

Asthma Cure vs. Asthma Relief.

It is a recognized fact among those suffering from asthma that the longer they use the temporary relief asthmatic remedies which require to be burned, the worse they become, until it loses its effect entirely. Clarke's Kola Compound is not among this class, but will permanently cure the worst case of asthma in from 60 to 90 days. Mr. F. J. Painont, proprietor of Painont's Music Store, Vancouver, B. C., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from asthma in its worst form for over 15 years, and had consulted many physicians both in England and Canada, but obtained no relief. A friend of mine who had been cured by the Kola Compound advised me to try it, and three bottles have entirely cured me; it is now over two years since my recovery and asthma has not troubled me since; and previous to taking Clarke's Kola Compound I have many nights had to sit up nearly all night. It is truly a wonderful remedy, and it affords me much pleasure in attesting my appreciation of anything so worthy." Clarke's Kola Compound is sold by all druggists. Free sample bottle sent to any person. Mention this paper. Address The Griffin & Macpherson Co., 121 Church Street, Toronto, or Vancouver, B. C., Sole Canadian agents.

ST. STEPHEN AND CALAIS.

[Progress is for sale in St. Stephen at the book-store of G. S. Wall, T. E. Atchison and J. Vroom & Co. in Calais at U. P. Treat's.]

JUNE 7—Never did a day dawn more beautiful or the sun shine more gloriously, than on Thursday last the wedding day of Miss Mabel Dean Clarke, who at high noon was united in marriage to Mr. Valentine Francis Lee of Calais, the popular accountant of the Calais National Bank. Miss Clarke is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Clarke, and on Thursday their residence was a scene of brilliant festivity in which was gathered the elite of the St. Croix to witness her wedding nuptials. Promptly at high noon the groom accompanied by Rev. W. C. Goucher of the Baptist church, the officiating minister, entered the reception room and stood before the bay window. In a second the strains of the wedding march sounded through the home and the bridal party descended the stairway, first came six young ladies Misses Alice Graham, Edith Hilyard, Mae Foster, May Jones, Millie Sawyer and Mary Warner carrying long garlands of flowers over their shoulders, in reaching the reception room, the bride who followed leaning on the arm of her father walked between the line of flower laden attendants, to the side of the groom. Miss May Jones acted as maid of honor. The bride looked very charming in a lovely gown white liberty silk trimmed with pearls, and covered with white spotted silk tulle, she wore a veil of tulle fastened to her hair with a wreath of lilies of the valley, and carried a bouquet of brides roses. The ceremony was short, and after the congratulations, an elaborate and dainty dejeuner was served. The floral decorations were extensive and beautiful, with smilax, lilies, lilies of the valley and rare begonias and palms. A horse shoe of white lilies glittering with electric lights hung in the bay window, the rooms were darkened and the electric lights used. The dining room was most tastefully adorned with flowers. In the centre of the table stood a large pyramid of wedding cake decorated with wedding favours and at the tip a wedding bell of white satin. Mrs. W. F. Todd, Mrs. George J. Clarke assisted by Misses Mae Foster, Millie Sawyer, May Jones, Edith Hilyard and Mary Warner were in charge of the dining room and most gracefully served the bridal party and guests. Miss Alice Graham in a pretty gown of pink organdie served fruit punch. At three o'clock the bride changed her bridal robes for a travelling gown of broad cloth with vest of pale blue and sailor hat adorned with wings of black and gold, and the happy young pair retired amid love, good wishes and showers of rice, for a carriage drive along the coast of Maine to Augusta, Maine, to the home of the groom's parents. The wedding presents were extremely elegant and valuable, the bride being literally showered with beautiful gifts in solid silver cut glass and bric-a-brac in endless variety. Her parents gift is a handsome residence on Washington street, Calais, all furnished and ready for occupancy on their return home. The toilettes of the ladies were guests were exceedingly pretty and gay but space will only allow me to describe a few of them. Mrs. Clarke, mother of the bride was attired in a lovely gown of violet and cream striped tulle richly trimmed with cream lace and black velvet bows. Miss Noe Clarke, bride and white silk, trimmed with lace. Mrs. George Hogan, black brocade silk with bolero jacket of white lace over white satin. Mrs. Melick, Boston, black satin dress with vest of white satin. Mrs. James G. Stevens, turquoise blue organdie over blue silk, trimmed with rich lace and ruffles of pale blue ribbon. Large hat of black chiffon and ostrich feathers. Mrs. W. B. Gannon, white organdie over violet silk, with trimmings of valencienais lace, white hat trimmed with wads of violet. Mrs. W. F. Todd, pretty gown of mauve organdie over mauve silk, with trimmings of lace. Mrs. Fredric MacNichol, pearl grey poplin with fichu of white chiffon, large pearly hat of grey trimmed with white chiffon and ostrich feathers. Mrs. C. F. Beard, black silk richly trimmed with white silk, large hat trimmed with white crests and rich white lace. Miss Carrie Washburn, pink organdie over cerise colored silk, large black hat trimmed with pink chiffon and pink and black feathers. Miss Annie Bixby, dainty gown of violet and white silk with trimmings of white ribbon ruffles, large white hat trimmed with violet. Miss Florence Mitchell dress of white silk trimmed with lace, large pattern hat of black trimmed with white chiffon. Miss Kate Washburn, white organdie over pale pink silk with trimmings of valencienais lace, large black hat trimmed with pink roses.

Mrs. Henry Graham, handsome gown of black and white silk trimmed with rich black lace, bonnet of black with trimmings of violets.

Miss Bessie Bixby, pale yellow organdie trimmed with violet silk, white hat trimmed with yellow chiffon and violets.

Mrs. John E. Algar, black silk with white trimmings, bonnet of black and white chiffon.

Miss Edith Hilyard, blue organdie trimmed with insertion and valencienais edging.

Miss Maud McKeown, lilac silk dress trimmed with lace. Large white hat trimmed with lilac and black ostrich feathers.

During the serving of the dejeuner an orchestra stationed in the hall discoursed sweet music continually. The guests from out of town were, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lee, of Augusta, Maine, parents of the groom, Mrs. C. H. Newton, Miss Mary Newton and Mr. George Newton, Red Beach, Mrs. George B. Hegar, St. John, Mrs. Annie Melick, Boston, Miss Edith Hilyard, Fredericton, and Miss Warner, St. John. Mr. and Mrs. Lee are expected to be absent about ten days, on their return will at once occupy their residence. Mrs. Lee will not hold her receptions until after September the fourth.

Dr. Frank Blair and Mr. F. Le Rose, who have been absent for a day or two fishing, arrived home today.

Many very dainty and delicious tea parties have been given by the ladies of the various churches on the St. Croix, but, none have ever been so attractive, artistic, and tempting as the "Bohemian Tea" given by the ladies of the Congregational church in the vestry on Tuesday evening. The vestry was gaily decorated with flags of all nations, but the Union Jack and "Old Glory" were prominent. There were nine tables, each table was decorated with the colors of the nation represented, and the national dishes were served by ladies attired in the national dress. The English table was laid in stately dignified style with fine damask, rare old silver, delicate china and heavy cut glass, in the centre a large silver candleabra. A whole ham decorated with cloves, was placed at the head of the table, chicken pie, jellies, custards, fruit cake and then bread and butter were served with other dainties. Miss Flora Cook in a pretty white duck gown trimmed with small English flags, her golden hair and winsome graceful manners made a typical English maiden served and waited on the guests.

Near the English table was the American table prettily decorated with candelabras with pink shades, in the centre an epergne filled with pink carnations and American Beauty roses, here was served in courses, salads of all kinds meats, cakes, and sweetmeats galore. This table was presided over by Mrs. Frederick Hartford, assisted by several young ladies, who received many pleasant comments upon the dainty manner in which they performed their duties. The Dutch table was very attractive and gay with the Dutch colors. A huge bowl filled with tulips, and two giant Dutch shoes filled with the same hued leaves were the chief decoration of this table. Mrs. Henry S. Murchie assisted by Mrs. W. F. Boardman and Miss Mary Newton in pretty dutch costumes; served such dainties as curds and whey, chicken paties, jellies and dutch cheese. The dishes used were all blue and white in dutch patterns, and other decorations were wooden windmills and various dutch ornaments. The French table was exceedingly dainty and pretty with its graceful vases of white fleur-de-lis the emblem of France, it was laid in exquisite taste, sardines, olives, creams, bonbons, and all sorts of dainties were served. At each plate was a souvenir favor in the shape of a fleur-de-lis.

Across the room the Spanish table decorated in orange and yellow was most noticeable. In the centre of the table was a pyramid of oranges and lemons in which were placed American flags, side by side of very diminutive Spanish flags; there was served Spanish creams, fruits, lemonade and sweet spicy drinks, cake, Guava jelly and ice cream besides more substantial dishes that were most delicious.

Near was the Grecian table in gold and white, most dainty and well arranged the table was placed in a Greek pattern and was adorned with waving bouquets of gold colored poppies and a huge pyramid of fruit all sorts of creams, fruit punch, strawberries and delicate cakes were found at this table. Mrs. Herbert Mason and Miss Alice Boardman in Grecian costumes gracefully responded to the wants of those who were their patrons.

The "Puritan" table presided over by Mrs. W. A. Murchie, was laid in quaint old dishes in china, and silver, relics of our fore-father and by-gone days and was lighted by candles in a pair of brass candle sticks that were really brought from England in the famous ship "Mayflower." String of dried apples were festooned over this table and a spinning wheel of ancient make with other relics of Puritan days were arranged as a background. On this table was served a small roasted pig baked beans, pumpkin and apple pies, doughnuts and apple sauce, and much more that was appetizing and satisfying.

The Italian table next caught the eye. It was prettily decorated with laurel leaves arranged in wreaths and statuary in terra cotta. A large figure of an Italian boy stood in the centre of the table, it was about four feet high and very spicily in style of sculpture. Maccaroni, spaghetti, Italian and Bavarian creams, fruits, jellies and cakes were served here. Several young ladies in gay Italian dresses were lovely accessories at this table and attracted much attention and many pleasant comments.

In a large alcove was arranged the Japanese table all sorts of pretty Japanese lanterns, screens, fans, and bunting made it say and bright. Salads, dakes, jellies, chocolate, sweetmeats attracted many, and this table was full again and again. On a raised dais sat three young ladies in Japanese costumes, Geisha girls—who served Japan tea and coffee. Japanese ladies in rich silk embroidered gowns fitted in and out the alcove, waiting on the guests, making the scene a brilliant one. The entertainment was most successful in every way and is largely due to the taste and executive ability of the accomplished president of the ladies society Mrs. A. E. Neill who planned and originated the idea and with the assistance of the church gave to the public a most charming evening of pleasure.

On Friday morning at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Black Church Street Cal. Miss Marie Watts was united in marriage to Mr. Samuel Watts Editor of the Woodstock Sentinel. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. C. G. McCully of the Congregational Church. The bride was simply attired in a travelling dress of navy blue with a bonnet to match. After the ceremony they drove to the station and left on the train for a wedding trip to Montreal and other cities. The presents received by the bride were pretty and useful. Mr. and Mrs. Watts will reside at Woodstock.

Song of the Indian Maid.

The pearly drop from the rose hath fled,
And fled from the wild hawthorn,
Where it sparkles lay on its leafy bed,
In the light of the day new born.

Then why comes not the hunter bold,
Why lingers he so long?
Why says he in the greenwood old,
Nor comes to hear my song?

On his golden car the sun hath rose,
High over the mountains green,
And the sonnet bright, from his noontide light,
Hath fled to the leafy screen.

But vainly hath mine eye roamed o'er
Each winding vale and glen;
The hunter's form I see no more,
Why comes he not again?

I know that the hunter's heart is brave,
By the chivalrous deeds he's done;
That a foe can never his soul enslave,
For his spirit will stoop to none.

Then why along the mountain trail,
Comes not the hunter free?
Mine eye hath roamed o'er hill and dale,
His form I cannot see.

Oh, haste thee back to thy mountain home,
Ere the evening shades draw nigh,
And no longer amid the forest roam,
Brave boy of the eagle eye.

Then speed thee here, my hunter bold,
And linger not so long,
But hie thee from the greenwood old,
And list my pensive song.

The Wrong Door.

When forth he fared upon life's quest,
He sought a motto for his crest,
And so took from a grog-shop door
The single, sharp behest it bore—
"Push!"

Alas, when little years had flown,
He found, too late, naught could atone
For lack of what was plainly writ
Upon the other door, to wit—
"Pull!"

We have no hesitation in saying that Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery, Cordial is without doubt the best medicine ever introduced for dysentery, diarrhoea, cholera, acute summer complaints, sea sickness, etc. It promptly gives relief and never fails to effect positive cure. Mothers should never be without a bottle when their children are teething.

Within the last two years a weekly paper in Servia has had sixteen editors. Fifteen of them are in gaol for too candidly commenting upon Government affairs; and the sixteenth has recently been handed over to join them for the same offence.

SOMETHING MORE THAN A PURGATIVE.—To purge is the only effect of many pills now on the market. Farnelle's Vegetable Pills are more than a purgative. They strengthen the stomach when other pills weaken it. They cleanse the blood by regulating the liver and kidneys, and they stimulate where other pills compounds depress. Nothing of injurious nature, used for merely purgative powers enters into their composition.

The number of stray dogs seized in the London districts during the past three years exceeded 142,000, against 9,459, seized in Liverpool, 10,600 in Manchester and Scalford, and 6,880 in Birmingham.

The Horse—noblest of the brute creation—when suffering from a cut, abrasion, or sore derives as much benefit as its master in a like predicament, from the healing, soothing action of Dr. THOMAS' ELECTRIC OIL. Lameness, swelling of neck, stiffness of the joints, throat and lungs are relieved by it.

In Iceland men and women are in every respect political equals. The nation is governed by representatives elected by its people, quite irrespective of sex.

Holloway's Corn Cure is the medicine to remove all kinds of corns and warts, and only costs the small sum of twenty-five cents.

In London a paving stone which weighed 500 pounds and which was weighed in on all sides by other stone, was lifted by a mushroom.

FOR THE OVERWORKED.—What are the causes of drowsiness and melancholy? A disordered liver is one cause and a prime one. A disordered liver means a disordered stomach, and a disordered stomach means disturbance of the nervous system. This brings the whole body into subjection and the victim feels weak all over. Farnelle's Vegetable Pills are a recognized remedy in this state and relief will follow their use.
