

A pretty wedding took place last Wednesday evening in St. Mary's church Waterloo street when Miss Annie May Chamberlain daughter of Mr. George H. Chamberlain, and Mr. Harry R. Coleman were united in marriage by Rev. W. O. Raymond. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with cut and potted plants and during the ceremony the bridal party stood under an arch from which was suspended a floral true lovers knot-The bride was daintily gowned in pale blue cashmere and wore a wedding veil and wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a handsome bouquet of white

Her attendant Miss Ada Chamberlain wore a pretty steel grey costume. The groom was supported by his brother Mr. William Coleman. During the ceremony the choir sang the usual hymns. After the ceremony the bridal party and their immediate relatives and friends repaired to the residence of the bride's parents where supper was served, many friends assembling to express their good wishes and congratulations.

The bride's presents were very numerous and both handsome and useful, among which were an onyx table and vase from St. Mary's choir; a brass five o'clock tea kettle from St. Mary's morning Sunday school teachers, a souvenir spoon from girls' Bible class, sofa cushion from infant class of morning school, and from the Y. P. A. a handsome rocking chair, while the ushers' present was a mahogany centre table. Besides the other many presents, gifts were received from Mrs. Thos W. Dodd, of Charlottetown, Mrs. Purdy of Shemogue, Mrs. Rodgers, Hampton, and others.

The happy couple have both been prominent members of the choir as well as the other churches societies; and are very popular and earnest church workers. The groom's present to the bride was a gold chain and family Bible, while the present to the bridesmaid was an opal ring. Mr. and Mrs.

Coleman will reside on City Road. Mr. and Mrs. P. S. MacNutt of Queen Square are entertaining Miss B. MacNutt, daughter of Hon. Peter MacNutt of P. E. Island, this week.

PROGRESS has received the following marriage notice for publication and though the event described took place in distant Montana it will be interesting to many in this province from the fact that the bride has many relatives in N. B. Mrs. Lawson is a daughter of Thomas A. Beckwith formerly of Oromocto and a granddaughter of Mr. Richard Whiteside of this city. Says the Montana Independent of Nov. 9. "A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Peter's Episcopal church on Wednesday evening, 2nd November, 1898, the Rev. W. W. Love, rector, officiating. The bride was Miss Gertrude M. Beckwith of Somerville, Mass., the groom, T William Lawson of this city. The church was very prettily decorated in green and white for this happy occasion. Mrs. Harrison presided at the organ, and at 8 o'clock commenced the familiar strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. First came four ushers, friends of the groom, Harry Yeager, Gilman, Bullard, John Scott and A. T. Reed, who separated at the altar in two groups; then came the bride on the arm of Surveyor General E. W. Beattie, who gave her away. They were met at the alter by the groom and E. W. Beattie, jr., who was the best man, and Mr. Love made the young couple one. They then led the way down the aisle to the happy strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, followed by the others of the bridal party. The wedding was witnessed by many friends of the groom, who has been a resident of this city some ten years, and hold a responsible position in the surveyor general office. The bride looked, very sweet and charming in a gown of white chiffon with a girdle of pearls. A long veil fastened with orange blossoms and white roses carried in her hands complete d a beautiful costume. After the ceremony, the wedding party drove to 59 North Park Avenue, where the groom has apartments all ready to go to housekeeping. event occurred on November 14th. Nov. 16 .- The Bachelors' ball which came off last Friday evening, headed the long list of social functions we are at present enjoying and was, as it always is, an unbounded success. Windsor Hall never presented a more attractive appearance than on this occasion. Over sixty guests were present no married people being invited. Offen's orchestra furnished excellent music to a delightful programme which was, waltz, lancers, waltz, two step, waltz, waltz, two step, galop, two step, militaire, waltz, waltz, two step, waltz, waltz, two step; nearly every number receiving an encore, light refreshments were served during the evening. This happy gathering broke up about one lo'clock, all being much pleased with the hospitality afforded by "The Bachelors." It is said that the honors of beileship were ab out equally divided between Miss Carrie Winslow and Miss Hilyard. Mrs. A. J. Gregory, Mrs. McLearn and Mrs. Downing were the chaperones of the evening and were most untiring in their efforts for the pleasure of the young ladies under their charge.

Outenment with the state of the Confidence

Every business man who expects to make a permanent success of his vocation in life. must have the confidence of the people who trade with him. This is sound natural law that is applicable to every legitimate trade that we know of, and no matter what the disposition of the individual may be, if he has ordinary common sense he must realise that IT PAYS TO BE HONEST with his customers. We have built up a very large business in various kinds of musical instruments throughout the Maritime Provinces during the past twenty-five years, and we owe it, not to the fact that we are more energetic than our the best PIANOS and ORGANS made in the world, but simply by doing the very best we could for our clients under all circumstances. This is an absolute fact and one that we can urnish you ample proof of, if you ask us.
