the numerous visitors to the city. One of the favorite points for these bright little events is Duck Cove and many have been the parties held this season have picnicked within sound of the sea, at that most charming resort. The pretty beach the high cliffs, among the nooks of which seclusion from the hot sun, and high winds may be found, and the varied and interesting scenery around the cove make it one of the most attractive of suburban resorts. There are five seven roomed cottages at Duck Cove all of which have occupants who profess themselves charmed with the locality and surroundings. A dancing pavillion and an excellent tennis court have been provided so that there is no lack of amusements for the cottagers and their friends. The grounds are prettily laid out too, and every one who has ever visited the Cove knows what a delightfully cool place is the long tree shaded avenue of a hot summers day.

From the tower windows of Sea View House a magnificent view of the surrounding country is obtained and one gets a glimpse of a picture not likely to be soon effaced from the memory. Sea View House furnishes other, and what the practical visitor may regard as more substantial entertainment, and most tempting lunches, ice creams, etc., may be there obtained. The beach affords excellent bathing facilities, and a well managed bus service carries the tired and heated city dweller to this ideal spot.

News of the death of Mrs. W. A. Cathers was heard with keen regret by her many friends and by all of those throughout the provinces and in this city who know her husband so well. Up to a short time ago Mrs. Cathers was a robust woman, the picture of health but that dread disease, hasty consumption, attacked her. She lingered longer than her friends thought possible and died on Sunday last. One child survives her.

On Tuesday morning last death removed from North End young people's circles a bright and genial person in Miss Genevieve Mary Delaney, eldest child of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Delaney of Adelaide street. Miss Delaney had been a patient sufferer with lung trouble for over a year, brought about by contracting a cold which at first appeared insignificant. Despite the frequent periods of intense suffering which the deceased young lady underwent she bore it all with remarkable fortitude. In her death North End loses one of exceptional intelligence and socially a very agreeable person. Her age was 22 years, just the time of life when removal from earth's activities seems so hard to bear. On Thursday morning her funeral was largely attended from St. Peters church and burial took place in the old catholic cemetery. Six cousins, Dr. Maher, Jos. Corkery, Messrs. Carleton and Messrs. Coll bore the pall. The floral tributes of loving remembrances were beautiful and placed in profusion about the remains.

Miss Pugsley is visiting at Mrs. S. Hayward's Hampton.

Mrs. (Capt.) Parker of Lynn, Mass., is visiting her parents, Capt. and Mrs. R. Cole Elliott Row.

EVANDALE.

AUG 10.—This has been a rare summer for visitors, a 1 of whom are delighted with this pretty spot and the accommodations afforded them. Judges of the supreme and county court, lawyers, aldermen, politicians and business men all delight in spending a few hours with us.

At present the guests at the Evandale house are Judge and Mrs. A. L. Palmer and Miss Bent. They have been here nearly a fortnight and will remain some time longer.

Mr. W. A. Lockhart and the Misses Lockhart with Miss Best have been here for a few days. Mr. Lockhart returned to St. John Monday afternoon but the young ladies will remain until Saturday.

Mrs. Sancton of St. John with her little son Gordon returned home by the David Weston Monday after a most enjoyable visit.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Carter spent Sunday at the Evandale house. Mrs. Carter went to Fredericton Monday, Mr. Carter returning to St. John.

Among the excursionists on the Victoria Sunday were Ald. McGolderick of St. John, Mr. Chas. Knodell with his friend Mr. Schurman of River Philip, Nova Scotia, and Messrs Gilbert Purdy and W. Godsoe with their friends Messrs. Thomas Ritchie and P. S. Ebbert of New York and P. T. Scott of Brooklyn. These American gentlemen had been on a three weeks trip through Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island but they said that they had enjoyed no day so much as that spent upon the Victoria and at Evandale.

There are several American ladies and gentlemen here at the present time including Mr. and Mrs. Scott, of New York and some other whose names I could not obtain.

I understand that Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Godsoe propose spending a few days here this and next week.

Mr. J. Fraser Gregory's new house boat paid us a visit Sunday evening and remained until Tuesday noon. This is a charming little river pleasure (CONTINUES ON EIGHTH PAGE.)

A Perfect Home Dye.

A woman "profits by experience"—the old fashioned Powder Dyes are deceptive in the results they are supposed to yield.
