The Junior Assembly club which is composed of the younger members of society, the buds, who are not yet out, gave their ball last evening in the Masonic hall and a most charming picture it was, never has the old masonic hall held a more animated assemblage, youth and beauty and pretty costumes commingled made a bright scene. For most of those present it was their first ball, and the happy anticipation depicted on the bright young faces gave an added lustre to the whole that was most charming in effect.

About forty couples were present and enjoyed the exhilarating dance to the delightful music of the Horse Shoe club orchestra, the programme contained fourteen dances and three supper extras. Ice cream and refreshments were served during the evening. Mr. F. S. Hilyard assisted the chaperons and acted as floor manager, the chaperons were Mrs. T. Carleton Allen, and Mrs. McCearn. Much credit is due the managing committee, President Frank Sadler, treasurer W. A. McLellan, and secretary S. H. Sterling for such a delightful and suc-

among relatives here, Miss Casey returned to New York yesterday accompanied by her friend Miss McNanley, who will visit her friends for some time. Miss Alice Lillian Butcher of St. John was among he guests at the Queen this week.

Miss Anna Vanwart has cards of invitation out fo a large dancing party for tomorrow evening. Miss Lascelles, returned to St. John on Monday accompanied by her sister Mrs. A. S. Murray. Many friends both in the city and Marysville were much shocked when it was learned on Sunday that Mrs. Alexander Gibson of Marysville had passed peacefully to rest at an early hou: that

Mrs. Gibson was a most estimable lady and had many friends who will long regret the loss of a sincere friend. The funeral took place on Monda y and was the largest ever seen in that town, a large number going up from the city by special train. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. To the bereaved husband and family is extended the sympathy of the community.

Dr. J. Darley Harrison arrived here on Monday afternoon from Edmundton, with the remains of his ate wife and accompanied by his two children and their nurse. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon the interment being made in the Rural cemetery. Services were conducted at the house by the Rev. Mr. Teasdale and Rev. Dean Partridge. The casket was conveyed to the hearse by Messrs. Thomas Fowler, Dr. Fisher, A H. F. Porter, Harry Chesnut and W. Harrison, former friends of the deceased lady. Among the mourners were Dr. Harrison, Chancelor Harrison, Hon. F. P. Thompsor, Prof. Dixon, Mr. Wm. Wilson, Mr. W. of St. John. The students of the university walked in a body in the procession all in their college caps gowns. The floral tributes were very beautiful and included a wreath from the congregation of the church at Edmondton and also one from the choir of the same church. The L-A. Wilmot band of this city sent a very beautiful closed book made of brown and green leaves with lines of white roses and lillies of the valley The Epworth League, a maltese cross.

The former Sunday school class of the deceased lady in this city sent a beautiful crescent, and the Sunday school class of her sister Miss Bessie Logan a wreath of carnations.

FEB. 9:-The approach of lent always has the effect of bringing on a rush of festivities and this year has been no exception; last week fa'r'y bristling with social entertainments while the present week bids fair to rival its predecessor in gaiety.

The second of the assembly Club dances which took place on Wednesday evening came first on the programme, and was if possible even a greater success than the first. Barker's orchestra provided ideal music, while the ladies previded an excel ent supper, and the company dispersed punctually at the appointed hour, one o'clock-after singing the national anthem.

Amongst those present were Dr. and Mrs. E. P. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hewson, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Murray' Mrs. Newton Benedict of Washington D. . .. , Mr. T. W. Bell of St. John Mrs. John M. Lyons, Mrs. George McSweeney, Miss Constance Chandler of Dorchester, Miss Theodora Morse of Amberst, Miss Blaic of Chatham. Miss Blanche Hanington of Dorchester, Miss Randolph, Miss Georgia Cole, Miss Maggie Stronach, Miss Cooke, Miss Agnes McSweeney, Miss Mina McSweeney, Miss Peters, Miss Hanington; Miss Nicholson, Miss Minnie Hunter, Miss Winnie Williams, Miss McCaughy, Miss Pt. field, and Miss White. The gentlemen as before were slightly in excess of the ladies and the genus wallflower was an unknown quantity. Mrs. W. O. Schwartz of Church street entertained a number of the younger members of society on Friday evening. The guests numbered between thirty and forty and a most er joyable evening was

Mrs. W. H. Williams of Highfield street also entertained a number of her friends on Friday evening and as Mr. and Mrs. Williams are ideal hosts it is scarcely necessary to say that the evening was pleasantly spent.

Mrs. George McSweeney gave a very large and most enjoyable whist party on Monday evening at Hotel Brurswick over sixty guests being present. The tables fifteen in number were grouped in the spacious drawing rooms which afford ample accomadation even for so large a number, and the fortunate prize winners were Mrs. W. J. Weldon and Mr. R. A. Border. Mrs. I. W. Binney of Church street has cards out for a large at home this afternoon.

Mrs. C. A. Murray of Alma street has a large whist party this evening and I understand that her cards are out for still another on Friday so we are well provided with amusements for this week.

Miss Alice Wetmore who has been spending a six weeks vacation with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wetmore of Fleet street returned to Boston on Saturday to continue her musical studies. Miss Wetmore has proved a decided acquisition in musical circles since her return lending valuable assistance at several musical entertainments, and her departure will be greatly regretted.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Osman of Hillsboro paid

short visit to Moncton last week. Toe many Moncton friends of Mrs. A. J. Cress_ well, formerly Miss Agnes Taylor, of this city were glad to see her in town again last week, and gave her a most cordial welcome to her ol i home. One of the musical events of the season, to which we have a l been looking forward for some weeks, was the concert given in the Opera house last evening by Miss Bruce and Mr. F. H. Blair of this city assisted by Miss Beatrice Harrington the talented young English soprano who has won many laurels as a concert singer in London, England and who is now vocal instructor at Mount Allisons Ladies College, Miss Alice Lillian Butcher of St. John and the Moncton Amateur orcbestra. It is greatly to be regretted that so excellent an entertainment commanded such a small audience, but the fact that the C. P. R., train was three hours late, thereby delaying the hockey match between St. John and Moncton teams, which had been arranged for seven o'clock, especially on account of the concert thus causing the two attractions to clash, was no doubt largely responsible for the Harrison, Mr. J. J. Weddall and Mr. E. Barbary | slim attendance. As it was however, the performers must have been largely consoled for the size of the audience by the warm appreciation shown, and the enthusiastic reception which greeted them.

The opening numbers by the orchestra were rendered with great spirit, and warmly received, after which the vccalist of the evening Miss Harrington made her appearance, and was given a most cordial welcome. This was Miss Harrington's first appearance before a Moncton audience, and she created a most favorable impression. In addition to a voice uniting great sweetness and expression with rare volumne and compass, she possesses a very charming personality and she captured her audience at once. Her first number was the famous "Jewel song" from Faust, but decidedly the gem of the evening was Jost.'s "Good Bye" which the singer rendered with great force, and dramatic power. Her lighter number "The Silver Ring" and 'Love's Bargain' were most effectively given. Miss Alice

Moncton, and she also made a prompt conquest of her audience. Miss Butcher is a very charming lady with a captivating stage presence, and her simp enatural method of reciting, free from all stage mannerisms is most attractive. Her enunciation is singularly clear and distinct, and in her reading of the pathetic "Swan Song', she was at her very best. Miss Jean Bruce is always a favorite with Moncton audiences being a most satisfactory and delightful refutation of the theory that a prome obtains scant honor in his own country, and her selections were enthusiastically received, in fact if the audience could have had its way nearly every number on the programme would have been repeated. Mr. F. H. Blair delighted the music lovers in the audience with his artistic and brilliant randering o'a most d flicult piano solo, Chopin's E minor Scherzo, the piece was full of melody, and the audience clamored for more but owing to the lateness of the hour had to be contented with a silent acknowledgement from the performer. The programme was brought to a close by a selection from the Grand Duchess, which was given by special request by the Amateur orchestra under the leadership of Professor Watts. Mr. Blair thanked those who had attended in a lew courteous words, and the national anthem concluded a concert which was a success in every way excopt financial y and I fear that the promoters would have little io repay them for all the time and trouble expended, beyond the gratitude of those who were enabled by their efforts to enjoy so exce lent a concert.
