RALIFAX NOTES.

PROGRESS is for sale in Halifax by the newsboys and at the following news stands and centres.

Nov. 29 .- Tomorrow (Thursday) we will have an excellent entertainment in Egmont at the academy of music which promises to be more than usually interesting. This grand Lyrical drama will be read by Rev. Mr. Carruthers, whom we listened to with such pleasure in "A Midsummer Night's Dream, last season, Mr. Carruthers will be assisted in his reading by Miss Lehigh, who has become so great a favorite with Halifax audiences. Beethoven's beautiful mu ic will be given as accompaniment to the drams. The music will be rendered by the Symphony Orchestra. The programme embraces a magn'ficent everture, four entre acts, incidental music and a grand finale-"A Symphony of Victory." Miss Lehigh will impersonate "Clara" the heroine of the drama.

During the evening she will sing two beautiful songs. The last scene will close with a "Tableau" -"Egmont" asleep in prison and "Clara" appearing to him with the wreath of victory. The performance is under the distinguished patronage of Lord and Lady William Seymour, Lieut-Governor and Mrs. M. B. Daly, Col. Wilkinson and officers R. E., Col. Kingscote and officers R. A., "Egmont" bids fair to be the great musical event of the season. The Symphony concerts were so popular last year that their advent is anticipated with much keeness by the intellectual and musical people.

The bride has reached the three score and ten, while the groom is her senior by three years. They both still are very active, enjoy good health and retain many impressions of the early part of the

One of the most interesting family gatherings was held at their home in Centreville on the 17th inst., to celebrate their golden wedding with their children, grandchildren and friends who all joined in making the occasion one of particular pleasure to the worthy couple. One hundred persons were present from Michigan, Houlton and various other

Among the invited guests were: L. A. and G. N. White, A. C. Gibson and wife, Dr. Peppers, J. A. Humble and wife, Misses May and Minnie White, Mrs. H. T. Parlee, Arthur Hatfield and wife, E. A. Hoyt and wife, Hon. R. W. Shaw and wife, S. W. Burtt and wife, W. W. White M. D., Mrs. Paysou, W. Burtt and wife, Mrs. Henry Bradley, Frank and Fred Gibson, Clinton, Helen and Mollie

Cody, Gwendolyn White and seventy-five others. Many congratulations in letters were received by the bride and groom from those who were unable to attend together with many valuable gold presents, including a gold-head cane, and a valuable brooch to the bride, presented by their eight children, upon which were inscribed recipients name and the initials of the children's names as tokens expressing their best wishes for an extension of the many years of happiness that Mr. and Mrs. White have enjoyed. Both the interested parties were born in Queens county and removed to Carleton 38 years ago where many important incidents of their life have transpired but yet their capacity for enjoyment judged by the evening's entertainments have increased as the years have

Mr. and Mrs. White are descendants of Loyalists who came to this country after the American revolution, the former being the grandson of the late William White who first settled in St. John afterwards removing to Queen Co., where he became a prosperous farmer, he and his wife attaining the age of 97 years at the time of their death. The husband and wife of fifty years were kept larfiely in ignorance of the evening's arrangements and were therefore surprised as well as delighted at the honor done them. After the invited company had done ample justice to the bountiful repast provided, the house was taken possession of by a surprise party composed of their friends and neighbors who entered and took part in the even ings entertainment and who in view of the large number present by special invitation in picnic style came supplied with an abundance of refreshments which at the close was partaken of by all present.

At 9 o'clock the company were called to order by their eldest son, L. A. White, who with his brother G. N. White and daughter came from Michigan to attend the golden anniversary of their parents.

In the name and on behalf of the surprise party Mrs. R. W. Balloch in a graceful and neatly worded speech, presented the bride with a candelabrum, as a token of good feeling which exists toward the family. At the conclusion of the speeches an addresa was presented:

This was replied to by the groom, who reviewed the passing events of fifty years, noting the many changes and advancement made, not only for the comfort and benefit of the people, financially, morally and spiritually, but as well the changes and inroads made by death, which are calculated to impress upon our minds the necessity of preparing for a better life beyond the river. Refreshments were then handed round' of which all were partakers At midnight, seperation followed, with best wishes for the bride and groom of fifty years.
