This is the valuable little hint about dinner parties, which a popular hostess sent this week to her guests and which will be of value to all who entertain in this way:

"It may be impossible to please all one's guests, but it will be well to have those things on the menu that will appeal to the greatest number. A hostess who has divined the idiosyncrasies of her guests and is able to humor them is sure of a success. One of the chief attributes of success is the ability to give a personal or distinctive note to one's dinner, something by which your dinner may be differentiated from every one else and remembered with especial pleasure. The method of serving, the character of some special dish, the decorations, any one of a dozen things may bring this about under the management of a clever and ingenious woman."

(Registered Brand) of Pelee Wine.

THE FOLLOWING TESTIMONIALS. Gagetown, July 28th, 1897.

E. G. SCOVIL, Agent Pelee Wine Co.,
Dear Sir:—My wife had been afflicted with nervous prostration for several years, using every kind of medicine recommended, but obtaining no relief until I procured some of your Pelee Wine, which I am delighted to say, has had the desired effect. It is the greatest tonic of the age, I think too much cannot be said in its praise and no house should be without it. We have recommended it to several suffering from la grippe debility, with like good results.

I am, yours gratefully,
JOHN C. CLOWES.
