colonel Croker-King and

THE WEDDING RING.

Death lurks in every place in this "vale of tears." There is no happiness, no joy, no success, no sorrow and no failure that may not secrete him.

A favorite hiding-place for death, where women are concerned, is in the very happiness and rapture of wifehood and the sacred joy of motherhood. But too frequently there is death in the embrace of love, and the first touch of baby-fingers is succeeded by the chilly grasp of the grim destroyer.

If wives and mothers would only resort to the right remedy when they suffer from weakness and disease of the delicate and important feminine organs that are baby's threshold to life, there would be fewer husbands and fathers who have been saddened by an infant's loss. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes the feminine organs strong, healthy and vigorous. It fits for wifehood and motherhood. It banishes the maladies of the period of suspense, and makes baby's entry to the world easy and comparatively painless. An honest druggist will not try to induce a customer to take an inferior substitute for this great remedy, for the sake of extra profit.

Mrs. Seagle was a great sufferer from a combination of female diseases, a few years ago, from which she has been entirely cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Geo. A. Seagle, Esq., of Box 120, Wytheville, Va. "She is thoroughly convinced that there is no medicine on earth equal to the 'Favorite Prescription,' and she doesn't hesitate to say so. She has recommended it to her lady friends, and in all cases, where it has been given a fair trial, it has given entire satisfaction."

In cases of constipation and torpid liver, no remedy is equal to Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They regulate and invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. They never fail. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. They never gripe. An honest dealer will not urge a substitute upon you.

Lieut. Dyas, of the eight Hussars. Colonel Croker King is well remembered here and also his wife, who was a daughter of the late T. C. Kinnear, and his sister of Mrs. Hamilton Smythe.

In Halifax society proper there is also a new engagement, on which congratulations are now being received. The happy pair, by the way, actually succeeded in taking the public by surprise, as the announcement was quite unexpected. The wedding will take place after Easter.

I hear that as was the case last year, the officers of the garrison have obtained the rink on Monday and Tuesday afternoons for hockey practice. The prospects for the hockey season never looked brighter, and the garrison will put up a better team than ever before. The ladies are also to commence play as soon as the rink season opens and though they have not yet attained a very high degree of proficiency, they have certainly learned to appreciate all the points in a good game, and are most enthusiastic on the subject. The private afternoons will be Tuesday and Friday, and a committee will shortly take them in hand. The trouble of last year regarding the presence of children on hand days will be avoided this season, as last year they kept away several good subscribers.

The Ethel and Lillian Tucker company which opens an engagement here on Monday evening certainly comes well recommended by the press of New Brunswick and Eastern Maine. Miss Tucker will be pleasantly remembered here as a bright and pleasing society actress whose repertoire contained only the very best plays and whose support was unusually strong for a popular price company. This season Miss Lillian Tucker is associated with her talented sister and her ingenue roles are said to be charmingly original and clever. Mr. William Richards, according to advance notices is still with the company; and another important young member is Mr. Cecil Owens an Englishman and the son of a clergyman, who though still very young has travelled extensively in Australia, China, India and other countries where he played leading business with first class companies. Miss Mary Horne is a charming speciality artist who wins numberless admirers everywhere by her chic, dainty grace, sweet voice and winning manner. The company will play "In the Ranks," "Captain Letterblair," "The Queen's Money" and many other well known plays and Miss Tucker will probably repeat some of last seasons successes.

TRURO.

Progress is for sale in Truro by Mr. G. O. Fulton, & Messrs. D. H. Smith & Co.

Dec. 8.—The very Junior Bachelor's dance came off last Thursday evening and despite much adverse criticism the promoters of the evening have every reason to congratulate themselves on its complete success. The chaperones were: Mrs. D. B. Cummings, Mrs. F. C. Blair, Mrs. H. W. Crowe, and Mrs. C. A. Armstrong, and it is needless to say that those looked well after the comfort and enjoyment of the young people present who were enjoying all the delights of their first "subscription" ball. It was a pretty sight as the whole party moved in the mazes of the dance, the demies for the most part arrayed in white muslins and airy soft fabrics, with here and there a dash of color to brighten the fleet. Miss Ina Blair and Miss Jennie Flemming, were spoken of as being superlatively lovely, the former in a lovely frock of blue green India silk with pale pink trimmings; the latter in an equally becoming toilette of blue green nun's cloth with trimmings of white chiffon and ribbons. The Messrs., Lambert and McNutt furnished music, and excelled themselves being frequently enthusiastically encored. It was a happy and well satisfied crowd of young people that dispersed shortly after midnight.

Among those present were: Misses Minnie McKenzie, Gertrude Cummings, Josie Somerville, Maud Crowe, Gertrude Donkin, Maud Shaffer, Edith Leckie, Lena Shearer, Ada Cook, Blanche McKenzie, Bessie Turner, Letta Craig, Mabel McCurdy, Jennie Flemming, Helen Fowler, Gertrude McIntosh, Ethel Dwyer, Jessie Snook, Mame Snook, Minnie Snook, George Blair, Katie Gladwin, Jean Creelman, Ida Jamieson, May Jamieson, Susie Lintor, Lulu Archibald, Edith Smith, Alice "Hains" Gladys Dimock, Mabel Murray, Messrs. N. E. Murray, H. Donkin, A. Crowe, and W. A. Butchart, which four young gallants composed the very complete committee. Besides there were present: Win Gladwin, Arthur Dwyer, Lewis Harding, Geo. Snook, Willie Rennie, Percy Page, John Hay, Bert Smith, Ashley Smith, Frank Dickie, Clarence Dickie, Leslie Smith, Charlie Harris, Charlie Thomas, Harry McCurdy.

Dr. and Mrs. F. S. Yorston appeared out on Sunday last attending service at St. Andrews and the First Presbyterian.

Mrs. H. W. Crowe is entertaining two evenings this week, large parties for what last night (Tuesday) and again tomorrow night. The guests last night were: Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Wetmore, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Wetmore, Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Moorman, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. M. Dickie, Dr. and Mrs. Yorston, Dr. and Mrs. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Black, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blair, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Blair, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sumner, Mr. and Mrs. Hemeon, Mr. and Mrs. E. Phillips, Hon. F. A. and Mrs. Laurence, Mr. and Mrs. Lovitt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prince, Capt. and Mrs. Yui, Mrs. Henry Dimock, Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Blanchard, Mrs. Vernon, Miss McCrowe, Miss Black, Miss Shand, Mrs. Ered Prince and Dr. D. H. Muir were the fortunate prize winners. A very elaborate supper was served about twelve, which was discussed at great length. Miss Florence Nelson takes charge of the organ at St. John's, on Sunday next. The present incumbent Dr. W. K. Vincent leaves for the old country the last of the week.

Miss Emma Snook gave a small but very pleasant evening last Friday in honor of her guest Miss Hornsby. Those present being the house party were: Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Gourley, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prince, Miss Yorston, Misses Bligh, Misses Bigelow. Messrs. Hornsby, Williams, Cotton, B'low. Though impromptu the evening was a thoroughly pleasant one, cards and supper being followed by a carpet dance.

The week past and present has been, and is being very gay. Mrs. T. G. McMullen entertained two large at home parties yesterday in the afternoon from four to six and in the evening from seven to nine.

On Monday from half past four to seven Mrs. G. A. Leyton was receiving her friends at Ravensworth. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Lee Russell and Miss Read who presided in the dining room. The table was laid in pink and white, pink carnations and smilax. In the drawing room the disposal of potted palms and a profusion of yellow chrysanthemums gracefully arranged the whole effect softened by the light of numerous candelabra, completed a very charming tout ensemble. Miss McKay, Miss Anna Sutherland and Mr. Walter McKenzie did some brilliant execution on the piano during the afternoon.

Among Mrs. Layton's guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Mooran, Mr. and Mrs. M. Dickie, Prof. and Mrs. Lee Russell, Dr. and Mrs. Langille, Mr. and Mrs.

G. P. Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell, Mrs. Bret Black, Mrs. C. E. Bentley, Mrs. C. Bent, Mrs. Rufus Blair, Mrs. D. B. Cummings, Mrs. Albert Black, Mrs. H. V. Kent, Mrs. Henry Blair, Mrs. A. C. Patterson, Mrs. W. K. Campbell, Mrs. Norman Layton, Mrs. F. A. Laurence, Mrs. Wm. Cummings, Mrs. Henry McRobert, Miss Bent, Miss Daggett, Miss M. Crowe, Misses Sutherland, Misses Leckie, Miss O. Smith, Miss McKay, Miss Nora Black, Miss Shand, Miss Pattillo, Miss Yull, Bible Hill, Miss Jean Crowe, Miss Thomas, Rev. Ernest Underwood, Dr. D. H. Muir, Messrs. W. P. McKay, W. Crowe, G. A. Hall, F. W. Cutten, G. H. Williams, W. McKenzie. Miss Bailey left for St. John last Friday from which port she was a passenger per City of St. John for the old country. Dr. W. S. Muir leaves on Thursday, tomorrow, for Scotland.

Miss Lander on route to her southern home in W. Virginia was a guest of Mrs. Gourley at Brockfield House for a few days this week. Miss Margaret Leckie has returned from a visit with Halifax friends.

SACKVILLE.

Progress is for sale in Sackville by W. J. Goodwin.

Dec. 8.—Last Thursday the Sewing Guild were entertained at tea by Mrs. J. F. Allison. There was a good attendance and a large amount of orders finished up. The next meeting will not be till after the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. A. W. Bennett gave a very pleasant little whist party the same evening. The guest present were Senator Wood, Miss Wood, Mr. Herbert Wood, Miss Ethel Ogden, Miss Greta Ogden, Miss Nelson, Miss Jennie Black, Mr. Walter Black, Mr. Tait, Mr. Mowbray, Mr. W. Harrison. A very agreeable addition to Mrs. Bennett's pretty parlors is the old fashioned fire place that has recently been built and the blazing logs on this cold frosty night enabled all to enjoy to the full a clear fire, a clean hearth and the rignour of the game. A dainty supper was served at an early hour so that the last round might be finished before the turning off of the electric lights rang the curfew bell.

On Friday evening the Eclectic society of Mt. Allison ladies college appeared before the public in Beethoven hall. The platform was prettily decorated and from first to last it was an entertainment that thoroughly interested. There was some good music, including a whistling solo which came to a successful and harmonious conclusion, the old proverb not with standing; two well gotten up tableaux, Faith, Hope and Charity, and Bluebeard, and an amusing farce, "The Widow Snuggles and her Daughters." A very agreeable feature was the cup of hot cocoa, "grateful and comforting," and sandwiches with which the audience were regaled at the close of the performance.

An extremely pleasant and social tea was given by Mrs. Wells of Weldon street on Friday evening. It was a ladies party and included several teachers from the college and a number of townspeople.

Another entertainment on the same day was a dinner party at Capt. Milners to celebrate the 75th birthday of Mr. Thomas Chapman, M. S. Milner's mother. Besides the hostess there were present two other of Mrs. Chapman's daughters, Mrs. M. Haffley, and Mrs. Frederic Harris, and of her nineteen grandchildren none were there.

It was not exactly "a hot time" at Monday evening's concert in Amherst. On the posters the management guaranteed that the Academy of Music would be well warmed, but the atmosphere was cold enough for the thermometer to get down off the nail. Presumably it was from circumstances over which they had no control, as the contingent from Sackville speaks in warm terms of the kindness they received and the hospitality with which they were entertained. Madame Harrison charmingly gowned and in splendid voice, appeared to great advantage, showing unmistakable evidence of the training she has been taking abroad. Her exceptional high notes are sweeter and clearer than before, and those in the middle and lower register much improved. While Mrs. Harrison has added to her repertoire she shows too great a predilection for songs she has given many times before. As old songs have been classed with old books and old friends, probably some of these have been sung by request, but many in her audience would not object if the "ivory gates and golden" were nailed up or taken off the hinges and it is high time that the "gentle lark" was skied and a bird of some other feather brought out.

Miss Sadie Foster of Dorchester has been the guest of Mrs. E. A. Powell.

On Friday Mr. Charles McDonald of Halifax passed through Sackville on his way to Edmonton, Alberta.

Miss S. Freeman is visiting Miss Bliss at Mt. Whately.

Miss Emily Roach of Nappan was at the Ladies College on Sunday.

Mr. Frank Roach is the guest of Mr. Macey Wheaton, Upper Sackville.

Mrs. Charles Pichard returned on Saturday from a short visit in St. John.

Mrs. Thomas Pichard is slowly but surely improving and has been able to walk a few steps.

Mr. Leonard Crane of Bayfield is expected shortly in Sackville to take charge of the clothing department in Charles Pichard's store.

Capt. Frith Atkinson has been seriously ill with two doctors in attendance but up to date is well on the road to recovery.

Mr. Martin Lane left last week for Montreal. Mrs. Lane is still here with her friends.

Miss Winnie Fawcett goes this week to New York to take up Hospital work again.

Mrs. Puelle Ogden, who has been in failing health for the last year has left her old home to live with her daughter Mrs. Capt. Balmor on Bridge Street.

Mrs. Balmor has recently moved from Mr. Saugster's cottage Salem Street to her present residence.

Their is rejoicing at the rectory at the arrival on Sunday night of a Master Wiggins who is a lively young gentleman though at present he weighs only eight pound.

Mr. John Fairley has gone up to Boltonwa from which it is inferred that Miss Lily's health is no improving.

Mrs. Borden and her two young ladies are visiting in Moncton and St. John.

Mr. McGleny is still unable to resume his duties in consequence of continued ill health.

Rev. E. O. Taylor who lectured last Thursday and Friday in Middle Sackville under the auspices of the division, was the guest of Mr. Willard Hicks.

The late account of Mrs. B. Eaton Patterson, who has returned to Kingston-on-the-Hudson, is much more favorable.

Miss Maggie Trueman of Point de Bute has been visiting Miss McLeod of the Ladies college and Mrs. Pichard Trueman on Weldon street.

Miss Edith Trueman has recently returned from Montreal where she has had her eyes successfully treated by Dr. Buller. This famous physician after a professional trip across the Atlantic and a wedding trip at home has resumed his duties and is again beseged by those who sit in darkness.

Mr. John Fawcett of Upper Sackville had rather a bad fall on Saturday. He was fortunately not seriously hurt and hopes to be sufficiently recovered from the shaking up to celebrate his birthday next week.

The literary society in connection with the Epworth League is to meet tomorrow evening at Mr. Palmer's the president of the league.

Mrs. Borden who presides over the literary society, entertained them last week. There are from 25 to 30 members and at present they are reading up the facts of the fourteenth century. Music, coffee and cake are also included in the programme of those pleasant gatherings.

Everyone is asking when the skating rink is to be opened. The curiers have had their rink flooded and frozen which is the skaters feel they ought to have equal privileges. It is not yet known who has taken the ten feet for the inauguration of the rink, though the contest closed some time ago. If it remains in the hands of the skaters as last winter all will feel satisfied excepting a little merry bard music would be an improvement.

The young people have been skating merrily on Allison's pond and last evening a party was being talked of to have a skate on Mele's lake by moonlight.
LADY OF ENALOTT.

FREDERICTON.

Progress is for sale in Fredericton by Messrs. W. T. H. Fenety and J. H. Hawthorne.

Dec. 8.—The Women's Aid Association of the C. of E. gave a Tennysonian entertainment in the church hall on Thursday evening which was a highly successful affair. The first number opened with the "Dream of fair women" and the characters were portrayed by the following young ladies, Helen of Troy, Miss Mabel Sterling, Iphigenia, Miss Annie Tibbita, Cleopatra, Miss McKee, Jepptha's daughter, Miss Frankie Tipple, Rosamond, Miss Edith Hilyard, Margaret, Miss Grace Winslow, Joan of Arc, Miss Nellie Sterling.

The young ladies all looked exceedingly well in their characteristic costumes and were loudly applauded. Mr. Geo. Allen read the poem. Next came the sleeping beauty which was also read by Mr. Allen, Miss Agnes Neil portraying the beauty most charmingly, while Mr. A. R. Tibbits was most realistic as the Prince. Miss Partridge recited The Lotus Eaters, the characters being taken by Misses Neil, Sterling, Tibbits.

A series of living pictures and tableaux were also given which were all highly enjoyed by an appreciative and large audience. Light refreshments were served during the evening under the supervision of Mrs. E. B. Winslow. The entire programme was well carried out and reflects great credit upon the ladies who worked so industriously to make it a success. The colored lights were most effectively manipulated by Mr. G. N. Babbitt.

Mrs. and Mrs. A. G. Brewster contemplate a pleasant trip to New York and will spend Christmas with relatives in the city.
