

SACKVILLE.

[Progress is for sale in Sackville by W. J. Goodwin.]

MAR. 23.—In spite of "lame" long shadows, bad roads and March winds the parties still keep up and are well attended. A very pleasant little entertainment was given last week by Mrs. Fred Dickson, York street. It was a sort of "speed the parting guest" affair being given in honor of Edgar George and Dwight Richard; both young gentlemen will leave for the Northwest before long. The invited guests were; Miss Amelia George, Miss Lillie Hart, Mrs. Harmon Humphrey, Miss Florence Webb, Miss Colpitts, Miss Hattie Carter, Miss Annie Carter, Miss Alice Anderson, and Miss Lizzie Odgen; Messrs. Fred Hart, Leaman Dixon, Fred George, Ashley George, A. H. McCready and H. McLaren.

Friday evening one of the brilliant social events of the season took place, the "at home" given by Principal and Mrs. Palmer. It was a thoroughly enjoyable entertainment from the moment you entered the bright hall and were taken charge of by a "neat handed Phyllis" in snowy apron till the last inspiring note of the orchestra. Besides the large dining room and two drawing rooms there were three other parlors thrown open to the guests which made most agreeable retreats from the promenade throng, being cool, sweet with flowers and softly lit with shaded lamps. Another nook that was never unoccupied was a large porch in the wing that was all draped and hung with Chinese lanterns. The office afforded a quiet spot for a number of verberium players who preferred the "rigor of the game" to the more fatiguing if pleasant sight setting. The dining room where a good deal of the promenade took place was beautifully decorated with festoons of red, white and blue crepe paper and wreaths of evergreen over all the windows and doors. There was a large mound of potted plants in the centre and two corners of the room was filled with acacia trees. Facing the main entrance was a small carpeted platform with red curtains forming an effective background and with a piano close by. From this was given a varied programme which alternated with the orchestra numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer, assisted by Miss Palmer received in the drawing room. Miss Kate Palmer was unfortunately unable to be present as she was suffering from the prevailing severe cold. In an alcove of the hall made gay with draperies and Chinese lanterns, Prof. Watts orchestra of twelve pieces was situated and discoursed most entrancing music all the evening. Mr. W. J. Goodwin played the piano and under his able management the music went with a swing and a vim that only a thorough musician is capable of inspiring. They gave selections from light opera, ancient and modern, and filled in any spare moments with college pieces and popular airs that were very attractive. The general good playing of the orchestra was particularly noticeable in the Intermezzo, from Cavalleria Rusticana by Mascagni, and also in the accompaniment to Mr. Frank Bezaus, cornet solo, The Lost Chord. The solo was exquisitely rendered; it was heard to remark that a metal instrument could produce sounds at once so sweet and sympathetic and the player received most flattering comments from the audience.

In the intervals of the orchestral music, was given the agreeable programme that was printed in the ornate little booklets of green, pink and gold that many of the guests will cherish as souvenirs. Mr. Tat opened the evening with the "Soul of the Violin" given with his usual easy diction, Miss Chittick also recited well in a selection from Enoch Arden; there were two very sweet songs from Miss Stewart and Miss Nico, and a very bird-like whistling solo from Miss Florence Webb. The college glee club sang two choruses admirably showing strong evidence of their training. Their motto is evidently "Lifting better up to best." This room was lined with seats and it was pleasant to sit quietly and watch the promenaders. There were many pretty to lettes.

Mrs. Palmer wore black satin with white moire, the bodice trimmed with white chiffon. Miss Palmer, grey corded silk with white lace. Mrs. Bell, black and white striped silk with black chiffon. Mrs. Brecken, black jutei satin. Mrs. Wood, black silk with green brocade front. Mrs. Andrews, black satin with silk gauze sleeves. Mrs. C. Pickard, rose red satin covered with black lace. Mrs. Ryan, black and green silk. Mrs. Calkin, white cloth with moss green velvet. Mrs. C. Ford, black silk with blue chiffon. Miss Lathern, steel blue dress with pearl trimmings. Miss Ethel Odgen, striped organdie over pale green.

Miss Harrington, black and yellow. Miss McLeod, pale yellow. Miss Thomas, jetted red silk. Miss Keith, pale blue. Miss F. Harris, cream with red chiffon. Miss F. Anderson, white with green velvet. Miss Johnstone, white brocade. Miss Roberts, white and yellow. Miss S. Copp, black velvet. Mrs. F. Wilson, black skirt with square cut pink bodice. Miss Tait, black net with natural flowers. Mrs. James Ayer, black and white silk. Miss Katie Brecken, white muslin with pink ribbons. Miss Towse, pale pink. Miss Mary Fawcett, brown and grey with bead trimmings. Mrs. Rius, red silk. Miss Lulu Ford, pale blue. Miss Emmerson, dresden muslin with green ribbons. Miss Jennie Estabrookes, white crepon. Mrs. Edgar Ayer, grey and cream silk. They were of course many more pretty dresses. They did not come sufficiently within my vision to describe accurately, but the general effect was charming.

At the close of the evening ice and cake were served. Invitations were issued to a number outside of Sackville, the party being given by Mr. and Mrs. Palmer personally, not by the academy. There was a large attendance, probably somewhere near five hundred, and a noticeably feature was the number of old or elderly people, who seemed to be enjoying the festivities as much as the young folks. In some of the reminiscences indulged in the progression of the times was spoken of. In the days of the first principal a student was forbidden to play the violin even in his own room but now that delightful instrument was used on all occasions secular or sacred. But boylike they managed to have a good time in spite of strict rules and took it out in punching holes in the walls between their rooms, or that first before the first building was burned a student would crawl on all fours from one end of the place to the other without going into the hall and being caught for making visits in study hours.

Besides the two hundred and seventy-five students from the united institutions the invited guests were, Dr. and Mrs. Allison, Dr. and Mrs. Borden, Prof. and Mrs. Andrews, Prof. and Mrs. Hunter, Dr. and Mrs. Smith, Prof. and Mrs. Paisley, Dr. and Mrs. Brecken, Dr. and Mrs. Stewart, Prof. and Mrs. Woolton, Prof. and Mrs. Chishelm, Prof. and Mrs. Hammond, Prof. Tweedie, Mrs. Archibald, Miss Lathern, Miss Webster, Miss Cook, Miss Thomas, Miss Johnstone, Miss Chase, Miss Jeeves, Miss Harrington, Miss Williams, Miss D. Webb, Miss Odgen, Miss McLeod, Miss Falcerton, Miss Vroom, Miss Keith, Messrs. A. Tait, F. Sprague, H. Parice, Mrs. and Miss Mundy, Mrs. Bumparey, Mr. and Mrs. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Dalry, Mr. and Mrs. C. Pickard, Mrs. and Miss Pickard, Mrs. Cogswell, Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins, Mr. and Mrs. Herritt, Mr. and Mrs. C. Ford, Mrs. and Miss G. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Fulton, Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin, Miss Stewart, Miss Roberts, Mr. Mrs. J. F. Allison, Mr. and Mrs. A. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Pridham, Dr. and Mrs. Carruthers, Dr. and Mrs. Calkin, Mr. and Mrs. Hart, Miss A. Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. McDougall, Mr. and Mrs. Nader, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Copp, the Misses Copp, Mr. and Mrs. F. Emmerson, Miss Emmerson, Miss Cumming, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Copp, the Misses Copp, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ayer, Miss E. Ayer, the Misses Cogswell, Miss Mary Fawcett, the Misses Young, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Read, Miss Hazen, Miss Brittain, Mr. and Mrs. T. Trueman, Miss A. Trueman, Senator and Mrs. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Carter, Miss Carter, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Weldon, Miss Harrison, Dr. and Mrs. Sangster, the Misses Sangster, Miss F. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. H. Pickard, Mr. and Mrs. W. George, Mr. and Mrs. E. Trueman, Mr. and Mrs. G. Black, Mr. and Mrs. F. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Black, Mrs. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Babcock, Miss Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. G. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Odgen, Mr. and Mrs. H. Outten, Mrs. S. C. Trueman, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Bowser, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Odgen, the Misses Odgen, Mr. and Mrs. A. Odgen, Mr. and Mrs. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Black, Miss Black, Mr. and Mrs. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. C. George, Mrs. Chapelle Fawcett, Miss Fawcett, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Powell, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. James Forster, the Misses Bowser, Miss F. Fawcett, the Misses Morin, Mr. and Mrs. Milner, Mr. and Mrs. F. Vandine, Mr. and Mrs. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Belyes, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Fairweather, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Palmer, Messrs. C. Stewart, A. Copp, H. Wood, W. Black, W. Blacky, (Moncton), W. H. Harrison, Jr. L. Harris, F. Harrison, C. Powell, Colpitts, Fraser, Mowbray, Teed, Douglas, McCready, H. Ford, F. Ford, B. Black.

A very pleasant party for the young people was given at Mrs. Goodwin's last Thursday by Miss Hutchinson and Mr. Ety. The guests were: Miss May wells, Miss Beale Carter, Miss Frances Miller, Miss Jennie Ford, Miss Mabel Dixon, Miss Maycott, Miss Laura Miller, Messrs. E. Richardson, F. Doull, Geo. Palmer, Dr. Trueman, F. Copp, G. Emmerson, R. Ford, Mr. and Miss Colpitts. Crokinole was the game of the evening and partners for supper were arranged by the exceedingly amusing "cobwebs." A thoroughly good time was enjoyed by all the entertainment breaking up at 11 standard.

A successful private recital with mixed programme was given Saturday evening by the conservatory pupils in Beethoven hall.

A scholarly and interesting lecture on the English church at the reformation period was delivered by Rev. C. Wiggins in Amherst last Wednesday. The bride Mrs. Frank Black appeared on Sunday at the Methodist church in the morning and St. Pauls in the evening. Her costume was very elegant and becoming. She wore a pearl grey skirt with short jacket of royal blue velvet trimmed with silver fox, the soft crown hat was of velvet the same shade with osprey feathers and violets under the brim. Mrs. Black received the first three days of this week and Tuesday being a particularly fine, spring like day, the pretty queen Anne cottage was well filled all the afternoon. The bride, who was assisted by Miss Black and Miss Keith, wore her wedding dress with a few cream roses on the pearl trimmed bodice. She made a very pretty picture sitting in her dainty white gown near a mass of ferns with glints of sunshine from a stained glass window giving soft touches of color. And the room with its tasteful Empire furnishing and wood fire on a low tiled hearth was a fitting frame for the picture.

Mrs. Archibald, whose serious illness has caused her friends much anxiety is decidedly better. Her sister Mrs. Broadhurst of Halifax was in Sackville a few days, leaving Monday.

Miss Chase and Miss Williams of the college spent Sunday with Mrs. Bliss Fawcett upper Sackville.

Three of the students, Miss Fullerton, Miss Gow, and Miss Howard visited Mrs. F. Thompson upper Sackville Sunday.

Geo. E. Ford went to Boston Monday. Tnos. Murray took the early train Monday for Chatham and other towns in the north to attend meetings of the Foresters. Mr. Murray who is High auditor goes not only in his official capacity but as an exceedingly popular musician.

Miss Robinson spent Sunday with her sister Mrs. J. F. Allison.

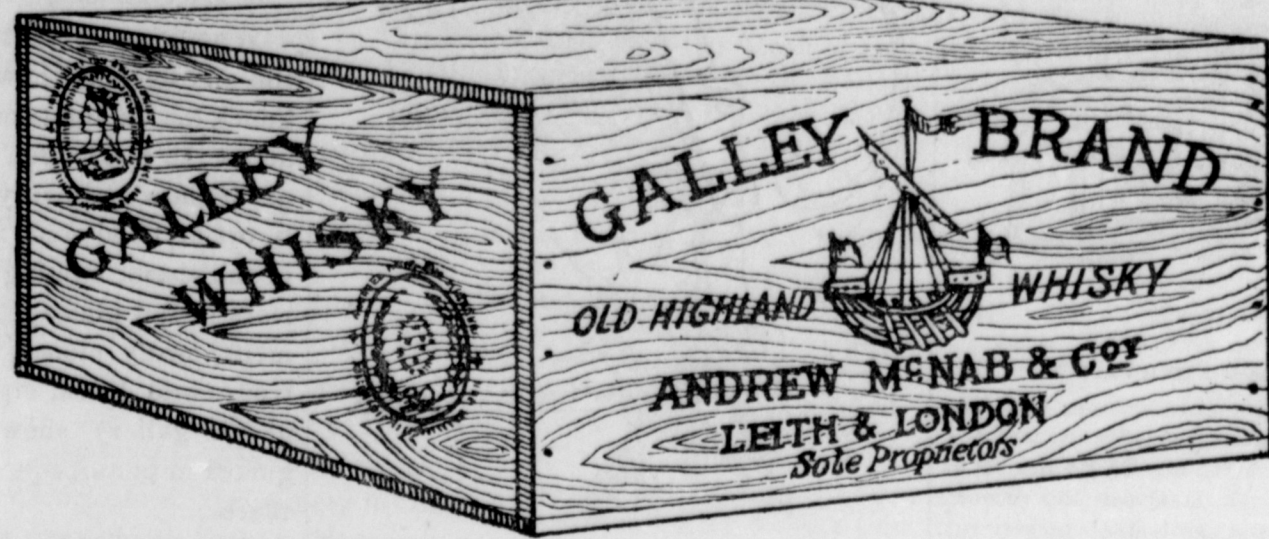

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dixon, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dixon, were the guests of Mrs. Blair Bent, Fort Lawrence Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Moulton from Newfoundland are visiting friends in Sackville. LADY OR SHALOTT.

MAR. 23.—St. Bernard's Amateur Dramatic club celebrated St. Patrick's Day by giving a concert and dramatic entertainment in the Opera house and were greeted by a large audience. The play presented bore the very taking title of "The Trials of the Early Christians" a name painfully suggestive of the horrors described so vividly in "Quo Vadis" and calculated rather to repel, than attract an audience. But in spite of the title the play, as well as the entire performance was an unequalled success, and those in charge of it are to be congratulated upon the excellent manner in which all the parts were taken and this difficult five act drama presented to the public. The scene of the play is laid in Rome during the persecution of the Christians and the different actors showed evidence of careful study in their interpretation of their parts. There were no ladies in the cast, the dramatic persons being all of the sterner sex. The leading part that of "Valentinus, Prefect of Rome" was taken by Mr. J. H. Corcoran who left nothing to be desired in his personation of the stern Roman. Mr. N. Kelly as "Severus, Roman Quæstor," full sustained his high reputation as an amateur actor, while Messrs B. Gallagher as "Asterius" the friend of Severus, and W. C. McAllister as "Dionetrius, Pagan pontiff" thoroughly pleased the audience by their interpretation of the characters. Messrs. L. Walker and F. Sutton showed to advantage in the parts of Severus' sons, and Mr. A. Flanagan made a most favorable impression as "Publius, Prefect's Son." A very pleasing feature of the evening consisted of entire acts in the shape of solos by Miss Coffey of St. John, and Miss McSweeney and Miss LeBlanc of this city, together with a reading by Mr. F. J. Sweeney. Miss Coffey has appeared in Moncton before, and Mr. McSweeney is always a favorite, but Miss LeBlanc made her first appearance before a Moncton audience and was given a most enthusiastic reception. This young lady possesses a very sweet voice of excellent range and compass, and her first number, a French selection, was warmly encored. On responding to the recall Miss LeBlanc was presented with a handsome bouquet. Miss Coffey and Miss McSweeney were also obliged to respond to imperative recalls. Mr. F. J. Sweeney delighted the audience with his reading and was obliged to give them a second selection. The difficult position of accompanist was ably filled by Professor Watts, and an excellent programme of music was furnished by Barker's Orchestra.

Mrs. G. N. F. Brown left home on Thursday evening for Montreal where she intends spending a week or two with friends.

Miss Kate Davidson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Davidson of Bonaventure street who has been a pupil at Mount Allison conservatory of music for the past year left town on Thursday for Nashua, N. H. where she intends continuing her vocal studies.

Mr. J. L. Harris left last week for Toronto where she intends spending some weeks with her daughter, Mrs. E. W. Jarvis. It is understood that Mrs. Harris will spend the spring between Boston and Toronto, rest and change of scene being required in order to recruit her health after her long and devoted attendance upon Mr. Harris during his last illness.

THINGS OF VALUE.

There never was and never will be, a universal panacea, in one remedy, for all ills to which the flesh is heir—the very nature of many curatives being such that were the germs of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient—what would relieve one ill, in turn, would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtainable in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual and judicious use, the frail systems are led into convalescence and strength, and the influence which Quinine exerts on Nature's own restoratives. It relieves the drooping spirits of those with whom a chronic state of morbid dependency and lack of interest in life is a disease, and, by tranquillizing the nerves, disposes to sound and refreshing sleep—imparts vigor to the action of the blood, which being stimulated, courses through the veins, strengthening the healthy normal functions of the system, thereby making activity a necessary result, strengthening the frame, and giving life to the digestive organs, which naturally demand increased substance—results, improved appetite, Northrop & Lyman, of Toronto, have given to the public their superior Quinine Wine at the usual rate, and, gauged by the opinion of scientists, this wine approaches nearest perfection of any in the market. All druggists sell it.

During 1897 103,000 copyrights were issued by the library of Congress.

There are so many cough medicines in the market, that it is difficult to tell which to buy; but if we had a cough, a cold, or any affliction of the throat or lungs, we would try Bickie's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. Those who have used it think it is far ahead of all other preparations recommended for such complaints. The little folks like it as it is as pleasant as syrup.

The houses of parliament are partly lighted by 40,000 electric lamps, which number is being constantly increased. Fifty experienced electricians are employed to keep the system in order.

Dyspepsia and Indigestion—C. W. Snow & Co., N. Y., write: "Please send us ten gross of Pills. We are selling more of Parmelee's Pills than any other Pills we keep. They have a great reputation for the cure of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint." Mr. Chas. A. Smith, Lindsay, writes: "Parmelee's Pills are an excellent medicine. My sister has been troubled with severe headache, but these Pills have cured her."

About 100,000 tons of carbon are annually sent up by the London chimneys in the form of smoke.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion is occasioned by the want of action in the biliary ducts, loss of vitality in the stomach to secrete the gastric juices, without which digestion cannot go on; also being the principal cause of Headache, Parmelee's Vegetable Pills taken before going to bed, for a while, never fails to give relief and effect a cure. Mr. F. W. Ashdown, Ashdown, Ont., writes: "Parmelee's Pills are taking the lead against ten other makes which I have in stock."

The Governor of Arizona claims that the territory has a population of 87,500.

Out of Sorts—Symptoms, Headache, loss of appetite, furred tongue, and general indisposition. These symptoms, if neglected, develop into acute disease. It is a true saying that an "ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," and a little attention at this point may save months of sickness and large doctor's bills. For this complaint take from two to three of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, going to bed, and one or two for three nights in succession, and a cure will be effected.

The new Catholic Cathedral in London will be completed by the year 1900.

Can Recommend It. Mr. Enos Bonberry, Tuscarora, writes: "I am pleased to say that Dr. Thomas' Eucalyptic Oil is all that you claim it to be, as we have been using it for years, both internally and externally, and have always received benefit from its use. It is our family medicine, and I take great pleasure in recommending it."
