HALIFAX NOTES.

PROGRESS is for sale in Halifax by the newsboys and at the following news stands and centres. C. S. DeFRETAS, Brunswick street...

Society was quiet last week; with the ships away there is always very little doing. And a deep sadness reigns, too, that everyone cannot go up to Quebec for the fleet ball in honor of the governor-general and Lady Aberdeen.

Lady William Seymour, accompanied by her sister, who has recently arrived from England, and the Misses Seymour, left on Friday for Quebec, and Mrs. Primrose is also joining her husband, who is in Quebec with the indefatigable. The Misses Fisher are already there, having accompanied the admiral on the flagship, General Hutton, who was the guest of Lady William Seymour at Bellevue in the early part of the week, has also left for Quebec, to be present at the festivities.

Miss Argles who is a distant connection of the late Mrs. Hungerford, whose first husband was Mr. Argles, is staying with Mrs. Wickwire and will be bridesmaid to Miss Wickwire in Christmas week. Mrs. Hungerford, by the way is better known by her non-de-plume of "The Duchess," and thousands of readers have regretted her sad death in the prime of life.

Mr. and Mrs. Drexel of Philadelphia, have returned in their yacht Alcedo, from their cruise in Cape Breton, waters, where they were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Morrow. The Alcedo which is a very large steam yacht and perfectly fitted up has been much admired as she lies in the harbor.

The Badminton club has been reorganized and is all ready to begin play again as soon as the weather is a little colder. The usual Saturday and Wednesday teas are to be an institution this winter as well as last. There are a good many new members and everything points to another successful season for this enterprising organization.

With the football season the football will recommence, and a great boon they are to the cold and weary people who have stood throughout the afternoon intent on the game. The only drawback to the teas is they are sometimes short of men, it being impossible for the players to get home, change and return in time to hand tea cups. Fortunately there are men who do not play football, and if they are forgotten during the match they have their little day afterwards.

Football toilettes are an item in most women's autumn expenses. There is no more conspicuous place than the edge of the football field in half time, and a badly hung skirt or worn boots betray their wearer at once. The bicycle woman of course rises superior, but fortunately for appearances, the bicycle woman is no longer everybody.

The dancing class is to be re-organized on its old lines this winter, and in addition to the young people's club, there is talk of another, to consist of married people and single alike. It is to be hoped this last idea will not fall through, as it would enliven the winter to a vast extent.

Death Pulls the Trigger.

A man doesn't have to pull the trigger himself in order to commit suicide. He doesn't even need a gun or any kind of weapon. All he need do is work hard and at the same time neglect his health. Death will do the rest. Men nowadays are all in a hurry. They bolt their food, and get indigestion and torpid liver. The blood gets impure. When the blood is impure, sooner or later something will "smash."

The smash will be at the weakest and most overworked point. In a marshy country it will probably be malaria and chills. A working man will probably have a bilious attack. A clerk or bookkeeper will have deadly consumption. A business, or professional man, nervous prostration or exhaustion.

It isn't hard to prevent or cure these diseases if the right remedy is taken at the right time. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the appetite keen, digestion and assimilation perfect, the liver active, the blood pure and the nerves steady and strong. It drives out all disease germs. It makes rich, red blood, firm flesh, solid muscle and healthy nerve-fiber. It cures malaria and bilious attacks. It cures nervous prostration and exhaustion. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption, bronchial, throat and kindred affections. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser contains the letters of thousands who have been cured.

I have been one of your many patients, by taking Dr. Pierce's medicines," writes Mrs. Perla Cook, of 149 W. 3d St., Covington, Ky. "Your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' have saved my life when it was despaired of."

Send 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of customs and mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for a paper-covered copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser—cloth binding 50 stamps. A whole medical library in one 1000-page volume.

KINGSTON, ONTARIO.

The following account of the marriage of Miss Walbreath, a niece of Mrs. E. P. Crawford, The Priory, Halifax, will interest PROGRESS readers there and elsewhere in Nova Scotia:—

SEPT. 25.—St. George's cathedral was the centre of attraction for a large concourse of people this morning as it was known that a fashionable wedding was to be celebrated at half-past eleven o'clock. Apart from the fact that the guests numbered upwards of two hundred, and that three coaches of Montrealers had arrived for the occasion which promised a display of gorgeous toilettes, there were many who were drawn by a desire to see the sweet young bride who is well beloved in Kingston for her gentleness and amiability her genuine unselfishness her imperturbable good nature, and her sterling womanly qualities. Hence, the approaches to St. George's were well impassible when the hour drew near for the marriage of Mary Ethel, only daughter of Dr. R. T. Walbreath, Q. C. to Mr. Henry Joseph of Montreal.

Many of the guests were from Montreal, Toronto and intervening towns. There were some gorgeous toilettes, and the body of the cathedral presented a brilliant appearance when all the reserved seats were occupied.

The ushers were Messrs. Hugh and Knex Walbreath, and Mr. Carl Y. Ford. Mr. Harvey presided at the organ, and St. George's full service choir was present and rendered the choral service. The officiating clergymen were the very Rev. the Dean of Ontario assisted by the Rev. G. L. Spar curate of St. George's. The groomsmen was Mr. William McIntyre of Montreal.

As the bride's party proceeded up the aisle all eyes were directed towards the interesting procession.

The bride's toilette was the artistic production of a local modiste (Miss Jamieson, Johnston,) in combination with goods of exquisite quality purchased in England for this occasion.

The wedding gown of rich ivory satin Duchesse, had a Spanish flounce of chiffon, edged above and below with a narrow ruching of the same. The court train was lined with heavily corded cream silk and finished with a neat piping of satin.

The bodice was a dainty creation of satin, chiffon, pearl applique, and Duchess and Brussels point lace. The chiffon was gathered full in back and front and outlined at the back by two perpendicular bands of pearl trimming, while the front plastron had an upright band of pearl applique, at the right side, and, at the left side, a zodiac effect was secured by the arrangement of the pearl applique. A narrow pointed band of pearl applique over satin crossed above the chiffon plastron and gave a square finish to the decolletage, a double cascade of Duchess and Brussels point lace was placed cross wise on either side of the chiffon front, while a single frill of the lace fell over the shoulders, veiling the butterfly wings of satin edged with ruched chiffon. The lace was brought across below the corsage rever, and joined the double cascade on the opposite side where it fastened with a graceful spray of orange blossoms. The adjustable yoke and sleeves were of ruched chiffon over satin, and the wrists had frills of Duchess and Brussels point lace headed by a band of pearl applique. A Brussels net veil and a pretty coronet of orange blossoms, a mouchoir edged with Duchess and Brussels point lace, and a shower bouquet of white roses, added the finishing touches to this very attractive toilette.

Miss Carrie Waldron was maid of honor. Her gown of white silk organdie, slightly en train, was made over a white moire. The bodice was trimmed with Valenciennes lace and chiffon, and a Marie Antoinette fichu of white chiffon was trimmed with lace. Her large white velvet hat with broad rolling brim was trimmed with white ostrich plumes and chiffon.

The bridesmaids were Miss Alice Shaughnessy, Montreal, and Miss Freda Bartlett, Plymouth, England, and Miss Carr-Harris of this city. Their gowns of white silk organdie over white satin were trimmed with lace and chiffon, and they too, wore Marie Antoinette fichus and large white velvet hats with white plumes. They carried shower bouquets of crimson and cream roses.

The floral decorations at "The Chestnuts," where the reception was held, were effectively carried out in scarlet, gladioli, salvia, geraniums, and other autumn flowers being artistically arranged in conspicuous places. The breakfast was served in the dining room, and on the lawn—where a large marquee was erected, and quartette tables were cozily placed at convenient intervals for the accommodation of the guests.

The bride's table in the dining room was centred with a stately bunch of gladioli, surrounded by specimen glasses of salvia, and the rich coloring made a becoming setting for the brunette beauty of the bride.

Toasts were proposed by the Dean of Ontario, by the bridegroom, the groomsmen, the bride's father and others.

The happy couple left by the afternoon boat for New York, via Cape Vincent upon their return they will reside at the Windsor, Montreal until they sail for the Mediterranean on Dec. 10th.

The bride's going-away gown was Kitchener blue broadcloth with white broadcloth vest, blue velvet hat with grebe trimmings. The bride is a niece of Mrs. E. P. Crawford, the Priory, Halifax, N. S.

The bride's mother was handsomely gowned in mauve satin Duchesse with overdress of black Brussels net. The bodice was trimmed with black lace and the full vest was of white chiffon with floral design embroidered in pink and green and mauve silk.

Mrs. Drury, black brocade silk with floral design in pale blue, blue chiffon trimmings.
