Aug. 31 .- The leading event of last week was the formal opening of the Aberdeen high school building which took place on Saturday afternoon, and was an event long to be remembered. The bui'ding is a beautiful structure of red brick, and said to be far the bandsomest school building in the Maritime Provinces. The opening ceremonies were very impressive. His Honor Lieut. Governor McClelan Dr. Allison, president of Mount Allison university, Sackville, Prof. Harrison chancellor of the University of New Brunswick Dr. Inch chief superintendant of education for New Brunswick, Premier Emerson, Dr. Stockton, and other prominent men were present. The interior of the building was inspected by a number of people and frequent expression of admiration were heard. Nearly all the rooms are furnished and were in readiness for the opening of the public schools on

Mr. David Grant chairman of the board of school trustees presided, and in addition to the speakers of the day the following ladies and gentlemen were seated on the platform Mrs. Harvey Atkinson, and Mrs. Nugent, members of board of school trustees. Messrs F. A McCully secretary of schools, George Smith inspector of schoools, Principal Oulton. H L. Brittain, Mayor Cole, H. A Powell M. P., A. E. Kiliam, C W. Robinson, Ald Masters, James, Flanagan, H. H. Ayer, F. W. Sum mer, Dr. Purdy. and others.

The first speaker Governor McClel in who was introduced to the audience by Mr. Grant, who also read letters of regret at their inability to be present from Rev. Dr. Stewart and Prof. Paisley of Sackville, Hoo. A. T. Duan, of St. John, Dr. Mc-1 Kay superintendent of education for Nova Scotia, Rev. Father L'Abbe Memramco k, Hon. A. D. Richard, Dorchester, and Rev. H. A. Meahan of Moncton who was unable to attend through illness. Governor McClelan was warm'y received and made a brief but happy speech congratulating the citizens of Moncton on their enterprise in erecing such a builting and paying a high compliment to the educational institutions of our ci y, at the close of which he declared the Aberdeen high school building open for the uses for which it was intended' Governor McClelan was followed by Hon. H R Emmerson who was also well received and who drew a comparison bet ween the Moncton schools of thirty-five years ago and those of the present time contrasted his own school days with those of today and heartily congratulated the board of schoo trustees on the very fine builling they had erected. Dr. Stockton followed and after congratulating the chairm in of the boar i of school trustees on the size and beauty of the building, spoke especially of the importance of the primary department in al schools and also of the advantages of a university education. Dr. Inch remarked that the educational advancement of Moncton had kept pace with its industrial progress and the increase of its population and when its history came to be written the chapter

Dr. Harrison, spoke some what in the same strain, saying that those who graduated from this school would carry through life that which would bring light to their homes wherever they might be. Man died but the institutions of man lived on, and the on education would not be the least interesting one.

High school of Moncton seemed destined to baffle the tyranny of time. Dr. Allison of Sackville after congratulating the school board on the beauty and convenience of the building they had erected said a younger members of the community. In referring to the question of truancy which had been mentioned by some of the speakers, he said the only wonder to him was that more children did not play trust t. when he considered that the best hours of the day were the school hours; and he strongly advocated the making of our school buildings more attractive to children, as a remedy, giving the people of Moncton special commendation for the erection of so handsome and attractive a structure. The speech making was brought to a close by Mr. George J. Oulton who delivered a short but forcible address. The proceedings were enlivened throughout ly an excellent programme of music, rendered by Prof-Waits' orchestra, and were brought to a close by the singing of God Save the Queen. Governor Mc-Clelan has offered a prize to be awarded yearly during his term of effice to the pupil in Aberdeen school, making the highest aggregate in the ertrance examinations.

Mrs. Plunkett's sister Miss Annie Cook made one of the party, and will probably remain for some weeks. Both Mr. and Mrs. Plunkett are universal favorites in Moncton society and their departure is very generally regretted. Mr. Plunkett has been in Moncion for nearly seven years, and during that time has not only made hosts of friends in our city but also won the hand of one of our fairest maidens, and while regretting the fact that he is taking her away from us we wish them both every possible success and happiness in their new home. On the evening of their departure, Messrs. F. W. Sumner R. A. Borden Mayor Cole, J H. Harris, F. P' Reid, and L. H Higgins, called upon Mr. Plunket, at his residence, and after some pleasant conversation Mr. Borden as spokem in for the party made known the object of their visit and after reading the following address, presented him with a very handsome token of their esteem.

The party leit there about three o'clock and did not return home until late in the evening.

The entertainment in the St. Croix Hall last evening by a number of young society people of Calais was a decided success and also most amsuing and far ahead in merit of many of the professional troupes that have visited us of late. It opened with a short sketch from the pl y "Drifted Apart" in which Miss Ella Warren Harmon, and Mr. Verne Whitman, acquitted themselves well. Then followed the second act of the play, "Barbara", in which Miss May Jones, and Mr. James L Thompson, Jr. shone-Miss Harmon and Mr. Ryan also took their parts well. The curtain then rose upon a grand Minstrel preformance in which twenty young ladies and twenty young gentl men took part. The singing was excellent and the costumes marvellous. There were several solos, the song "If thats the case I wants to join the army," and also the duet "The Modern Century Girl, received great appearances. "Eli Green's cake walk" in which mrs. Saunders as Miss Amelia Starlight, and Mr. Ben Curran, as Jacob Asterbuitt was splend. idiy done. The preformence ended with a grand chorous, "Hot time in the old Town" and cake walk. Between the acts of the plays Mr. Allen Hayecck of Boston gave in his mellow tenor voice several sorgs which were much pleasing to the audience. The whole ente tainment was a credit and many favourable comments have been made. Mrs. Ward of Sknowhegan is the guests of her
