Nervous Women

Who are Pale, Weak and Run Down Should Follow the Advice of Mrs. Bradley, Who Was Made
Strong and Well by Using

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

When women become pale, weak, nervous and run down, there is backache, headache, irritability, sleeplessness, dizzy spells and despondency. The delicate feminine organs become irregular, and there is suffering without end.

In vain women drag themselves to kill pain and produce sleep. Permanent cure can only be effected by building up the system with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food the great nerve restorative.

No remedy ever proved itself so efficacious for exhausted nerves and an emaciated condition of the body. No remedy was ever so successful in restoring regularity and in giving new life and vitality to the whole body.

Mrs. Margaret Iron, Tower Hill, N. B. writes:—"My nerves were so weak I couldn't walk twice the length of the house. I couldn't work or sleep, and my hands trembled so I couldn't carry a pint of water. I thought there was no help for me, but after using five boxes of Dr. Chase's NERVE FOOD my nerves are fully restored. I can walk a mile without inconvenience, and though 76 years old and quite fleshy I do my own work and considerable sewing, knitting and reading. Dr. Chase's NERVE FOOD did me a world of good."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co. Toronto.

For cold in the head and catarrh, use Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure, for croup, bronchitis, coughs and colds, use Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, each 25 cents, at all dealers.

THINGS OF VALUE.

"Out our way the heat has baked the apples on the trees"

"Well, our cow has been giving boiled custard right along."

There never was, and never will be, a universal panacea, in one remedy, for the ills to which flesh is heir—the very nature of man's curatives being such that were the germs of other and differently seated diseases rooted in the system of the patient what would relieve one ill in turn would aggravate the other. We have, however, in Quinine Wine, when obtainable in a sound undiluted state, a remedy for many and grievous ills. By its gradual and judicious use, the frailest systems are led into convalescence and strength, by the influence which Quinine exerts on Nature's own restorative. It relieves the drooping spirits of those with whom a chronic state of morbid despondency and lack of interest in life is a disease, and, by tranquillizing the nerves, disposes to sound and refreshing sleep—imparts vigor to the action of the blood, while, being stimulant, courses throughout the veins, strengthening the animal function of the system, thereby making activity a necessary result strengthening the frame, and giving life to the digestive organs, which naturally demand increased substance—result improved appetite. Northrop & Lyman of Toronto, have given to the public their superior Quinine Wine at the usual rate, and, gauged by the opinion of scientists, this wine approaches a rare perfection of any in the market. All druggists sell it.

Binks—Le Gabber is always discussing the merits of the noble red man.

Jinks—Yes, he thinks he knows a lot about them just because he swings the Indian club.

Some persons have perverted attacks of Canadian cholera, dysentery or Diarrhea, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Change of water, cooking and green fruit is sure to bring on the attack. To such persons we would recommend Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial as being the best medicine in the market for all summer complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed no further trouble will be experienced.

"I should think after that widow had been married twice she would want to be a rest."

"But when she is married is the only time she has for a rest."

Street Car Accident.—Mr. Thomas Sablin, says: "My eleven year old boy had his foot badly injured by being run over by a car on the Street Railway. We at once commenced bathing the foot with Dr. Thomas' Eucalypta Oil, when the discoloration and swelling was removed, and in nine days he could use his foot."

Bambie—Do you remember Jim Blivins?

Thorne—Do I? Why, I was my best friend at college. I almost bit his ear off once in a football game.

Mild in Their Action.—Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are very mild in their action. They do not cause griping in the stomach, or cause disturbances there as so many pills do. Therefore the most delicate can take them without fear of unpleasant results.

Thorne can, too, be administered to children without imposing the penalties which follow the use of pills not so carefully prepared.

"Wherein does man differ from the lower animals?" asked the professor. And the youth answered without hesitation:

"He can ride a bicycle."

They are a Powerful Nerveine.—Dyspepsia causes derangement of the nervous system, and nervous debility once engendered is difficult to deal with. There are many testimonials as to the efficacy of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills in treating this disorder, showing that they never fail to produce good results. By giving proper tone to the digestive organs, they restore equilibrium to the nerve centres.

"Hist!" whispered the villain, creeping stealthily across the stage.

"Yes; I expected you would be," rejoined the heroine.

And a murmur of applause trickled down from the gallery.

The Recent Development of Football.

Interference is now universally used; every team at least attempts it, and the only criterion of its success is the mode of using it. The present methods of breaking up interference have banished most of the original ideas on the subject. The same is true of mass plays and other milestones which show the progress which has been made in the methods of advancing the ball.

The kicking game has shown much improvement, but there is still something to be done to perfect this skillful and ideal mode of play. To attempt it and do it badly is most disastrous, and very few teams have thoroughly mastered it. It is on this point more than any other that the present season will show development, and the mastering of this style of game will make a team most formidable.

The tendency of the football rules is to encourage the kicking game. An open-running game, close formation and mass plays, though scientific, have not the elements of interest which characterize the open game, and the rules now allow them in a modified way which prevents their constant use. The teams are beginning to realize that accuracy is a most important element in making a play gain ground, and the perfecting of the old simple plays has come to be the starting point for the best teams. Many a championship game has been won by the use of these plays accurately made and with strength behind them, when more modern formations have been discarded as unavailing early in the game.

In the matter of defense the progress has been nearly up to the improvement in offense. End runs, which were formerly very common, are now seldom seen in companionship games, and long games except by kicking are rare, and that is at the price of giving up the ball. The idea of the present system of offense is to make some gain sure, and each yard gained when the teams are evenly matched is in itself a feat worthy of commendation.

Chicagoan—On, no; they're building a very old one!

New York Millionaires.

Only a few people reading advertisements of bankers and brokers, saying that money could be made through speculation, realize that the richest men in America have commenced life in a humble way and have made their fortune through stock exchange speculations.

Men like Jay Gould who worked as a dry goods clerk in a small town at $10.00 a week up to his twentieth year, and commenced to operate with his small savings of $200.00 in Wall Street at his death 70 millions of dollars; Russell Sage who worked as a grocery boy at $4.00 per week and whose present wealth is estimated at 100 millions of dollars is still operating the market, although 80 years of age, and so are thousands of others who are enjoying all the luxuries life can offer, which is due to their success in speculations.

To the successful speculator the same opportunities are open to-day as to others in the past. The smallest lot which can be bought and sold is 10 shares on 5% margin, making 50 dollars.

Anybody interested as to how speculations are conducted can get information and market letter free of charge upon application by letter to,
